Viet Boss Urges Attack On North As Students Riot

Four More Americans Killed; U.S. To Expand Advisor Force

SAIGON (UPI)—Premier Nguyen Khanh of South Vietnam said today his government feels free to attack communist North Vietnam whether the United States approves or not.

The premier's statement was made in the face of continued United States opposition to extension of the war against the Viet Cong across the border into North Vietnam. It also coincided with the disclosure of American plans to build up its forces in Vietnam by about one third with the dispatch of an additional 5,000 troops to the area.

Shortly after Khanh made it clear to newsmen that he felt free to act against North Vietnam without U.S. consent, it was disclosed that four American officers were killed today by communist mines and bullets in two separate incidents within 20 miles of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman said three Americans were killed when their jeep hit a land mine. Another U.S. officer was killed in a Viet Cong ambush 15 miles northwest of Saigon, an unofficial source said.

The fatalities raised to 173 the number of Americans killed in combat in South Vietnam since the beginning of 1961.

In another turbulent development, jeering Vietnamese students today tore down statues of France's war dead while unarmed police stood by. The students were protesting against France's call for neutralization of Southeast Asia. It was the second anti-French demonstration this month. Earlier, rioting students sacked the French embassy.

"The (South) Vietnamese government is free in its actions," Khanh said when he was asked about the possibility of striking to the north without U.S. consent.

"We are an independent government," he said.

Khanh said that a northward strike by his forces should be called "defense, a counter-attack."

"When one uses the word attack, one implies that one is an aggressor," he explained, adding that the Communists are the only aggressors in Vietnam.

Khanh has been pushing a "march north" campaign for the last 10 days, although reliable Saigon sources say Taylor has asked him to soft-pedal the idea. Khanh denied today that he has differences with the United States on this or any other subject.

BATTLING BOAT FIRE

Coast Guard firefighters in cutter at right battle blaze which engulfs nameless 50-foot cruiser of unknown ownership in Richardson Bay. The cruiser exploded and caught fire at Kappas Yacht Harbor and was cut loose and towed into Richardson Bay by neighboring boat owners last evening. Three Coast Guard vessels battled the fire which burned the vessel to the water line. Ownership of the burned boat remained a mystery today. (Independent-Journal photo by Phil Fradkin)

Marin Bank Disavows Link To Bobby Baker

Says $5,000 Check Sent To Attorney

Bobby Baker endorsed a check which the Redwood National Bank paid a Washington, D.C., attorney for helping get its charter, but bank officials today declared they had nothing to do with Baker and the check was for legal services.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.), declared on the U.S. Senate floor yesterday that the San Rafael bank paid a lobbyist $5,000 to get its charter, and the check was cashed by Baker, former Senate aide who resigned under fire.

SENATOR'S VERSION

Senator Williams declared the check "was delivered to Bobby Baker's office. It was endorsed by the lobbyist there. Bobby Baker cashed it and picked up 50 $100 bills in the Senate disbursing office."

Byron W. Leydecker, president of Redwood National Bank, declared today:

"These remarks by Senator Williams are untrue. His misstatements have come as a surprise to me since he has been familiar with he true facts for two or three months."

LAWYER'S FEE

Roderick P. Martinelli, San Rafael attorney representing the bank's organizers, said the $5,000 was paid to Wayne L. Bromley, a Washington, D.C. attorney who was engaged to assist in arranging for federal charter of the bank. Both he and Leydecker pointed out that engaging an attorney in Washington in such a matter is customary.

Martinelli said that when the cancelled check came back, it bore the endorsement "Robert G. Baker" in addition to Bromley's signature. He said he paid no attention to the endorsement because the name meant nothing to him at the time.

Martinelli said Bromley had been suggested as Washington counsel by a relative of one of the bank's organizers.

"We sent him (Bromley) the papers and asked him to process the application, which he did," said Martinelli. "He didn' send the bill until about February last year, after the bank had opened operations. Bromley's bill came to $5,000."

Martinelli said he wrote a check for $5,000 and mailed it to Bromley's office in Washington. When the cancelled check came back, it was endorse "Robert G. Baker."

It was only after a Federal

Senators Vote Down Plan On Disclosure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All that remained today of a Senate wrangle over ethics was a vote on a mild resolution to shunt financial disclosure proposals to a special commission for further study.

SUBSTITUTE PLAN

After almost 10 hours of debate, the Senate last night junked its Rules Committee's disclosure recommendation and substituted a modest study plan offered by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill.

It was the second time the Senate group, which conducted a seven-month investigation into the financial affairs of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats.

DIRKSEN PLAN

By a 48-39 vote, the Senate substituted the Dirksen plan calling for creation of a 17-member commission to determine whether members of Congress, judges and government officials should be required to make public their sources of outside income.

The action followed Senate rejection of two broad, liberal-backed plans to require public disclosure by Senators and Senate employees of outside investments and income.

The Senate first crushed, 62 to 25, a plan offered by Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), and Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.). It then turned down, 59 to 27, a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.).

Williams' plan would have required members and certain employees to make a detailed list of their holdings, including copies of their income tax forms, but these would be made available to a special watchdog Senate committee, not publicly.

Boy Admits Arson In Mill Valley

A 10-year-old Mill Valley boy skipped school yesterday and set a fire in a neighbor's garage, the second deliberate house fire he has started in less than a month.

Admitting the fire, which caused about $500 damage to a wall and contents of the garage of Mrs. Lucille De Fremery of 164 Locust Avenue, the boy was taken by police to Juvenile Hall on a charge of arson.

The boy told officers he left home to catch a bus to attend the Three-R School in San Rafael but decided he was "too tired" and went instead to the Park School playground.

He entered the De Fremery garage at about 10:15 a.m., he said, and spotted a can of charcoal lighter fluid. He sprinkled fluid on newspapers, lighted them and walked out, shutting the door behind him. There was no one at home at the De Fremery residence.

The boy was eating lunch when he heard the fire trucks going to the fire.

On July 2 the same boy admitted to police dropping matches to start three fires in the home of Wilbur T. Bolstad at 198 Locust Avenue while the Bolstads were camping on Russian River. Damage to the Bolstad residence was estimated at $5,000.

The boy also admitted starting two grass fires during the last six months, one at 185 Locust Avenue. He was taken to Juvenile Hall after the Bolstad

Paris Jewel Bandits Shoot Up Hotel Lobby

PARIS (UPI) — Three masked gunmen shot open and rifled jewelry showcases in the lobby of the fashionable Plaza-Athenee hotel early today and then killed a cab driver with a stray shot while escaping from pursuing police.

Police Commissioner Jean Morin said the stolen jewels, most of them from the showcase of New York jeweler Harry Winston, were worth about a half million dollars.

Russ Escapes Injury

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Alexei Adzhubei, Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, escaped injury today when a car in which he was riding was involved in an accident. A private automobile carrying Adzhubei and an interpreter out of the chancellery grounds ran into a barrier across the exit gate.

Death Threat Is Told Jury

By ROSS DAVIS

An invitation to cocktails and dinner was a bid to robbery and threat of death, another witness in the penalty phase of the first degree murder conviction of Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King testified today in Marin Superior Court. (The trial is to fix the penalty for the icepick murder of Donald G. Corbett Jr. of Sausalito.)

A. R. Adams, desk clerk of a Sacramento hotel, testified that King, 28, a resident of the hotel for about four months, telephoned him last March 10 after having been away from the inn for several weeks and suggested Adams meet him and a friend for a social evening.

Adams said he declined, but

Blast, Blaze Ruin Cruiser Near Waldo

A thunderous explosion gutted a 40-foot cabin cruiser berthed off Waldo Point yesterday and leveled the hulk to the waterline after neighbors hauled the burning wreck into Richardson Bay.

Who owns the craft, or its worth, remained a mystery today to Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom, because the boat was berthed illegally.

The explosion shattered windows in houseboats on both sides of the cruiser at Kappas Yacht Harbor. Witnesses said they thought the explosion, reported at 7:07 p.m., originated in the engine room.

The pleasure yacht had been berthed at No. 17 at the Kappas harbor. Owner George Kappas told firemen its only identification was the word "Cruiser."

Houseboat neighbors Frank and Nancy Bugaj cut the boat adrift to keep the flames from engulfing neighboring craft. An unidentified yachtsman used a skiff to tow the flaming hulk about 200 feet into Richardson Bay.

Three Coast Guard Patrol boats extinguished the flames after the boat drifted near Strawberry Point.

Witnesses said the first Coast Guard boat arriving, a 30-foot patrol craft equipped only with portable pumps, was unable to raise water pressure to fight the fire.

The second and third boats from Fort Point Coast Guard Station began fighting the fire at about 7:45 a.m., Coast Guard spokesmen said. They had the blaze under control within 10 minutes.

Fire fighters anchored the craft's remnants at Strawberry Point.

Bloom immediately called the Coast Guard when his firemen were unable to reach the blaze. Alto Fire Department responded with two trucks also, waiting at Strawberry Point in case the flames ignited anything on shore.

Race Tension Eases

SINGAPORE (AP) — Riot-torn Singapore took another big step toward normal today with the lifting of all daylight curfew restrictions on the racially troubled island. There were no racial clashes during the night between Chinese and Malays.

Tiburon Hires Former Carmel City Manager

Lawrence D. Rose, 44, former city manager of Carmel-by-the-Sea, last night was appointed the first city manager for newly incorporated Tiburon.

The appointment took effect immediately after a half-hour council executive session, and within minutes Rose began advising the council on procedure and taking over detail work which has bogged down councilmen since incorporation last month.

Rose (with a tiny rose stuck in his buttonhole) was loaded down with council directives by the end of the session at midnight and indicated his working day might run to 20 hours.

Rose will be paid $950 a month, councilmen decided. In addition he will receive a travel expense allowance.

Councilmen last night terminated the services of Warren Schmid, interim city administrator, who had been paid $12.50 an hour to aid the city on a part-time basis.

Rose was elected city clerk of Carmel and also acted as city manager until March 7, 1963, when he resigned and confirmed reports of a Mexican divorce from his former wife the previous November and subsequent marriage there in December to his secretary, Mrs. Billie L. Postel.

Rose had purchased the Carmel Pine Cone weekly newspaper, which he later relinquished.

Rose was the first candidate to be interviewed by the Tiburon council, driving to Tiburon from Samuel P. Taylor State Park where he was camping with his family. There were more than 20 applicants for the post; the council interviewed four persons following screening by Schmid.

Rose became tax and license collector of Carmel in 1955 and in 1956 was elected, unopposed, as city clerk. He was appointed city secretary and controller in 1959 and re-elected city clerk, unopposed, in 1960.

He established and administered the accounting, budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures for the city of 4,580

West Marin Citizens Vote

Eleven per cent of the voters in the West Marin School district had already gone to the polls by 11 a.m. today, joining voters in six other districts to decide on a unionization plan.

If approved by a majority in each district, the seven districts would become one unionized district, which would in turn become a unified district with the Tomales High School on July 1, 1965.

The other districts are Watson, American Valley, Bloomfield and Bodega Bay school districts in Sonoma County and Tomales Bay and Point Reyes school districts in Marin County.

Polls will be open until 7 p.m.

Moon Shot Seems To Be Successful

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Ranger 7 spacecraft rocketed toward the moon on a photographic mission today and successfully cleared early hurdles on the planned quarter-million-mile journey.

Ranger 7's assignment is to travel 228,522 miles to the moon in 69 hours and take more than 4,000 close-up pictures of areas where American astronauts may land in 1969.

Success would end six years of frustration during which the United States has launched 12 moon shots, all failures.

After transmitting the pictures to earth, the spacecraft is to crash-land on the lunar surface. The planned impact time if there are no hitches is 8:45 a.m. (EST) Friday.

Official reported an hour after launching that Ranger 7 appeared to be functioning normally.

Raindrops Visit Thirsty Marin

An unseasonal rain storm splattered across Marin County early today, but summer returned moments afterwards.

The storm, from clouds that had been building up since yesterday, left no more than a trace in Woodacre, San Anselmo, San Rafael, Mill Valley and Belvedere.

The Weather Bureau said high clouds will continue tomorrow with some morning fog along the coast. Temperatures will remain about the same.

Knowland Gets State GOP Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — William F. Knowland, Sen. Barry Goldwater's man in California, was appointed today to the State Republican Central Committee.

The former U.S. senator, who headed the Republican Presidential candidate's successful primary campaign in the state and was chairman of California's pro-Goldwater delegation to the Republican National Convention, was named to the committee by Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Oakland).

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Johnson Fetes Malagasy Head

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson has a fan in the Malagasy republic—the island nation's chief executive, Philibert Tsiranana.

Johnson

President and Mrs. Johnson entertained President and Mrs. Tsiranana last night at an outdoor state dinner held in the White House rose garden.

In the traditional toast to the host, Tsiranana wished Johnson success "in the forthcoming election," and praised him for his support of civil rights legislation.

Tsiranana

He said his people had followed Johnson's efforts closely and were grateful for passage of the rights bill even though they are not Americans.

Johnson, in turn, noted that he and Tsiranana had much in common: "We were both born in cattle country of parents of meager means. In the 1930s we were both teachers. We both entered public service in the legislative branch."

Castro Attacks U.S. Again

(Combined AP & UPI)

SANTIAGO, Cuba—Fidel Castro launched a new attack at the United States last night, declaring that Cuba will "answer shot for shot" if "another man is murdered" by U.S. Marines at the Guantanamo naval base.

Castro

The Cuban prime minister held a three and one-half hour news conference for 33 American newsmen visiting Cuba at his invitation and 40 other foreign newsmen who came to Santiago for the celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement.

Castro again rejected the U.S. denial of his charged that U.S. Marines killed a Cuban sentry at the Guantanamo border two weeks ago.

In Mexico City Castro's sister, Juana, formally requested political asylum in Mexico last night and told newsmen she hopes the government will find no reason to refuse it.

King, Mayor Wagner Confer

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. conferred with Mayor Robert F. Wagner today about New York's racial situation, and Harlem leaders expressed anger that King did not consult them first.

Wagner

King said after the meeting that he would meet with "summit leaders" in the riot-torn sections of New York City.

"Matters of national importance" were discussed by King and Wagner, said one of the mayor's aides.

Before leaving Atlanta last night, King had urged Negroes in New York to halt violence and lawlessness, warning that they could set back the civil rights movement.

King

He also said he might make peace tours in Rochester, N. Y., this weekend.

Rochester had its first quiet night since Friday, when rioting and looting broke out, but a state of emergency and a curfew still were in effect.

A policeman testified yesterday in a State Supreme Court hearing that William Epton, a Negro and self-described Communist, told a secret Harlem meeting last week that "the state must be smashed," and "we're going to have to kill cops and judges."

Indonesia Still Angry

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Any support Malaysia received from Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's trip to the United States will not deter Indonesia's determination to crush the neighboring federation, Indonesia's army commander said today.

Firefighters Gain

WILLITS (AP) — Firefighters managed to work a thin line around a 500-acre fire five miles south of Laytonville during the night and there were prospects the blaze would be contained today.

Big Names Invited

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Democrats have invited Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey to speak in Sacramento when the state central committee meets Aug. 16.

Encyclical Expected

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI is expected to issue his first Encyclical Aug. 6, the Feast Day of the Transfiguration, high Vatican sources said today. Churchmen assigned by the Vatican Secretary of State are currently engaged in translating the Latin document into Italian and other modern languages, the sources said.

Greek Troops Alert

ATHENS (UPI) — The government said today that Greek troops have moved toward the border with Turkey and naval units have been ordered to patrol the Aegean Sea islands. Defense Minister Peter Garofalian said the measures were defensive and should cause no particular anxiety.

Religious War on

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—The death toll from clashes between police and supporters of the fanatical Lumpa religious sect in the remote Chinsali region has risen to 29, the government announced today.

Comedian On Mend

Chinese Planes Crash

Thrill Ride Collapses

GLEN ECHO HEIGHTS, Md. (UPI)—Eight teen-age boys and girls were injured yesterday when an amusement park ride known as "The Paratrooper" collapsed in a tangle of steel tubing. The eight, all from nearby Washington or suburban Maryland or Virginia, were among a dozen riders, including a mother and her two young children, who were trapped in their seats when a five-inch axle snapped on the ride.

Troubles In Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Rebel forces have surrounded the north Katanga town of Kongolo and the Congolese National Army is expected to abandon its position there soon, it was reported here today. Belgian vice consul Robert Guillot took off for Kongolo by plane to rescue two Roman Catholic priests and two nuns reported to be the only Europeans in the town.

Storm Smashes Town

Jackie's Birthday

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy today observed her first birthday since her husband was assassinated in Dallas last Nov. 22. The former first lady is 35. She planned to drive to Newport from Hyannis Port, Mass.

GOLDWATER TOILS FOR PARTY UNITY

Plans Congressional Breakfasts, GOP Governors' Summit Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater made a bid for party harmony today with an offer clearly understandable to his congressional colleagues — help in their own election campaign.

The Arizona Senator's aides were completing plans for two congressional breakfasts here Aug. 6 and 7. All GOP senators and House members will be invited. Rep. William E. Miller (N.Y.), GOP vice presidential nominee, will be co-host.

Referring to the breakfasts and other scheduled sessions, Goldwater said yesterday that the meetings were arranged "in the interest of campaigns of all Republican candidates and in the interest of unity in the party."

Goldwater said the breakfast sessions would include a briefing on plans made for the national GOP campaign as well as a discussion of "anything else" on the minds of Senate and House GOP incumbents.

The unity breakfasts were only one phase in a series of meetings discussed by Goldwater yesterday after a two hour and 20 minute discussion with top Republican campaign aides.

Goldwater said he would meet with Senate and House GOP leaders tomorrow. He said Republican strategists were still planning a "summit" meeting of top party leaders following the congressional breakfasts and he hopes all 16 GOP governors could be present.

The presidential nominee said that he and Miller had been working in the interest of party unity for longer than they cared to contemplate.

As for the "summit" meeting, Goldwater said no time or place had been set.

He said previously he expected invitations to go to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Goldwater also told newsmen that while he had a number of speaking engagements in August, he did not expect to launch his formal campaign for the White House until later — probably about Labor Day.

Aides previously had indicated that he would set the pace with an early campaign start in Prescott, Ariz., during the third week of August.

In addition to previously announced speaking engagements before the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Cleveland on Aug. 25, Goldwater said he had received an American Legion invitation for a Dallas speech in mid-August; plans to speak before the House campaign school next week as scheduled; address an organization of county supervisors here on Aug. 10, and speak before the American Radio Relay League in New York on Aug. 20.

Los Angeles Inferno

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Fire engulfed a half-block lumber yard in the central district early today, destroyed at least one building and threatened several others before being brought to a halt in a spectacular battle by 19 fire companies.

Money For History

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson today signed into law a bill to set up a 5 million dollar program to collect, compile and publish documents of historical importance.

Clausen Tells Why He Voted Against Transit

Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) says he had a "very difficult" decision when he voted against the federal mass transit bill, which passed the House 212 to 189.

Clausen sent letters to the Marin supervisors and State Sen. John F. McCarthy, giving reasons for his vote.

"In view of the fact that I did not follow your request to support this bill, I feel you are entitled to know some of the specific reasons for my casting a negative vote," wrote Clausen.

"One of the most serious—if not the most serious—problems now before the federal government is an unbalanced budget . . . Since we would have to borrow the funds to make grants under this prorgram to local rapid transit districts, it does not seem sensible that we should authorize an expensive new federal aid program of this type. Then, too, it would have been wholly inconsistent if I were to vote for this program when I voted for sound fiscal economy by opposing the recent increase in the federal debt ceiling."

Congressman Clausen also noted that the Bay Area would qualify for only a small percentage of the federal grant.

"To get this federal contribution, we would be obligating ourselves to pay federal taxes to build local rapid transit systems in New York, Chicago and many other parts of the country," he wrote.

Three Marinites Join 'Outstanding Men'

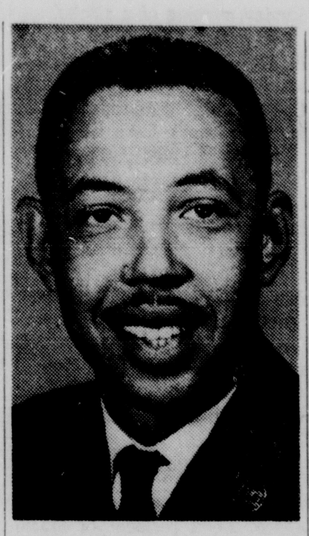
They are: Normand Black, owner of El Marin Florist-Gifts, Mill Valley; Rev. Don Schilling, pastor of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Marin City, and Charles C. Crawford, vice principal, Tamalpais High School, of Mill Valley.



AIRMAN HONORED — A/1c Bruce O. Jackson has been chosen Airman of the Quarter for Headquarters Western Communications Region at Hamilton Air Force Base. He received $25, a three-day pass, and was excused from extra squadron details for one month. This is the second time he has won the award. He lives in San Francisco with his wife, Martha, and three children.

Homestead Valley To Offer Mozart Festival Aug. 16

Homestead Valley Improvement Club's Mozart Festival will be presented Aug. 16, Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt, the club's music chairman, announced today.

The fourth annual event will be held in Stole Grove, starting at 1 p.m. Admission is free, with musicians being paid from musicians' union transcription funds.

Raymond Duste, oboist with the San Francisco Symphony and leader of the Bach to Mozart Chamber Players who present the concerts, has announced that highlight of the program will be Cimarosa's "Il Maestro di Cappella." Baritone Edgar Jones will sing the leading character, and the Bach to Mozart Players, augmented to 20 musicians, will accompany him.

Also to be performed are Haydn's Symphony Concertante in B Flat and Mozart arias sung by soprano Carole Bogard. Conductor will be Verne Sillan of the San Francisco Youth Orchestra.

Park Polls Users On Exile Of Dogs

Samuel P. Taylor and Mount Tamalpais State Parks are polling their visitors this month and next reggarding whether they favor the current ban on taking dogs into parks overnight.

The state legislature in December, 1944, prohibited canine campers for a variety of reasons, but many citizens have protested the ban. The legislature has asked the State Division of Beaches and Parks to take a survey of the campers during the current peak season.

"Many a high-priced, prized dog has learned that he is no match for a disturbed raccoon, skunk, bobcat, bear, deer or other animal that inhabits our parks. Where these animals will leave a human alone, an inquisitive dog is just their dish.

"The danger to children is not small. Last week in Taylor Park, a large dog got loose and bit two small girls before it was caught. Often, the dog may be on leash and some child will merely run by too close and be bit or frightened.

"Visitors to state parks may find that the small animals are frequently tame or relatively so. One may lure a small bird or chipmunk close enough to toss it a few scraps of break or even feed it by hand. The presence of many dogs with their natural instinct to hunt would soon frighten these smaller animals away."

Leaders Plan Review Of Marin Study

Marin civic leaders and businessmen will review the first phase of the Stanford Research Institute's economic survey of Marin County at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The first phase of the study lists the business and industrial activity that would be suitable for Marin, but does not recommend steps that could be taken to attarct it.

The meeting, called by county supervisors, will be attended by representatives of firms that have contributed to the $30,000 cost of the study.

Kentfield Firemen To Get More Land

The Kentfield Fire District board Sunday approved purchase of a 50-by-150-foot lot adjacent to the fire station on the east side for future expansion.

The lot, bought from Marin Development Co., is now used as a parking lot. The board agreed to pay $24,375 for it.

Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the property would be used for expansion of the fire station or for training facilities, depending on plans to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

FINALE FOR HISTORIC HOME

A wrecker's bulldozer bites into the historic "Pines" at 1404 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, as work begins today to clear a two-block area just east of the city library for the new San Rafael City Hall. This property was purchased from Mrs. Marie S. Robinson by the city. Until recently, it served as an apartment building. Two weeks ago, fire gutted the vacant home. In early days, the building served as home for Katharine Branson School, now located in Ross.

He was named to the state controller's committee on annual financial reports, has published articles on planning in publications dealing with local government, and established a "Youth in Government" program in Carmel.

Rose was born in San Francisco. He was graduated from Beverly Hills High School and from the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y., where he was second in his class.

He served on the academy staff and on tankers and cargo ships in the Atlantic and Pacific in World War II.

Rose, his wife and three children moved into a rented, furnished home in Belvedere Saturday, following a council executive session Friday night at which his appointment was approved except for further salary discussions last night. Rose said he is looking for a home in Tiburon.

Hub Man Found Dead With Hose Tied To Exhaust

Kenneth Moorhouse, 27, of 4 Sacramento Avenue, San Anselmo, was found dead shortly before noon today, apparently a suicide.

An ambulance rushed him to San Rafael General Hospital about 11:30 a.m., but he was dead on arrival.

Besides his wife, Moorhouse leaves three children, aged 3 to 7.

He had been released from the county jail last week after serving a term for burglary.

Hospital Board Meet

The Marin Hospital District board will hear a report on progress being made by a management consultant firm to study the makeup of the medical staff at its meeting today at 8 p.m. in the hospital's conference room.

Recipient Of Check Not Listed As Lawyer

Wayne L. Bromley, to whom organizers of the Redwood National Bank sent a $5,000 check which was later endorsed by Bobby Baker, was registered as a lobbyist in 1961, '62, and '63 but is not listed in the Washington telephone director as an attorney, the Associated Press reported today.

Bromley was registered in the three years with the secretary of the Senate as a lobbyist for the National Coal Policy Conference, Inc. He has not registered so far this year.

He previously was employed in the Senate Law Library, and friends at the Senate said they understood he had passed his bar examination but has not practiced, the Associated Press reported.

BANK

Bureau of Investigation agent called on him about last September to ask questions that he became aware that the "Baker" on the check was former Senate aide Bobby Baker, Martinelli said.

"There is no question that the name Robert G. Baker is on the cancelled check," said Martinelli. "But how Baker got into the picture, we don't know. All we know is that we paid Mr. Bromley his legal fees for processing the application."

Said Leydecker: "The check was not issued until two months after the bank had commenced operations, and it was issued and mailed to Wayne Bromley, not delivered to Baker's office. Certainly, no one associated with the bank can answer the question as to the reason for Baker's endorsement upon the check made payable to the Washington attorney. Mr. Bromley himself would have to speak to that particular point.

"About three months ago, Senator Williams telephoned me and telephoned our attorney and inquired about the nature of any relationship which either of us had had with Baker. Apparently, Senator Williams at that time had possession of the FBI file. I explained the situation; that is, that we had no relationship with Baker, to Senator Williams, as did our attorney, and that is the last that we had heard from him until today. Obviously, both the FBI and Senator Williams have been completely satisfied that the transaction with Mr. Bromley did indeed represent a normal and customary business tranaction . . .

"Surely, Senator Williams, had he believed that this transaction represented anything but a normal business procedure would have made known the facts which were available to him to the Senate subcommittee which, for some months, has been investigating relationships between senators, senate employees and private business interests—all as an outgrowth of Baker's outside-the-Senate activities."

After the bank applied to the comptroller of the currency for a charter in June, 1962 an attorney told an incorporator a lobbyist would have to be paid $5,000 to get it approved.

"The check was made out to a Washington lobbyist who, the comptroller of the currency said, did nothing whatever to earn the money, as far as he was concerned," Senator Williams declared.

"They—the bank incoporators—were told they would have to pay the lobbyist. The check was delivered to Bobby Baker's office. It was endorsed by the lobbyist there. Bobby Baker cahed it and picked up 50 $100 bills in the Senate disbursing office."

Bromley was referred to him as an attorney, never as a "lobbyist," until Senator Williams called him about two or three months ago. "That's the first time I heard he was a lobbyist," said Martinelli.

Physician's Support Pay Is Ordered

Dr. William M. Edwards Jr., San Rafael physician, must pay $845 per month for the support of his wife and three children, under a divorce decision in Marin Superior Court.

A formal order is still to come, but Judge Thomas Kongsgaard of Napa, sitting in Marin Superior Court, today handed down a "memo decision," ruling that Myrtle L. Edwards, 43, is entitled to a divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty.

She gets the household furniture at their home at 36 Loma Linda, San Rafael, the car in her possession, and $8,831 cash. Dr. Edwards retains his medical practice, accounts receivable and insurance policies. The judge decided he should provide medical and dental services for the children.

The rest of the property will be held in joint tenancy.

They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., on Nov. 14, 1947, and separated in May, 1963. Mrs. Edwards sued for divorce June 6, 1963.

fire and charged with arson, but was released.

The fire was reported by W. S. Widmeyer of 170 Locust Avenue who saw smoke coming from the garage.

Meanwhile, investigation of another possible case of arson near Mill Valley today awaited finding the missing tenant of a 50-year-old summer cottage on Washington Park Avenue.

The cottage was destroyed by fire Sunday. Witnesses said a young man was seen throwing something into a pile of rubbish under the house.

The cottage had been rented last December to Patrick Fitzsimon, an artist. He has not been located since the fire.

Death Threat Is Told King, Jones Jury

King called again the following day and Adams joined the two men—the second identified as Jones—for drinks and dinner.

He said after a social evening, they all returned to the room shared by King and Jones. The two, he said, began behaving in strange manner, whispering to each other and frequently leaving the room. King then emerged from the bathroom with a pistol, he declared, and told Adams he was being robbed.

He said Jones had a roll of wide tape with him.

Adams said he was ordered to remove all his clothes and was taped about the mouth and wrists. He said he learned the men planned to return to his own hotel and loot his room, but by indicating he wanted to talk, he persuaded them to remove his mouth tape.

They let him accompany them to his room, and King asked if Adams' roommate might give them trouble during burglary of the room.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales then asked if King had informed Adams that if the roommate resisted, he (King) would "splatter his brains out." After objections to the question by Peter Allen Smith, representing King, and Thomas P. Boyd for Jones, the witness said King threatened he would "splatter him all over the lobby" if Adams resisted during their walk through the Sacramento Inn lobby.

Adams said King followed him, with gun hidden, and they all reached Adams' room. Much of his clothes and jewelry were taken. His roommate was not present, he testified.

Other prosecution witnesses were Charles Riggan, cab driver from West Sacramento, and Virgil Stevens, owner of the cab company. They testified they drove Jones from Sacramento to Stockton Feb. 21, and that he robbed them both of billfolds, money and jewelry on a levee bank before taking their shoes, socks, and jackets and making them lie on the ground.

Stevens, whose name Jones allegedly often used during a later crime spree, said Jones violently ripped off his pockets in searching for money. Riggan said Jones bragged of having $150,000 worth of heroin, and you guys made me miss my contact."

Ralph Peterson of Oakdale testified he encountered Jones on the levee shortly after the robbery, when Jones claimed he had been robbed and persuaded Peterson to drive him to Modesto. Jones declined to be taken to the police department to report the robbery, however, Peterson added.

Witness Says Deputy Sheriff Is Robert Jones

And the identification was made only after the victim, Virgil Stevens of West Sacramento, had carefully studied each of the 12 jurors to determine if one of them, instead, might be the alleged robber, co-defendant Robert Lee Jones.

An embarrassed but laughing prosecutor, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, waited until after Stevens pointed out Marin County Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich, then stood behind Jones to help Stevens with his identification.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, however, ruled that Stevens had made his choice, and it must stand. The witness was dismissed.

H. HAGEDORN

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Poet and biographer Hermann Hagedorn, recognized as an authority on President Theodore Roosevelt and his era, is dead at 82.

Hagedorn was stricken Monday by an apparent heart attack as he sat in his car.

Born in New York in 1882, Hagedorn studied at Harvard and Columbia universities and at the University of Berlin. He was a Harvard English instructor from 1909 to 1911.

He chronicled the life and times of Teddy Roosevelt in the popular "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill" in 1954. He also wrote a biography of Albert Schweitzer.

He leaves his widow, Dorothy, and two daughters, Mrs. Eric Parfit and Mary Hagedorn, both of Santa Barbara.

Romanian In Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer conferred with President Charles de Gaulle today and hinted afterward the French leader may be invited to visit his independent-minded communist nation. Maurer and de Gaulle met for an hour in talks French officials said may mark a new breach in Moscow's satellite system.

HEROINE BRINGS PRICES DOWN

Falling with grace and gallantry into the life net, Leslie Davis of San Rafael demonstrates how prices during San Rafael Dollar Days will drop so that all may catch live bargain. With the San Rafael Fire Department doing the honors under the eye of Batallion Chief Robert H. Rogers (right), Leslie even managed to hold up a copy of the forthcoming I-J Dollar Days Special Edition, which will appear tomorrow. The three-day event which runs Thursday, Friday and Saturday, under sponsorship of the Retail Merchants' Committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Soviets May Aid In Canal Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee says that when a new sea-level canal is built across Central America a group of canal-using nations, possibly including Russia, might join with the United States in the project.

In a new book, being published today, the Arkansas Democrate says he is not advocating Soviet participation in a new canal project, but "neither do I think it must be ruled out as unthinkable," he says.

Fulbright says a new sea-level canal, larger than the Panama Canal, must eventually be built.

Budget Meet Set By School Board

Mill Valley School District trustees will meet next Monday at 8 p.m. in the district office to hold a public hearing on adoption of the 1964-65 budget.

The change in regular meeting date is necessary, according to Leo B. Edson, assistant superintendent, because by law the public hearing must be held between Aug. 1 and 7. The following meeting of the board will be Aug. 31.

There was no board meeting last night.

Council Blocks New Buildings On Waterfront

The San Rafael City Council last night ordered a crackdown on issuance of permits to build in an East San Rafael area which has inadequate sewer, water and drainage facilities.

Asked for guidance by the city planning commission, councilmen voted to order all city aides that no permit, either for temporary or permanent building, will be issued until these problems are solved.

Involved is a quarter-mile of tideland near the Marin Rod and Gun Club, east of the road to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Councilmen agreed that they needed no new ordinance to crack down, but merely had to resume enforcement of existing ordinances.

With a trace of bitterness, Mayor John F. McInnis recalled, "We said five years ago there would be no building out there until we got these things cleared up. Now there must be a dozen buildings."

City Engineer Dominic Selmi was told to relay the ruling to the planning commission when it meets tonight. Asked for his opinion as to how permits had been issued in spite of the council's previous intentions, Selmi replied that planning commissioners "felt sorry" for various applicants who sought to build in the area.

Low Bidder Loses Out On Parking Bonds Sale

San Rafael city councilmen had to throw out the lower of two bids last night for sale of $250,000 parking district bonds to finance double-decking two downtown parking lots, but they agreed to award the contract to the other firm rather than call for bids again.

Afterwards, they signed a contract for the actual construction, and agreed to modify one phase of the job in hope of cutting some $24,000 from the total cost.

Contract for the bonds went to Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith of San Francisco, whose bid included a net interest rate of 1.46 per cent.

The council waited more than 30 minutes after the bids were opened so bond consultants could check the figures. But councilmen were warned by a representative of Stone and Youngberg, parking district financial consultants, before the computations began that the low bidder, Dean Witter and Co. of San Francisco, appeared to have made a fatal mistake.

Through a clerical error, Witter's schedule of interest rates through a period of years failed to conform to the city's technical specifications. Councilmen were warned this was something that could not be waived.

Since a new call for bids would slow the project's timetable, and would also give bidders advance knowledge of the figures submitted the first time, council men quickly agreed to award the contract to the other firm.

Contract for the project itself, tentatively approved June 16, was awarded to William J. Nicholson Co. of Santa Clara. Included in the vote was an agreement to take a "calculated gamble" on a new waterproofing technique which, if all goes well, will reduce the total cost by $23,800.

The technique will involve use of a product called "expansive concrete," which the contractor has agreed to substitute, at a cost of $3,000, in place of a "membrane" which would have cost $26,800.

The council also voted to modify its recently adopted salary increases by adding $50 monthly to the pay of City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles and Fire Chief Vance Trivett, retroactive to July 1.

Sausalito C Of C Names Members To Its Committees

Committee appointments for 1964-65 fiscal year were announced today by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, Jerry Eastman being appointed chairman and Halsey Lyon and Mrs. Marsha Owen members of the ways and means committee.

Appointed to the finance committee, announced Victor E. Hecht, executive secretary, were Clifford C. Christison, chairman, William McDonnel, and Gerry Eastman. Membership committee members are Russell H. Papenhausen, chairman, Luther W. Conover, and Traf Duro. Lyon was appointed as liaison director with the city council, planning commission and other governmental bodies of the city.

Car Looted Of $51 In Shoes And Linen

George C. Splane of 496 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, told San Rafael police someone stole items valued at $51 from his locked 1964 Thunderbird at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club Friday.

Items taken were a $35 pair of shoes, shoetrees, and a bedspread and pillow.

VANDALS' WORK REPAIRED

San Pedro Road Fund Proposed

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr today proposed that the county borrow from its capital improvements fund to speed up work on widening San Pedro Road to next spring.

Action on Behr's suggestion was put off to next week.

The proposal came as San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis appeared to reply to comments two weeks ago by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Chairman William A. Gnoss.

McInnis denied the city was trying to embarrass the county, one of several statements he described as "unfortunate, ill-advised, and not based on fact."

He took particular issue with a charge by Leydecker, who was not at today's session, that the city "sat on its hands for years" in regard to the road.

"The city, if anything, has led this cause because of its own vital interest in it," McInnis declared.

McInnis showed supervisors a map of the road, pointing out that, with one exception, the city has acquired all portions of right of way for widening the portions within the city limits.

He said it was the hope of the city to work with the county for the best solutions to mutual problems. City councilmen, he said, were "frightfully upset" upon learning of supervisors' comments.

Those comments came as Leydecker suggested a joint powers agreement to carry out a five-year program for widening all portions of the road. McInnis said he could se "no advantage" to such an agreement.

Stating he felt "more heat than light" had previously been shed on the problem, Behr said supervisors had become "upset to a degree" after learning the city might go ahead on its own if the county could not match the $250,000 which the city has budgeted toward the project for this fiscal year.

He then proposed the plan to borrow from capital improvements funds this year, but declined to mention a figure.

Supervisors Move To Ban Hiring Bias

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today introduced an ordinance against discrimination in hiring by contractors working on county jobs.

Supervisors set the penalty for violations at $25 per day per person discriminated against.

Last week they had considered a sliding scale with penalties increasing with the size of the contract, but today decided that system in itself would be discriminatory.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested the board "get the thinking" of contractors and labor representatives on the ordinance.

LBJ, Lawmakers Huddle On Timing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson and Democratic congressional leaders today discussed strategy for speeding more of the administration's program through the legislative mill before the Democratic National Convention.

Speaker John W. McCormack said the House is "concentrating on essential matters," in attempting to clear the decks before the convention, opening four weeks from tomorrow in Atlantic City.

McCormack told reporters he hoped the House Rules Committee would clear the Senate-approved anti-poverty bill today.

Novato Scout Rescues Girl From Pool

A 4-year-old Daly City girl who could not swim, slipped from the edge of a Novato pool Saturday and sank in nine feet of water, but she was pulled out almost at once.

Mike saw the girl slip. When he got to the pool side, her hair was floating on the surface, then she sank "like a rock." Mike dove after her and brought her to the surface so fast that she never lost a breath.

Racing Carburetor Reported Stolen

A Mill Valley man told San Rafael police a $50 Italian racing carburetor and a $10 "twist grip" throttle were stolen from his motorcycle at 1430 Fourth Street at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Supervisors Deny Aim To Ban Moonlighting

The Marin County Board of Sunpervisors made it clear today it is not against county employees holding outside jobs if there is no conflict of interest or loss of efficiency.

County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott said "a lot of employees have been upset" by a current survey on outside jobs, feeling the board is getting tough.

"I don't want the inference that the board is getting rough," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

The survey did not originate with the board, but resulted from a problem brought to it by a department head, and we're trying to straighten it out," Fusselman said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said, "our intention is not to roust all outside employees. We're simply trying to get the facts. We just want those without permission to get permission."

Elliott reported he has not received reports on outside employment from four departments: tax collector-treasurer, sheriff, planning and public works. Supervisors said the heads of these departments would be given two weeks to present reports. If any employee of these departments is working on an outside job, he will then be working without authorization.

The supervisors continued all requests for authorization for outside employment for two weeks, except that of Mrs. Dorothy McClothin, who works in the county assessor's office and serves as city treasurer of Fairfax.

Supervisors authorized her outside employment by a 3-1 vote, with Behr dissenting on the grounds "she should not be singled out" even though he approved of her extra job.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker was absent.

District Delays Vote On Employee Pensions

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night discussed a proposed pension plan for the district's three employees but took no action, agreeing to take the subject up again at their Aug. 24 meeting. There is no pension plan now.

It is planned to adopt the 1964-65 budget at the Aug. 24 meeting, said Director Stanley Cowen. The budget was discussed last night but no figures set.

Furniture Taken

Patio furniture valued at $150 was stolen Sunday night from the Port Royale Apartments, 20 Novato Street, San Rafael, manager Garry Rice told police. Five pieces were taken.

Timepiece Stolen From Railroad Shop

A clock was taken from the electrical shop of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Grant and Railroad avenues, Novato, it was reported yesterday to Novato police.

The theft was discovered at 6:15 a.m. yesterday by Harry A. Winding of 875 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, when he opened the shop. Gary Simmons of Petaluma, who reported it to Novato police, said a check of all doors and windows found them locked.

Second Session Set For Marinwood Tots

Plans for new programs for the session will be outlined to mothers at a meeting in the community center at 8 p.m. Aug. 10 when new children will be registered, said Mrs. Jan Partfitt, director.

Briton Reports Nikita Softens Stand On Treaty

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today told British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler the Soviet Union is willing to take a softer line on a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons, reliable sources said.

Khrushchev's new willingness to talk about the treaty despite the West's proposals for a multilateral nuclear force (MLF) emerged as the chief result of his hour and 45 minutes talk with Butler, the sources said.

Khrushchev also was said to have told Butler Moscow will not consider quitting peacekeeping role in Laos at least until it hears the results of its call for a new 14-nation conference on the troubled Southeast Asian kingdom, which the United States has opposed.

Butler, making his initial effort at Kremlin negotiations, had said he came to Moscow to urge the Soviets to drop their new threat to pull out as co-chairman of the 1962 Geneva agreement unless its conference call was heeded.

Rail Death Toll Up

OPORTO, Portugal (UPI)—The death toll in Sunday's derailment of a railroad passenger car rose by two today to 92, with an additional 76 persons hospitalized.

Novato Hills Will Lose Tops To Apartment Development

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved a plan to flatten the top of a prorminent hill between South Novato Boulevard and Highway 101 on which the Sutter Terraces development will be built.

The commission thus shied away from conventional cutting and filling of the hill. Its decision was consistent with that which it made earlier in the evening concerning the Pleasant Valley development by Roberts and Aguirre Inc.

Sutter Development Co. intends to lop off about 40 feet from the main hill, which is now about 195 feet high, and about 30 feet from two adjoining knolls which are owned mostly by the Baimar Corp. This earth will be used to fill Lake Lynwood in order to build apartment houses there.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

2. Approved the tentative map of Redwood Gardens, south of Cherry Street, owned by Gus Ravetz.
3. Approved the tentative map of Gnoss Estates Unit 2 by Westwood Homes Inc.
4. Continued until Aug. 24 a plan for a doughnut shop at Second Street and Industrial Way submitted by Jack Caristi. The commissioners termed it the worst plan they had ever seen.
5. Approved the grading plan for Marin Oaks Unit 1 south of Raphael Village andl west of Country Club Drive, submitted by the Marin Oaks Development Co.

Crash Badly Hurts Ex-Marin Officer

California Highway Patrol Officer Charles O. Woodworth, former Mill Valley resident now living in Glen Ellen, Sonoma County, faced possible amputation of his left leg today after the Highway Patrol motorcycle he was riding yesterday was struck by a car.

A spokesman at Sonoma Valley Hospital said Woodworth, who is now assigned to the Santa Rosa office of the highway patrol, had undergone extensive surgery "but it is too early to tell if it is successful."

His condition was described as "satisfactory." Woodworth's leg was broken and badly cut, the spokesman said.

He was struck by a car driven by Marina A. Hall, 39, of Sonoma, driving westbound on Highway 12 near Nuns' Canyon Road at 8:15 a.m. This point is midway between Boyes Springs and Kenwood.

Santa Rosa Highway Patrol Capt. Richard Rust said he had been unable to question Woodworth. The preliminary investigation showed that Woodworth may have been attempting to drive onto the highway from a small side road, Rust said. There are numerous blind spots in the stretch of highway where the accident happened.

The motorcycle "was rolled up like a tin can someone had stepped on," Captain Rust reported.

Woodworth moved from Mill Valley to Sonoma County in June, 1962. He had been with the Marin County office of the Highway Patrol since June, 1955.

His wife, Vera, was active in campaigning for unification of schools districts and advocated at numerous meetings that the whole county be unified into one district. They have seven children.

BACK AT AIR BASE

Marinite Returns Again For Service At Home

From Marin County to Marin County, one sometimes goes by way of North Africa or Korea, according to the record of the new commander of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Lt. Col. Wilbur A. Tapscott, who has just assumed the command of the award winning squadron, is a native of Marin. He was born in Kentfield, Sept. 25, 1921. His father, Robert M. Tapscott, was in the claims department of Fidelity and Casualty Insurance Co. in San Francisco. The family lived on Cypress Avenue in Kentfield. Young Tapscott attended Kentfield Elementary School, Tamalpais High School, and Marin Junior College, and worked for Castro's Garage in San Rafael. He also went into the feeder calf business with two California highway patrolmen, Russell Hannis and Ernesto Monteverde.

Then came World War II. He enlisted at Hamilton Air Force Base in March, 1942.

He took cadet training at Kelly Field, Tex., attended reconnaisance school at Key Field, Miss., and was sent to the 111th Reconnaisance Squadron at Casablanca in 1943, where he flew P-51 Mustangs.

He saw action in the North African, Mediterranean and Southern France campaigns. When the war ended, he was at Strasbourg, Germany as commander of the 12th Tactical Reconnaisance Squadron. He was at Nuernburg during some of the war crimes trials.

He has received the Air Medal with six oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Service Medal with one oak leaf cluster, and the Croix de Guerre with one silver star.

After the war, he was assigned to the 171st Fighter Squadron with the Michigan National Guard. Then followed assignments with the 14th Air Force at Orlando, Fla., where he was chief of the fighter branch, and at Robins Air Force Base, Ga. In 1952, when he was sent to Korea, he returned his wife, the former Jacqueline Kievenaar of Marin County, to Novato, buying a house at 33 Las Alondros.

In 1955, he was assigned to the 28th Air Division at Hamilton. Assignments in Colorado Springs and Japan followed. In 1962, he returned to the 28th Air Division, serving as chief of plans and programing until his appointment as commander of the 84th.

Colonel and Mrs. Tapscott have three children, Terri, 15, Piet, 14 and Libbie, 6. They now live at 225 Mount Shasta Drive in Lucas Valley.

WEDDING GIFT

Vandalistic Thief Spoils Homecoming

Stepping across the threshold at 29 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, they found the living room a shambles, items worth $300 stolen and an "irreplaceable" figurine and plate glass window broken.

Missing were a $180 transistor radio and a $120 camera. The figurine, titled "Hands," had been hurled against the $80 window. Also broken was a window decanter full of pennies. Many of the coins were scattered in the room.

Whoever did the damage apparently had walked in through the front door. Willis told police he seldom bothers to lock it.

Novato Planners Split, But Pass Cluster Plans

The Novato Planning Commission last night swallowed its misgivings about cluster housing and approved by 4-2 vote a master plan for the Pleasant Valley subdivision being developed by Roberts and Aguirre, with a limitation of 70 units.

The commission in effect decided that cluster housing on sloping land is more desirable than normal subdividing which would require extensive grading.

Before the vote, the commission heard pleas from a handful of citizens that it refuse to sanction the cluster housing concept.

Lloyd S. Brooke of 520 Davis Avenue said, "I hope you people remember why we came to Novato. You are now considering 25-foot frontages with one inch between each house. You can go across the bay and see what this leads to when the houses deteriorate.

Asked who would maintain the recreational area in the development, Planning Director Robert Lagle replied that part of the payments on the houses would be used for that purpose.

Commissioner Merton Shelton wished to know how access may be gained to the extensive sloping area about the subdivision. Lagle said that if the commission and the city council decide to keep this land open to the public and not allow private developments, picnickers may reach it by foot and jeeps may easily ascend it for maintenance.

The plan submitted to the commission called for 84 units. The city council will decide Aug. 10 whether to approve to 70-unit preliminary master plan recommended by the commission.

Commissioner Alfred Bellucci moved to approve the plan with the 70-unit limitation, and chairman Robert G. Johnson, Richard Alcorn and Shelton joined in favoring it. Frank Valim and Wayne Hathaway voted against it. Commissioner Samuel Young was absent.

Ladies, Heed Warning Against Mid-Day Drinking

The pre-lunch cocktail hour has long been recognized as a hazard in the business world.

As a result, business is able to go on without major handicap or set-back.

But what is happening to the Marin housewife?

Reports reaching the I-J indicate that the pre-lunch cocktail hour is a major hazard for socially-minded matrons of Marin.

Except for the unnecessary calories, there is nothing much wrong with a martini or an old fashioned before lunch—but the third and fourth are the ones that spell big trouble as any non-teetotalling businessman can attest.

A large number of Marin women are oblivious to this hazard, according to the reports we get.

The ladies' morning golf game, we are told, winds up at the 19th hole, for a prolonged session.

The neighborhood bridge party frequently includes a pre-lunch cocktail hour, that can extend well into the afternoon. And most ladies' luncheons for fashion shows and what-not are preceded, we are told, by the ubiquitous cocktail hour.

Unlike businessmen, the ladies have no "boss back at the office" waiting for them to get back from lunch, so some of the ladies tarry too long at the bar.

We hear of fashion shows that never quite come off because the volunteer models are too long at the bar.

We don't hear of husbands complaining because of bum dinners, or none at all; but we suspect there are some.

We do read juvenile delinquency reports indicating lack of parental supervision among upper middle class ("our better") families.

Can it be that too many of our ladies are doing too much drinking during the middle of the day?

The Intrusion Of Machines

Sometimes, when our rest is shattered by the snarl of bulldozers cutting away another Marin hill, or by the nerve-tearing rattle of a compressed-air drill, we feel quite anti-machine.

Diesel rigs roar down our highways disturbing the quiet. Sonic booms are becoming more frequent and the government is preparing us for more and more of these tiny earthquakes, beginning in Oklahoma City.

We suppose this is the price we must pay for progress and speed. But that doesn't mean that we have to like the intrusion of machines on our privacy.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

SAVES FRIEND UNDER SUBWAY TRAIN

Would you jump into the path of an onrushing subway train to save the life of a friend?

One heroic young woman, 28, did that when her friend, 26, fainted and fell off the platform and onto the tracks in a New York subway station.

Onlookers feared the worst when they saw a train enter the station just as the courageous girl leaped. They saw her pull her unconscious friend into the trough between the tracks and then lie down beside her.

The oncoming train came to a screeching stop but not until three cars had passed over them. When workmen found the two friends, neither was seriously hurt.

Times of crisis often reveal the greatness of love hidden within our hearts and the lengths to which we will go to sacrifice ourselves in behalf of others.

Try to display this same Christlike solicitude for others in the humdrum of daily life, as well as in emergencies. You are bound to leave the world better than you found it.

"Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends."
(John 15:13)

Teach me, O divine Savior, to show the same daring in helping others that I would wish for myself.

Constitutional Revision Group Has Important Job To Perform

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Quietly and without much fanfare, the California Constitutional Revision Commission is pursuing its work as authorized by the people in 1962.

Under the direction of San Francisco attorney John Busterud, a Marin County resident, who is a former assemblyman and a well-known constitutional lawyer, the commission will meet Thursday and Friday in the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles, to pursue its duties, this time discussing recommended drafts for the judicial and civil service articles.

THE COMMISSION is composed of 43 citizens, from every walk of life, including lawyers, professors, business men, civic leaders and labor officials.

From the representation, it is expected that eventually the state will have submitted to it a new constitution, covering every phase of the present document, which has been amended more than 360 times since it was drafted and adopted by the people on May 7, 1879.

It will be up to the people to vote on the new draft, as the people constitute the final authority for adoption of basic law of this type.

WHEN THE DRAFT finally is ready, it may well behoove every citizen and voter to give it a great deal of study.

No matter what the commission may have in mind, and there is no indication so far that members are thinking of anything other than a revision to modernize the document, there is always the possibility error or omission may rob the people of the state of some of their original rights.

Article 1 of the state constitution is somewhat along the lines of the Bill of Rights contained in the national constitution. It is supposed to be a guarantee of "inalienable" rights, which free and independent men are supposed to have.

IF THE COMMISSION rewords Article 1 so that the people actually have such rights which cannot be invalidated by acts of the legislature, then it will have done a good job. The weakness of the present constitution is that the legislature and courts themselves can, by new law and interpretation of law, rob the people of their rights.

Thus, the members of the commission have a grave responsibility to the people of the state.

They can come up with a conservative, moderate or an extra liberal constitution merely through choice of words.

However, the job of the commission is to present a document that will, in the final sense of the word, continue the guarantees citizens voted to themselves back in 1879, no more, no less.

Good Samaritan Is Being Sought

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On May 13 I was seriously injured in an accident while traveling northbound on Waldo Grade near the Sausalito turnoff. A stranger held me until the ambulance arrived and under conditions which were quite difficult for him. The following morning he telephoned the hospital to ask about my condition.

I am deeply grateful to this good samaritan but I do not know his identity and cannot thank him personally.

If any of your readers know of this man's name and address, I would appreciate a call at 924-3078 or 479-3133.

Water Lands Rezoning Views

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The rezoning of the Water District Lands from Interim D zoning to Open Area zoning has been referred back to the Planning Commission by the Board of Supervisors and a public hearing before the Commission is set for Monday, Aug. 3.

This property has been zoned Interim D for about thirty years. Under Interim D zoning single family dwellings and duplexes are permitted on lots of 7500 sq. ft. Various agricultural uses such as livestock and poultry raising, farming, nurseries, wood cutting and similar uses are allowed. Also, with the securing of a use permit, multiple dwellings, hotels, resorts, trailer camps, recreational uses, kennels, stables and extraction of earth and rock. This type of zoning obviously is not suitable for this land and with this in mind two years ago the Board of Supervisors added the new catagory, Open Area, to the zoning ordinance. Uses permitted under O-A are briefly various types of recreational uses and some agricultural uses. Expressly prohibited are logging and removal of soil or excessive excavation and filling.

The question of rezoning this land was first raised about three years ago and such action then urged by the Conservation League. Since then the State Division of Beaches and Parks has proposed to the Water District Board that the lands be used jointly as water shed and a State park. However, this proposal, which may or may not become an eventuality, is a separate matter and should not in any way interfere with the present rezoning.

In these times of rapidly increasing population and decreasing open lands the Conservation League believes that Marin County should preserve these very scenic and unspoiled areas that now belong to the people of the District. The pressure to subdivide and develop at least the fringes of this land is great and protection is needed. Any person or group interested in this rezoning should attend the Planning Commission meeting on Aug. 3.

Compliments For Bus Line

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Greyhound is requesting an increase in commute fares. Before a hue and cry is set off against it by individuals who excell in this, whether warranted or not, may I compliment Greyhound on its excellent, dependable service and its safe, reliable and (for the most part) courteous drivers. Their request is justified, and our promised dividend will be 60 brand-new, latest style buses. You can't beat that even with a county-operated Transit District. I don't see why the county and eleven city governments do not cooperate on a subsidy basis for Greyhound and leave the driving to them, instead of forming a supervisor-supervised bus system.

Birch Society Gets A Boost

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is interesting to note the importance given the John Birch Society at the recent Republican Convention and the continued attack being waged against it and Senator Goldwater by every Communist traitor, moderate, left-winger and liberal in the country. The only reason being that both advocate honest constitutional government as enumerated in our Constitution.

I have a copy of the John Birch Society blue book written by Mr. Robert Welch and I have read every page and as a devoted student of the Constitution of the United States of America I can and will swear that there is not one iota of it that can be construed as being anything other than an attempt by a very able man to awaken the American people to the danger of the Communists already entrenched in this country. While I do not agree entirely with his views I will say that I consider him to be one of America's greatest patriots due to the magnificent job he has done alerting the American people as to how these vermin are undermining our country and even our existence as a free people by their treasonable and subversive acts from the pulpits of some of our churches, elective and appointed offices of trust and now they are using some of our finest colleges and universities as training centers peddling their Marxist duns to our kids at our expense and claiming they are entitled to do so under the guise of academic freedom. And I may add the U. S. Supreme Court recently ruled that they cannot be dismissed for doing so.

The above reasons are why the rats were squealing about the Birchers and Barry Goldwater. They knew and know if Goldwater is elected President the season of treason is over for them and once the American people realize what they are they will demand payment for their treasonable acts.

In conclusion let me add I would suggest to these traitors that are leaving the Republican party because they have lost control will not find a welcome mat out for them in the Democratic party either. We have a few rats such as them that will be removed as fast as their terms of office expire.

I am applying for membership in the John Birch Society and urge other patriots to do likewise in order that we all may retain our liberty.

BENNETT CERF

BACK FROM a record-breaking engagement at a Miami Beach hotel, Joe E. Lewis reported that a high spot of his sojourn came when a beautiful girl in the scantiest of bathing suits came up and asked him to teach her how to swim. "I was doing magnificently with her," boasted Joe, "until some nosy lifeguard came along and made us go in the water."

A FAN OF Bob Hope clapped him on the shoulder and yakked, "I remember when you were playing the juvenile lead in a Broadway musical. Boy, you were handsome in those days: big chest, broad stomach." "Ah, yes," sighed Hope. "Of course, all that's BEHIND me now."

LOOKING FOR a gift at a seaside novelty shop to take to her weekend hostess, a woman picked up an intricate gadget with several moving parts. "This looks interesting," she told the clerk. "What is it?"

The clerk examined the gadget gingerly for a moment, then admitted, "I guess it isn't anything. Just a present."

De Gaulle Gets Stuck With Ideas On Southeast Asia Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles de Gaulle got stuck with an idea; now he's reworking it. The last thing he wants to be is ignored; but he's being ignored.

The French president proposed at his second news conference of 1964 the neutralization of all Southeast Asia, including Vietnam. It was an old idea.

He had proposed it at his first news conference of 1964 last January. The United States brushed off the idea then. It's brushing it off now.

THE TROUBLE was that 10 years ago 14 nations at Geneva reached an agreement supposed to keep Southeast Asia peaceful. It's been anything but.

Washington's view was, and is, that Red China and the North Vietnamese broke the agreement. So why think a new agreement would be observed?

France had held Indochina as a colony since the 19th Century and showed no signs of granting independence until some Indochinese got fed up.

SOME OF THEM, Communist-led under Ho Chi Minh, fought the French for seven and one-half years and finally wrecked them in 1953.

This was humiliation for the French who had to be bailed out in two world wars. Now under de Gaulle, they aspire to world leadership again.

The Geneva agreement divided Vietnam into north and south, with Chi Minh still in charge in the north. The French pulled out.

The North Vietnamese decided to take over South Vietnam, which needed help to survive. The United States stepped in and has been helping out since.

IT SEEMS CLEAR from this history that if there was a new agreement and the United States pulled out, the North Vietnamese wouldn't let peace last long.

This time — adding a new touch — de Gaulle wants the United States, France, Russia and Red China to guarantee the peace.

De Gaulle's proposals on Southeast Asia suggest he can't reconcile himself to the thought that France should, or must, keep its nose out of Asia permanently.

IT IS PART of the pattern of his mind. He wouldn't accept a nuclear test and treaty, insisting instead that France must build its own nuclear arsenal.

At the same time he wants a close tie-up with Germany. But this wouldn't be on an equal partnership basis if France had nuclear weapons and Germany didn't.

And if West Germany tried to build the Russians would go through the ceiling. And so would de Gaulle, probably.

The Frenchman seeks a kind of French-German alliance that would dominate their smaller neighbors. But German Chancellor Erhard wants no part of it.

He knowns West Germany is too close to Russia for safety and wishes to have the protection of the United States.

Barry Seeks Red Ties To Violence

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater is seeking a conference with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on the mounting wave of racial disorders in various states, particularly New York and Mississippi.

Purpose of the Republican presidential nominee is to ascertain the factors and forces behind the intensifying disturbances and violence.

IT IS NOT known whether President Lyndon B. Johnson is aware of his rival's desire to meet with the head of the FBI. The assumption is there will be no interference with that.

The proposed meeting was suggested by Goldwater's close advisers. They urged it on two grounds:

That in preparation for his campaign, the candidate should get all the information he can about the explosive racial issue; the best way to do that was to go direct to the leading authority in the country on the matter.

The Republican standard-bearer's advisers also were aware that a group of Southern senators, led by Sen. James Eastland (Miss.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee, are preparing to deliver a series of speeches charging that Communists and leftists are inciting the racial outbreaks.

THESE SENATORS will name names and present other detailed supporting evidence.

The staff of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, also headed by Eastland, is assisting in the drafting of these addresses and the accompanying explosive documentation.

Several Southern senators are known to have urged Goldwater to demand the publication of an FBI report on Communist infiltration of civil rights organizations. This comprehensive study was circulated among high administration officials in the spring, but has never been released.

Existence of this report is known, but its dynamite-loaded contents are not. There has been considerable conjecture about them, but no positive information.

Senator Goldwater is still undecided what to do. It is deemed very likely he will discuss the matter when he confers with FBI Director Hoover. The candidate's aides anticipate he will be guided by Hoover's wishes.

The advisers also are pointing out that another reason Goldwater wants to meet with the FBI chief is because the president recently sent him to Mississippi for the express purpose of stressing his renowned agency's "presence" in that race-troubled state.

THE BASIC structure of Senator Goldwater's triumphant convention "army" will be used to spark his high-powered campaign for the White House.

At the San Francisco convention, the delegations were divided into five regional groups, each under a director and they, in turn, under the overall command of Denison Kitchel, Phoenix attorney and long-time assistant of the candidate. This system will be continued in the fall contest.

Construction of the new Scout Hall began at Second and A streets, when San Rafael merchant Jacob Albert handed over a deed for the land and a $20,000 check to Kenneth K. Bechtel, Boy Scout president for Marin County.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Columnist Has No Sympathy For Retirement Into Boredom

NEW YORK (AP)—Life keeps a fellow so busy doing about half the things he ought to that he doesn't have time to do a third of the things he'd like to.

So he has to postpone his pleasures most of his life. He is too busy doing his duty to really enjoy himself.

I have no sympathy with people who retire unwillingly at 65 and then proceed immediately to die of boredom. To me they are stubborn and unimaginative.

WHEN THE WORLD removes them from the harness of the daily plodding, they take revenge by dying.

They live by the puritanical idea that work is given to man to keep him out of mischief. Without work they feel they have no mission in life.

I have just the opposite theory. I think the only purpose of work is to save enough money to spend the rest of your life in mischief and riotous self-indulgence. I believe that any kind of employment is a form of slavery and any man who submits to it an hour longer than he has to is an unenlightened fool.

I KNOW EXACTLY what I'm going to do with myself when I'm 65. Planned retirement has been my constant daydream ever since I started sweeping out a grocery store at the age of 10 and gained an early and lifelong distaste for honest labor.

As soon as the office gives me the farewell $27.50 imitation leather traveling bag and the $1.95 goodby lunch, I'm going to open the window by my desk and drop this typewriter six floors to the street below.

THEN I'M GOING home to a little place in the country and sit motionless in the rocking chair on the front porch for a solid month.

Then I'm going to rock until I feel rested.

Then I'm going to buy a barrel of burbon and drink it while I read a thousand books in my library whose pages I have yet to turn.

Then I am going down to the Bowery and get an artist to tattoo on my chest a giant eagle, an American flag and the motto, "Liberty or Death."

Then I am going to start smoking cigarettes and learn to inhale.

THEN I WILL RUN away from home.

"So long, kids." I will tell my weeping wife and awestruck grandchildren. "It sure has been fun knowing you, but there is no reason for making the arrangement permanent."

Then I am going to the beautiful Island of Bali, a place I saw in my youth and have always had a hankering to return to.

And if, thereafter, you never hear from me, please don't worry. If a fellow can't find something to keep himself occupied with on Bali, he really doesn't deserve retirement.

Novato's Late Budget Raises Many Questions To One's Mind

THE NOVATO CITY COUNCIL held its first public hearing and review on the 1964-65 city budget last week and succeeded in knocking only $9,000 off the total budget which is $68,150 out of balance. The total budget calls for spending $841,020 against an income of $722,870.

That one item was for a master air conditioner for the city hall. It could be eliminated because window-type air conditioners had already been installed, although we don't remember them ever being authorized by the city council.

This year's budget raises many questions in one's mind, compared to previous budgets of the City of Novato. The first one, why was the budget so late? Last year and the year before, the council had it in May. This year, with a larger staff, the council did not get the budget until the city had been operating on it for two weeks.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR J. Julien Baget said it was because he did not have a finance officer. He did not have one last year either, but he was asking for one. A smaller staff got out the set of figures for the budget last year, although, we grant that the figures were somewhat smaller.

We don't think it was the department heads holding it up either, because we watched them working on departmental budgets in March and April.

Baget also asked that the council hold its first public hearing at the same time that it received the budget. Veteran Councilman Wayne Womack refused to do this.

Last December, the council raised the pay of city employees, which included a raise for Baget of $1,300 per year. The council at that time set a policy that it would review salaries only at the mid-fiscal year or the end of the calendar year.

THIS YEAR'S BUDGET had the first eight pages on salary recommendations, which the council deleted from any consideration because of this policy of the past council.

The budget has shown an increase from year to year in the past, reflecting the city's growth. From the 1960-61 budget to the 1961-62 budget there was a $48,575 increase; the next year, $36,116 and last year, $138,004.

This year's budget shows a whopping $247,565 increase, or 47 per cent increase over last year. It is larger than all of the increases in budgets in all the history of the city.

One item in the budget must cause some concern to many people. That item is rather a lack of it.

WHEN THE CITY of Novato took over the community house from the community club, one of the main arguments was that the building needed repairing and the community club could not afford to make the repairs.

Those repairs were delayed by the council when it purchased the Presbyterian Church properties and remodeled them for city offices. We won't argue that this was not a wise move, because it was. The city now has room for all its offices in one location.

During all this time, the community house has been almost neglected. The past council did hire Gordon Phillips, San Rafael architect, to draw plans for complete rehabilitation of the building.

PHILLIPS TOLD the council that by spending approximately $50,000, they would have a building which could not be replaced for $200,000. The council authorized part of this work to bring the building up to electric, plumbing and fire codes.

However, it set aside the remaining $15,470 of the building fund to do the work this year. It would take about $35,000 from this budget for a complete rehabilitation of the building. This amount was not in the budget, even though it is nearly one quarter of a million dollars more than last year's budget.

Past members of the community club and others who want to see the historic community house preserved surely must regret that the city which took over the building when it needed it three years ago, will not spend the money which it said it would to repair the building.

Seduction Squad, Photo Figure In Divorce Trial

San Leandro millionaire Preston A. Jones complained in Marin Superior Court yesterday that his estranged wife sent a team of seductresses into his manufacturing plant to embarrass and discredit him.

Jones, 52, who makes electric light fixtures at Prescolite Manufacturing Co., is cross-complainant for divorce against Janet G. Jones, 42, of 16 Marina Way, San Rafael.

Jones did not appear personally in court, but his attorneys made the seduction charge before Judge Thomas F. Keating. His attorneys also demanded that Mrs. Jones hand over photographs taken of Jones in a compromising position.

Mrs. Jones's attorney, Wallace S. Myers, insisted he had no such photographs and that he had previously promised the court they would not be used in the divorce trial.

The Joneses were married in Mexico on Dec. 23, 1952, and separated in September, 1962. They have one child.

In her complaint for divorce, Mrs. Jones said her husband left home on Sept. 10, 1962, without any advance warning. "My husband announced to me that he wanted a divorce, and that he intended to marry a young girl with whom he had much in common," she declared.

Marin Youths Capture Ribbons

Terry Zimmerman of Marshall captured fourth and sixth place ribbons for his Jersey stock entries in the 4-H Club dairy competition at the Sonoma County Fair which closed Sunday in Santa Rosa.

Tom Kenna of Novato took a fourth place for his Guernsey entry.

Royalty On Vacation

Sebastopol Woman Leaps To Death From Gate Span

A Sebastapol housewife last night jumped off the Golden Gate Bridge before two San Rafael residents could halt their cars in the northbound lane to restrain her.

Thomas A. Christian of 41 Clark Street and Mrs. Edward F. Greenwood of 530 Canal Street told California Highway Patrol officers they saw Mrs. Emma Barsi, 58, climb the bridge railing 50 yards north of the south tower and disappear.

Mrs. Barsi left a black purse on the bridge sidewalk which contained a note addressed to "Angelo, Art and Dan." She signed it: "Love, Mom."

The highway patrol said Mrs. Barsi took a Greyhound bus from Sebastopol to the toll plaza on the bridge. She got out of the bus and walked onto the bridge at 6:55 p.m.

The Coast Guard searched for one and one-half hours but found no trace of Mrs. Barsi. The highway patrol listed it as a "definite" suicide.

Employers Warned On Report Deadline

Friday is the deadline for employers to file wage reports and returns for unemployment insurance for the second quarter of the fiscal year, according to Charles J. Brady, auditor in charge of the Marin County office of the State Department of Employment.

Penalty and interest will be charged on the late returns. Employers needing assistance in filing the reports may call Brady at the state's San Rafael office.

Car Smog-Device Foes Seek Help For Hearing

Two Marin citizens, who charge that auto smog control devices are harmful to the engin, indicated today they would like to attend a legislative hearing to be held on Aug. 7 in San Francisco.

The two are Lester E. Jennings Jr. of Corte Madera and Lars Williamson of Tamalpais Valley, who head the Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression.

"Anyone interested in voicing their discontent with the auto smog devices is invited to contact us at Post Office Box 131, Corte Madera," said Jennings.

The Assembli Committee on Governmental Efficiency has scheduled a hearing on crankcase smog devices in the State Building in San Francisco on Aug. 7. The committee is headed by Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan (D-Los Angeles).

Jennings and Williamson assert that the crankcase smog devices are costly, expensive to maintain, and are harmful to the engine. They presented their grievances in a series of three articles in the Independent-Journal six weeks ago.

Last week, they engaged in a radio debate over station KTIM with Donald A. Jensen, executive officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, and D. J. Caliaghan, Bay Area air pollution control officer. Jensen insisted that the crankcase devices are not harmful to the engine and even help engine performance if properly installed and maintained.

Extensive tests by manufacturers in Detroit have proved that the devices are harmless, he contended.

Marin Agencies Get State Funds

Nearly $25,000 in grants to two Marin County agencies was announced today by the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

The Marin Mental Health Foundation will receive $22,000 for support of its psychiatric outpatient clinic at Ross General Hospital which is expected to serve about 500 persons annually.

The Marin County Council of Churches was granted $2,225 for employment of a part time psychiatric-social worker to work in the council's proposed counseling program.

Three Hurt In Accidents Of Single Automobiles

Two Marin residents and one Petaluman were injured yesterday and early today in Marin County highway accidents involving single automobiles.

Dr. William B. Ryder Jr., 58, of 48 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with fractures of collar bone and ribs and multiple bruises.

Ryder was driving north on the Waldo Grade between Monte Mar and the Rodeo Avenue turnoff at 9:45 p.m. when his car hit the guard rail and rolled down an embankment. Sausalito firemen used a rope to pull Ryder up the embankment on a stretcher.

Also in fair condition at the same hospital, with multiple cuts and bruises, was John Hutchinson, 34, of Petaluma. Hutchinson was driving north on Highway 101 at the Irwin Street turnoff in San Rafael at 1 a.m. today when his car jumped the divider and mowed down a highway directional sign and a power pole.

His car was halted by the chain link fence on the east side of the highway after it carried the power pole 63 feet, according to the highway patrol.

Russell C. Mills, 57, of 16 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, was treated for a cut forehead last night at Marin General Hospital after the car he was riding in hit a light pole on the Sausalito connector road to the southbound lanes of Highway 101 at 5:35 p.m.

The driver, James Joseph Simonds, 46, of San Jose was booked by the highway patrol for drunken driving.

Crime Strikes Tiburon's Heart

The city of Tiburon was incognito again today in its office at Del Mar School. Someone stole the sign which proclaimed "City Office—City of Tiburon."

Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge had dug down for $13 from his private budget to order the small blue plastic sign with white letters which he put up over the door about two weeks ago.

Last night councilmen walking into the meeting at Room One of the School, noted that the sign was missing.

"We need a police department," said newly appointed City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Novato Council Adds To Budget

The Novato City Council last night started to pare down the deficit in the proposed 1964-65 budget, but after more than four hours, had added more than it had cut.

The preliminary budget as submitted by City Administrator J. Julien Baget cails for expenditure of $841,020 against an income of $772,870, leaving a deficit of $68,150.

Councilmen went over the council, administrator, finance, police, election and non-departmental budgets. They succeeded in cutting out $9,600, but added $11,905 in new items, for a net increase of $2,305.

One item cut was Baget's proposal for a fulltime man to keep records on the city's 18 vehicles, at $5,095 a year.

"You're kidding!" said Mayor Robert D. Carrow.

Baget assured him he felt a fulltime man was warranted.

Councilman William Jack Adams said Baget must mean the fulltime man would do all the maintenance work on the cars, not just keep the records.

Baget insisted it would take a fulltime man to handle the records, not do the work.

The council quickly agreed to eliminate that salary request from the budget.

"If we ever do approve it, I want the job. I'll do it each morning before breakfast," Carrow said.

At the start of the meeting, Baget assured the council that the budget contained "a bare minimum" of personnel requests.

Carrow questioned the need for a fulltime clerk to do mimeographing for all city departments. Baget said he would report on the amount of such work at the next budget meeting.

The council eliminated an administrative assistant asked by Baget, but left enough money to add the position in January if it is fel necessary then. Carrow questioned the need, but Bagel declared, "I am in charge of seven departments now. Five is the number generally given that an administrator can supervise."

Also cut from the administrator's budget was $1,500 for a records system. A $5,000 records system for the entire city was approved by the council last week.

The council lopped $500 from its own budget, $7,800 from the administrator's budget, and $2,300 from the elections budget. But it added $250 to finance, and $11,445 to non-departmental.

A session on the city attorney, planning, building, public works and parks and recreation budgets, scheduled for tomorrow night, was postponed indefinitely as councilmen wish to attend a meeting on the Stanford Research Institute's "Industry for Marin" study at the Civic Center tomorrow night.

Artist Pleads Innocent On Peddling Charge

Neil Franklin Stouffer, Mountain View artist whose nude paintings were confiscated by Sausalito police July 18, entered an innocent plea in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of peddling the paintings without a city business license. Jury trial date was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 18.

Stouffer, represented by Ephraim Margolin of San Francisco, was originally represented by American Civil Liberties Union in San Francisco, but said yesterday the organization withdrew when the district attorney's office declined to prosecute also for an alleged display of obscenity.

SILENT SWAN SONG

Winnie In Farewell Visit To His Beloved Parliament

LONDON (UPI)—On Feb. 14, 1901, a red-headed, snub-nosed young bluebiood named Winston Spencer Churchill took his seat for the first time in the House of Commons.

Queen Victoria had died less than a month earlier. William McKinley was President of the United States. Emperors reigned in Germany, Austria, Russia, China. The Boxer Rebellion was dying out; the Philippine Insurrection still raged.

Churchill, at 26, was already a veteran of the Omdurman cavalry charge and a renowned foreign correspondent of the Boer War.

In the next half century and more he was to dominate the House of Commons and the British nation as no other man of his time.

Yesterday Churchill, less than four months from his 90th birthday, made what aides said would be his last appearance in Commons.

Today the House, in an almost unprecedented tribute, was scheduled to adopt a motion expressing its "unbounded admiration, gratitude and grateful thanks" for Churchill's years of leadership and service.

An all-party delegation led by Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home was detailed to deliver the resolution to Churchill's town house in London.

No British citizen has been so honored since Parliament passed a similar motion saluting the Duke of Wellington for defeating Napoleon at Waterloo, 150 years ago.

Churchill declined accepting a peerage and going over to the House of Lords. He once said he "put two things above everything: God and the House of Commons."

Yesterday the old man slowly entered the oaken chamber as the rays of the afternoon sun slanted through the high arched windows. Both sides of the House looked toward him as he took his customary seat on the front bench and sat silently, leaning on his cane, head bowed over his bow tie, for 45 minutes.

He did not speak. But as he departed, assisted by two of the members, he paused at the door, turned and faced the members.

For a long moment, he gazed back into the chamber where he had made so much history. He made an almost imperceptible nod to the Speaker of the House. And then he was gone.

The House will recess on Friday until after the general elections this October, and Churchill has announced he will not run for re-election.

Today's motion marked the end of an era.

WORKING THE TIDE—Students in the four-week summer course at the College of Marin's recently established Marin Biology Station at Bolinas had to get up before dawn on some days to make their collecting forays coincide with low tides. Here, with the sun still rising in the east, they climb up the trail from the beach near Bolinas Point after a busy morning.

NET GAIN—Student Terry Byrd pulls a plankton net back into outboard carefully after run on Bolinas Lagoon. This summer's course, which began June 22, was the first time the college has made use of the facilities given it by the Coast Guard several years ago.

LIVING LABORATORY—Spiked sea urchins line a tidal pool occupied by a crab (center) and a sea anemone (right). When the regular semester begins this fall, students will start collecting such specimens for display in the Bolinas laboratory.

NEWLY PAINTED—This two story building is headquarters for College of Marin on the coast. It and the neighboring boathouse, face Bolinas Lagoon. Though headquarters are here, the summer class visited many beaches, going as far north as Bodega Head and south to Sausalito.

DROUGHT, NOT 'QUAKE

New City Has Manager, But No Office For Him

Tiburon city councilmen, who last night hired a city manager, also moved toward finding a city hall in which to put him.

Fred Mantegani, Tiburon businessman, was appointed chairman of a citizen committee to seek a city hall or offices. Newly appointed City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose also was named to the committee.

The city now uses Room One of Del Mar School as office and meeting place, but will have to move in a few weeks so the Reed School District can prepare it for fall classes.

Councilmen asked that a citizen committee, headed by Mantegani and to be appointed by Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, seek an immediate solution to the city's housing problem while also considering what long-range city hall needs will be.

"City offices should be as close as possible to as many people as possible," said Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood in urging a downtown street level city hall location.

But most immediately, the location is not so important, countered councilman Leo Souza, who suggested using a room at the Hilarita Housing Project or putting a movable office on a corner of the Del Mar School property. Souza also is on the Reed school board.

Souza urged that an architect and engineer be named to the citizens committee and that the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society be enlisted to study the city's long-range needs.

The offer of either of two buildings on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property, by Tiburon Tidelands Co. which is buying the land, met with little enthusiasm from committee chairman Mantegani.

"That old historic building—they should pull it down and push it into the bay; there are so many termites," he said.

Other councilmen asked that the two buildings on the railroad property, one wood and one stucco, at least be considered.

Councilmen spent a major portion of the meeting discussing provisions of the city contract with the county to provide services until the city can establish its own operations. The contract will expire Aug. 15.

Councilmen indicated they would ask for a short-term contract on planning services, as they move closer to gaining their own planning consultant. They asked a check of building, plumbing, electrical and other fees in hopes of bringing income closer to the cost of required checking of construction.

They asked a study of city street sweeping, now done under contract, on hearing citizen doubts that the county was doing a good job on Main Street.

The asked reconsideration of police protection, on hearing the coverage provided by sheriff's deputies called "dangerous" by Charles Tijerina, chairman of the board of the Tiburon National Bank. Tijerina said he hoped to contract with Belvedere for police protection.

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Discussed possible franchises or business licenses for garbage, telephone, bus, and ferry companies.
2. Set Aug. 10 as the date for discussion of a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. franchise.
3. Received a letter and $25 from Irving Lipschultz, Belvedere, as start of a fund for permanent docking facilities for the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry. The money was transferred to the Tiburon Coordinating Council subcommittee on water transportation.
4. Agreed to let Inspector Harold N. Hockett of the Corte Madera Police Department report on a possible police budget for the new city. Hockett has applied for the police chief post.
5. Set 8 p.m. Aug. 6 as the next meeting date at Del Mar School.

Tiburon Extends County Planning Service Contract

Tiburon planning commissioners last night agreed to aim for a six-month continuance of the present county planning advisory contract with the city.

The contract under which the newly incorporated city is provided with county professional planning advisors expires Aug. 15.

Commissioners discussed a contract cut-off date ranging from 90 days to a year, commission chairman Stephen H. Nash reported, but compromised on recommending to the city council that the contract be extended for six months.

Commissioners discussed various drafts of a general planning policy statement and deferred consideration of a final proposal to the Aug. 3 meeting.

A proposed commission budget of $600 was recommended, for books, maps and publications, in addition to monies to be budgeted for planning advisers.

The commission, which up to now has spent most of its time in preliminary study sessions, will hear its first full agenda of planning requests from citizens at 8 p.m. Aug 3. at Del Mar School.

Trustees To Hear Of Segregation

Sausalito School District trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Bayside School to hear a report from Dr. Wilson Riles, executive secretary of the state commission on equal opportunities in education.

The report was requested by trustees Sept. 30, 1963, following demands by the Marin Chapter of Congress of Racial Equality "that something be done about" schools.

Copies of the 15-page report were received by trustees last night, said Supt. Marcus F. Davis, but will not be made public until the meeting.

The Tuaregs of Mali are said to be part of the more sedentary Berbers of North Africa.

Fastest draw in Marin County

Retailers are literally the speed-merchants of business. For merchandise must MOVE NOW... TODAY. Profits, volume—all depend on speed of merchandise movement. (And headaches come if it doesn't).

But customers don't move to a store because it wants them. They read the ads, think, compare values, analyze them—BEFORE THEY ACT.

Right there is your clue to IMMEDIATE SALES. The closer your advertising medium fits your need for speed, for rapid response, the closer you are to sales success. Get the impact, make the sale.

Here in Marin County more customers are moved to IMMEDIATE ACTION by the Independent-Journal than by any other advertising medium. But don't take our word for it. Ask Macy's, Wards, Penney's, Ames Ford, Eggers Nursery, Value World, Froghorn... to name a few.

And don't settle for the fact, settle for the reasons. Is it because people want to read the I-J? (For women, advertising is the second best-read feature in the paper!) Answer: partly.

Is it because the I-J gives more coverage, reaches more families, than any other medium—66.7% of all homes in Marin? Partly.

It is because the I-J intimately covers the news of each and every community in Marin County? Partly.

Is it because small neighborhood newspapers lack the I-J's comprehensive news coverage which brings added readership to your advertising? Partly.

You're beginning to get the picture. All these things have a direct bearing on advertising effectiveness . . . on creating the IMMEDIATE SALE. The medium that has GREATER ACCEPTANCE on all scores brings GREATER ACCEPTANCE of your advertising... the rapid response you want.

Other media try. The I-J delivers. Circulars, small neighborhood papers, radio, TV—they try. But ask yourself: Did you ever pay good money for a circular and WANT to read it? Can you examine and "re-read" a radio or TV commercial? Neither can your customers.

With the I-J you have the biggest VOLUNTARY AUDIENCE in Marin County—35,271 homes, 84,560 readers. And there's your clue: VOLUNTARY READERSHIP... an audience that's more than meeting you half way because they LIKE TO READ ADVERTISING in a medium they LIKE.

This explains why the Independent-Journal produces the FASTEST DRAW IN MARIN COUNTY for any kind of retail outlet.

VITAL CIRCULATION IN THE I-J

- Circulation up 9.5% in one year—now 35,271 . . . ABC Publisher's Statement, March 31, 1964.
- More daily circulation in Marin than the S.F. Chronicle and Examiner combined.
- Circulation growing faster than population.
- 95% home delivered.

Mart Declines, But Losses Are Trimmed Before Close

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined again today but losses were cut just before the close.

Trading was sluggish through the session as many blue chips settled to lower levels.

In the final hour, steels began to move up, paced by Jones & Laughlin which tacked on well over a point. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem advanced fractionally.

Volume for the day was estimated at a 4 million shares compared with 4.09 million yesterday.

The trend was generally lower among motors, rubbers, rails, tobaccos, farm implements, chemicals, drugs, electronics, aerospace issues and electrical equipments.

Polaroid was down about 2. Off a point or more were High Voltage Engineering and National Cash Register.

Getty Oil gained more than a point and Tidewater advanced about 2. Control Data added a point and Northwest Airlines more than that.

Losses of around a point were taken also by Eastman Kodak, International Harvester and Consolidated Edison.

Diamond National Leaders Split

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard J. Walters, 34, has resigned as president of Diamond National Corp. in a policy split with his father, who is chairman of the board.

The resignation was announced by the father, William H. Walters, who said he would assume the duties of the president.

The elder Walters said his son's resignation was prompted by "differences of opinion over company policies and procedures."

Air, Rail Cutback Probe Suggested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Recent rail and air service suspensions in California point out the need for a thorough study of the state's transportation needs, Lt. Gox. Glenn M. Anderson declares.

Anderson, as chairman of the California Commission on Interstate Cooperation, Monday asked the legislature's transportation committee chairman to conduct such a study.

He called particular attention to the announcement by United Air Lines that it will suspend San Joaquin Valley operations soon, cutting off its service to such cities as Fresno and Bakersfield.

Valley Food Plant Will Relocate Soon

FRESNO (AP)—The Laura Scudder potato chip plant here will close in September and operations will be moved to a new, larger factory at Tracy.

The Fresno plant employs 140 persons, most of whom will transfer to Tracy.

MARIN MORTGAGE CO., San Rafael announces the placement of $5,000,000 in single family real esate loans in the county during the first half of 1964. Of this amount over $3,000,000 was funded by Western Mortgage Corp., loan correspondent for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

LIVINGSTON JENKS JR.
Made investment officer

LIVINGSTON JENKS JR. of Mill Valley has been promoted from investment analyst to assistant trust department investment officer at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's trust office in San Francisco. He joined the bank two years ago after four years of business and investment experience.

TWO MARIN MEN are slated for promotions at KPIX-TV next month.

Raymond Holtz of Corte Madera has been appointed chief engineer effective Aug. 3. He has been with the television station since 1948, advancing through the engineering ranks to his new job.

Donald E. Lincoln, a technical engineer is being advanced to technical supervisor in mid-August. He has been with KPIX since 1956. He and his wife Marilyn are owners of Dimitroff's Frame Shop, Mill Valley.

S. S. PRICE
Made account manager

PLANNING TO LIVE in San Rafael is Clarence E. Weikel, newly appointed assistant manager of steel erection for Bethlehem Steel Co., Pacific Coast district. His duties will include direct supervision of erection of the Middle Fork Bridge over the Feather River at Oroville, and Bethlehem's new structural steel fabricating works at Pinole Point, Richmond. He has been in the Pittsburgh, Pa. district for the past 10 years.

NEW SALES MANAGER at Marin Sports and Imports, San Rafael, is Saul (Sonny) Rubin, previously in the Canadian imported car field. New service department manager is Robert Downing, former co-owner of a Triumph and B.M.C. agency in Vallejo. World-wide sales of Triumph for the first half of 1964 were 20 per cent higher than during the same period of 1963.

Showdown In Philadelphia—Giants Shoot For Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A pair of teams that sometimes appear to believe that the best way to advance is backwards will tangle tonight for the National League lead.

Philadelphia's league- leading Phillies will entertain the San Francisco Giants, only one-half game behind the pace in second place.

The Phillies planned to send their right - handed ace, Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, to oppose veteran Giants southpaw Billy O'Dell. Bunning carried a 9-4 record into the game, and was 1-0 on the season against San Francisco. O'Dell had a 3-3 overall record and was 1-1 against the Phils.

San Francisco held a 5-4 edge over Philadelphia in their nine games to date, but the Phils had won three straight over the Giants—sweeping their last series at Candlestick Park.

Since that series, neither team has fared particularly well.

Since sweeping the Giants, the Phillies have been able to win only nine of their next 21 games. The Giants recorded a slightly better record, winning 10 of 21.

The Giants hope they have regained their stride after starting their current 18-game road trip by taking two of three games from the Los Angeles Dodgers—including a 5-2 come-from - behind victory over Dodger ace Sandy Koufax Sunday.

Willie Mays, who had hit under .200 in the two weeks preceding Sdnday's game, slammed three hits including a game-winning double.

Hart has hit at a .340 clip since June 2 to raise his average from .238 to .290. He also has 15 homers. Lanier has whacked out two hits in each of his last six games and currently is batting .303.

The veteran left - hander was bombed for 11 earned runs by the Chicago Cubs his last time out and has never regained his previous form after being inury-plagued early in the season.

But Manager Alvin Dark chose O'Dell to open the series —and lefty Bob Hendley to close it after Juan Marichal pitches Wednesday—because of Philadelphia's well - known troubles with southpaws.

Manager Gene Mauch and General Manager John Quinn are well aware that the Phils can be "left" behind if they don't do something about coping with left-hnaded pitchers. They're combing the waiver lists for some right-hand power.

Take the last 20 games for example. The pitcher of record against the Phillies in 14 of these games has been a southpaw. Of the club's last 12 defeats, 10 have been by left-handers.

By tossing in left-handers, the other clubs keep the Phillies predominantly left-hand power on the bench.

What irks Mauch about this lefty business is that it doesn't seem to matter who the pitcher is. It's no disgrace to lose to a Sandy Koufax, but with the Phillies it seems all a pitcher has to do if he throws left is toss his glove on the mound and he's in.

Sunday for example, Gordon Richardson, a 25-year-old rookie making his major league debut, beat them 6-1. Richardson held them hitless for four innings, had a shutout through six and wound up with a five-hitter for the St. Louis Cardinals. In the second game Ray Sadecki, another southpaw, mowed them down 4-1, allowing only five hits. Lefty Curt Simmons beat them Saturday.

Mauch has gone to extremes to get right-hand hitters in the line-up, but still no power. Catcher Gus Triandos played first base Sunday to get more right-hand power into the line-up. It didn't help. Triandos went hitless.

The only consistent right-hand hitter on the club has been rookie third baseman Richie Allen, hitting .313 with 17 home runs.

Clay, Liston Sign For Title Rematch

Independent-Journal Sports

Sept. 28 Target; All Is Hush-Hush

LOUISVILLE, Ky.(AP)—Minus the ballyhoo that usually attends such functions, heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has signed for a rematch this fall with Sonny Liston—the man he dethroned last February.

Although the site and date have not been decided, the 22-year-old champ modestly predicts: "I'm going to make this the greatest fight in history. I have a great many surprises for the next fight—surprises in my prediction, on my strategy and on some trainers I'm bringing in."

He had a surprise yesterday, too, not in the fact he signed with Liston but in the way it happened.

The Louisville Lip, who earned a reputation for a flare for publicity before he won the title Feb. 25 at Miami, Fla., shunned the usual signing promotion. It was hush-hush from the time he signed the contract until the agreement papers were taken to Philadelphia, where Liston signed last night.

MONDAY, SEPT. 28

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said the target date for the fight is Monday, Sept. 28, but that the boxers have agreed only to a meeting sometime between Sept. 15 and Oct. 31.

Clay said he would like to fight in Louisville, but that Las Vegas and Baltimore also are in the running.

He picked his hometown because "I'd like to have the honor of bringing the first heavyweight championship fight to the city where people saw me grow up to become the champion—the greatest."

However, he added, "it's up to the men puttin' on the fight. They're gonna put it where they can get the biggest guarantee—the mostest money. That's what I want, too—the money."

Clay, a bit hefty at 226 pounds, flew to Louisville from his Miami training site for the signing. He said he may do some of his training in Egypt or Ghana—among the places he visited during a recent world tour.

DESERVES CHANCE

Faversham said, "I think this is the right fight—I think Liston deserves the chance. Cassius is very confident that he will keep the title—and that he will take on another top challenger in the spring."

The boxers' camps agreed that a Louisville promoter for the fight will have to guarantee between $300,000 and $350,000 for the boxers.

The contract calls for both fighters to get 30 per cent of the gross receipts. Clay received 22½ per cent and Liston 37½ per cent in the February match.

The fight will be put on by Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., which promoted the first match between the two. Liston had stock in Intercontinental but said he has disposed of it.

Dramatic Duel In Chavez Ravine; Mays Proves He's Still Greatest

Jack Hanley

PHILADELPHIA — This three-game series between the Phillies and the Giants, separated by only a half game in the 1964 National League race, is a crucial one. Neither Gene Mauch nor Alvin Dark need be reminded of that.

But as crucial as the series was, Dark could not help himself on a moment of reflection about the third and final game of the series just completed in Los Angeles between the Giants and Dodgers.

"He is the greates ball player I have ever seen," said the Giant manager.

Dark, of course, was speaking about Willie Mays. There was nothing new in his comment that Mays was the "greatest ball player" he had ever seen. He had said that on many previous occasions.

"It was man-to-man, the greatest southpaw pitcher of the game against the greatest player," said Dark, "and the player, Mays, was the winner."

Dark was referring to the ninth inning drama in Chavez Ravine last Sunday between Sandy Koufax and Mays. It was the 99th game of the season for the Giants and the score was tied 2-2 in the ninth. A pair of Dodger errors had put Koufax in the hole and there were two out.

THERE WAS a Giant runner, Matty Alou on first base, and Mays suddenly found himself behind Koufax on a two strike, no ball count. Willie fouled off three balls, swinging for the fence each time. Then, Koufax went to 2-2 and Mays zeroed in on the Dodger southpaw's next pitch.

It wasn't a homer but just as decisive. It was a rocketing double hat chipped blue paint on the first bounce off the fence in left center—a double that scored Matty, running for Harvey Kuenn, with the winning run.

JIM RAY Hart, the rookie, was to hit a homer after May's double but that merely put the game out of reach of the Dodgers at 5-2. However, everybody in Dodger Stadium knew who had won the game and so did Dark.

"Willie has delivered for us time and again in the clutch," said Dark. "He is all pro. He rises to the occasion. I have seen many dramatic duels between a pitcher and batter but I shall always remember that man-to-man battle between Koufax and Mays.

"It meant the difference of coming into Philadelphia 1½ or just a half game out. And Mays was the difference."

THAT'S WHY the Giants pay Willie $105,000 a year. Without him, they would be just another ball club.

Going into that third and final game with the Dodgers, Mays was 0-for-10 in the series and then suddenly broke loose with a pair of singles and his game-winning double. Those three hits may have been the signal that Mays is off on another streak. If he is, the Giants should win the 1964 pennant in a romp.

LITTLE LEAGUE THRILLERS

All-Stars Open Tourney

Twin Cities, Tiburon Peninsula, Marinwood, Novato and Hamilton-Loma Verde Little League All-Star teams advanced to the quarter-finals of the California District 3 All-Star Tournament with victories yesterday.

The schedule for tonight's quarter-final action, all games scheduled to start at 6 p.m., is: San Geronimo vs. Hamilton-Loma Verde at Hamilton AFB; Marinwood at Novato; Mill Valley American at Sausalito, and Tiburon vs. Twin Cities at Larkspur, that gamet o be aired on Radio Station KTIM.

Twin Cities Wins In 8th

Twin-Cities All-Stars of Larkspur and Corte Madera nipped the Strawberry team 3-2 in an eight-inning thriller at Wagner Field in Larkspur.

The Twin-Cities boys had a 2-0 lead in the sixth and last regulation inning and pitcher Greg DeLong had pitched 5⅓ innings of no-hit, no-run ball while striking out nine. But then the roof caved in on his bid for fame and he gave up two game-tying runs. Phil Brooks came on to relieve DeLong and blanked Strawberry for the next two and two-thirds innings. During that time he whiffed six.

Collecting a total of nine hits off pitcher Bill Schneider who went the distance for Strawberry, Twin-Cities scored the winning run in the bottom of the eighth inning on an error.

DeLong, who gave up the only two Strawberry hits, racked up three hits himself at the plate. Outfielder Roger Smith chipped in with two hits to help the Twin-Cities attack. Twin-Cities scored its first run in the opening frame and added another in the second.

Marinwood 5-4 Winner

A key double by Dewey Forry and heads-up base running by Bruce Dokken broke up a tie ball game in the bottom of the sixth inning and gave Marinwood a 5-4 decision over San Rafael American League stars in a game played in Novato.

Dokken reached first on a fielder's choice in that last inning and then made it to third on Ferry's double. Then Steve McClain bounced one back to the box. Dokken started back to third, but when the pitcher threw to first, he broke for the plate and slid home with the game-winning run.

It was a big blow by Forry who also came out of the game as the winning pitcher, going the route and allowing four hits, three walks and striking out six. Marinwood had a total of six hits, McClain getting two of them.

Novato Wins; Dillon Star

Novato's All-Stars blasted five runs in the opening inning against the shell-shocked Gallinas Valley stars and then coasted home with a 11-5 victory in a high-scoring affair on the Gallinas Valley field.

Russ Dillon, a powerful little fella, knocked in five of the 11 runs on a pair of home runs, the first one a two-run shot in the second inning and the other a three-run blast in the fourth frame.

Glenn Holsclaw was the winning pitcher for Novato, going all the way on the mound. Losing pitcher for Gallinas Valley was John Dohn who started the game but couldn't get an out. He was relieved by Bob Daniele who gave up the other six runs before handing the ball to reliever

Tiburon Nips Mill Valley

Pitchers Greg Ring and Frank Bird combined talents to pitch a two-hitter to lead the Tiburon Peninsula All-Stars to a narrow 2-1 victory over Mill Valley National on Tiburon's Judge Field.

Greg was the starting and winning pitcher, going the first three innings before being relieved by Frank who hurled the final three. Mill Valley losing pitcher Mike Locati allowed four hits, and struck out 10.

3-2 Win For Loma Verde

The Hamilton-Loma Verde Little League stars scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to nip San Rafael National 3-2 in a tight game on the Hamilton Air Force Base diamond.

Larry Caldwell put the San Rafael team in the lead with a two-run homer and the San Rafael stars carried that lead until the fateful last inning when the home team exploded for its three runs.

Bob Weiskotten started for San Rafael but was relieved by the eventual losing pitcher, Larry Brazda, in the fifth inning.

Ron Holmberg Wins

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Ken Venturi Gets Hero's Reception

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Golfer Ken Venturi, his game in tatters and his professional career seemingly near an end just six months ago, came home yesterday to the cheers of his native San Francisco.

The U.S. Open champion, fresh from a victory in the Insurance City Open at Hartford, Conn., was greeted at San Francisco International Airport by a noisy band of more than 200 people.

Then a 30-car cavalcade sped the 33-year-old Venturi and his wife, Conni, to a reception at the Civic Center where Mayor John F. Shelley said:

Shelley and the city's Board of Supervisors presented Venturi with a scroll and a pair of cufflinks bearing the seal of San Francisco.

Then longtime friends of the golfer capped the "Ken Venturi Day" celebration with a banquet at a San Francisco restaurant.

His wife said their excitement was comparable to that following her husband's comeback victory in the U.S. Open.

"I thought we'd settled down a bit after the Open. But this puts us right back in the skies. Ken didn't sleep a wink from looking forward to coming home," she said.

But plagued by physical ills and shaken by doubt, Venturi went without a tournament victory between 1960 and his Open title earlier this year. He confessed he was ready to quit the game just six months before his comeback triumph.

Venturi Now 6th On Money Roster; Nicklaus Leads

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Young Jack Nicklaus' $90,837 winnings continue to keep him in front among Professional Golfers Association moneymakers with a solid $10,000 lead over Arnold Palmer.

Palmer has won $80,693 for second place while Tony Lema is third with $66,778 and Billy Casper is fourth with $60,846.

Nicklaus has won three of the 17 tournaments he played in this year while Palmer won two of 18 and Lema three oof2 .

THE LITTLE LEAGUE STRIKES BACK

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Little League Baseball, Inc. took issue yesterday with pitcher Joey Jay of the Cincinnati Reds, who criticized organized baseball program for youngsters.

"By his ill considered comments, Jay has not enhanced his own image as the first former Little Leaguer to go to the major leagues," said Robert H. Stirrat, Little League director of public relations.

Jay was quoted in an interview Friday as saying he intended to discourage his son from participating in the Little League program.

"I was amazed to find . . . they have what they call a Little League farm group in which my 7-year-old son, Stephan, could play. . . . That is far too young for organized training in something that is supposed to be fun," Jay was quoted.

Jay said he also felt parental involvement was a stumbling block for a young boy playing in the Little Leagues.

Stirrat said there was no record at Little League headquarters here that Jay's son "is now or ever has been a member of a Little League farm team."

"The parental situation to which he referred," Stirrat said, "does not take place in Little League. It is ironic that more than 200 youngsters in his home city of Middletown, Conn., participate in a highly successful and scrupulsously conducted Little League farm team program that bears his name."

Stirrat added:

"As a member of a major league team, Jay cannot justify his ignorance of the great numbers of former Little Leaguers now coming into organized baseball. This year there were Little League grads on the roster of every major league club and currently more than 300 such yonug men are under contract to teams in organized baseball."

49ers Trim Three Rookies

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, down to 56 players after their first squad cut, returned to heavy training drills today.

Cut from the squad yesterday were three rookies — halfback Ken Ballard from Riverside Junior College and linebackers Gene Baker of Whitworth College and Ted Freeman of San Francisco State.

Baker was San Francisco's 20th draft choice this year. Freeman and Ballard were free agents.

The 49ers can carry only 40 players when the National Football League season opens.

New Forces Breaking Up Bigtime Golf's Big Three

(First in a Series)
By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Professional golf's Big Three, which Jack Nicklaus a year ago threatened to convert into a Big Me, suddenly has developed into a Big We.

The four major pro championships of 1964 now have been decided and of the so-called Big Three—Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player— only Palmer, the Masters winner, came away with one of the choice plums.

Nicklaus, although the season's leading money collector, went 0-for-4 and failed to qualify for the $100,000 World Series of Golf, which he had won two years in a row. Player never seriously threatened in any of the four big championships.

New forces are making themselves felt in bigtime golf. New faces— one of them, at least, an old face re-emerging from the shadows of obscurity— have moved in to challenge Nicklaus, Palmer and Player.

One of them is the lean, serious face of Ken Venturi, 33, who slew the ghosts of past failures and frustrations in winning the U.S. Open last month in Washington's stifling heat.

Another is the puckish face of Champagne Tony Lema, 30, conqueror of cranky, old St. Andrews in his first try in the British Open and the most colorful figure the sport has produced since Walter Hagen.

A third is the fresh, baby face of Bobby Nichols, 28, who performed golfing miracles for four days in leading the PGA Championship through every round. He captured the imagination of the nation by the way he stood off the constant pressure of Palmer and Nicklaus.

As winners of major championships, Venturi, Lema and Nichols qualify to oppose Palmer, on old hand, in the scramble for the $50,000 first prize in the World Series of Akron, Sept. 12-13.

"This is very healthy for golf generally," said Jim Gaquin, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers Association, discussing the even distribution of the four big titles.

"The emergence of the so-called Big Three did a lot to stimulate the game and we can't knock it. But it created an awkward situation.

"Sponsors began to feel that their tournaments were a failure if they couldn't get Palmer, Nicklaus and Player—or at least one of them. The players on the tour became a little upset. They felt that there were any number of men capable of winning the big tournaments and that too much publicity was given the Big Three.

"This year's developments tend to prove that golf is not dominated by a small handful. We all think it's a good sign."

Since 1958, Palmer has won four Masters, the Open and the British Open. Nicklaus, at 24, has joined such immortals as Gene Sarazen, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson as the only players to win all three of America's major pro crowns—the Masters, Open and PGA. Player has won the Masters and PGA and become the only foreigner to lead the money winning list.

Although shut out this year from a major title, Nicklaus, suffering a tendency to start with a bad round, has rallied to finish third in the Masters and second in both the British Open and PGA. He is currently the leading money winner with $90,-864.76, followed by Palmer, with $80,693.37.

But golf fans are buzzing over a new Big Three—Venturi, Lema and Nichols. How good are they? Can they last?

(Tomorrow: Ken Venturi.)

MAJOR LEAGUES

Yanks, Cincy Win In Only Contests

By MURRAY CHASS
Asosicated Press Sports Writer

Suddenly they can't score against Ralph Terry.

Terry, a right-handed veteran, came through a personally crucial situation last night like Perry Mason sails through court cases.

Making his first start since June 10 when he last won, Terry pitched his first shutout of the season as the Yankees stopped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and increased their American League lead to one game.

Cincinnati bombed Milwaukee 11-2 in the National League in the only other game played.

It was at the start of this month that Terry's temporary downfall began. Pitching in relief against Kansas City July 1, the 28-year-old Yankee gave up a game-winning home run to Bill Bryan in the 11th inning.

Two days later, the situation was similar: Terry came on in relief in the 10th inning, taking over for Stan Williams, who had held Minnesota scoreless through the first nine innings.

Unfortunately for Terry, the result also was similar: Don Mincher slugged a triple and Jerry Snyder followed with a sacrifice fly for a 1-0 Twins' victory.

SERIES STAR

Certainly, Terry must have thought, it wasn't like this in the 1962 World Series when he was the pitching star.

Finally, after allowing two runs in two innings of relief July 5, Terry was rewarded with a two-week rest.

Since that time, however, he hasn't permitted a run in 17 innings. First came three relief appearances totaling eight innings, then a promotion out of the bullpen.

Terry, now 3-8, shut out the Angels on seven hits, not letting a runner get past second base. The performance sent his earned run average to 5.18, the first time it's been under 6.00 since mid-May.

Terry received all of the support he needed from Elston Howard and Roger Maris. Howard doubled home Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone, who had singled, in the second. Maris clouted his 15th homer in the third.

Jim Maloney pitched and helped bat the Reds to their victory under coach Dick Sisler. Sisler took over for Manager Fred Hutchinson, who remained in Cincinnati for further hospital tests. Hutchinson is suffering from chest cancer.

Maloney scattered six hits, picking up his 10th triumph in 19 decisions. He singled in the first run of a five-run fifth inning and batted in another run with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly. He also singled in the fifth.

No Further Expansion At This Time, Says NFL Head

ATLANTA (AP)—Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League said yesterday the NFL has no plans for expansion at the present time.

Rozelle told the Atlanta Constitution that all present franchises appear to be firmly entrenched. At the same time he said he did not want to be too pessimistic about Atlanta's chances to enter the league.

"Generally speaking, Atlanta with a new stadium would have to be considered an attractive city for an NFL franchise," he said.

"At this time, however, we have no plans to explore cities toward possible expansion," he said by telephone from New York. "The prevailing feeling is that our two new clubs, Minnesota and Dallas, needed more time to become more competitive before expansion is seriously approached."

Atlanta lost a chance Sunday for an NFL franchise when the St. Louis Cardinals decided to remain in that city.

Rozelle said, however, that many NFL clubs believe the league could operate advantageously with 16 teams instead of the present 14.

"Many clubs, possibly even a majority, feel that fan interest would be better with 16 teams," Rozelle said. "We could divide into two eight-team conferences, likely the East and West, and then slice each of these into four-team divisions.

"This way, no club would finish lower than fourth in its division, and you would eliminate the situation we now have of one team in each division finishing seventh."

Rozelle pointed out that a majority is not enough to approve expansion or transfer of a franchise. Twelve of the 14 teams must approve.

DISTRAUGHT BEARS

Season Dedicated To Willie And Bo

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The Chicago Bears, defending National Football League champions, have dedicated the 1964 season to teammates Willie Galimore and John Bo Farrington, who were killed in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Owner-Coach George Halas suggested to his squad in training at St. Joseph's College this would be the greatest honor which could be bestowed upon them. The players pledged to carry it through.

Galimore, a halfback and one of the most feared runners in the league, and Farrington, a pass-catching end, were fatally injured when thrown from their skidding small car on an unmarked sharp turn on a country road two miles west of camp.

Funeral services were to be held this morning with all the Bears and coaches in attendance, as well as Galimore's widow, Audrey, who arrived from their home in Tallahassee, Fla.

She has three children, Ronnie, 7, Fawngreta 5, and Marlon 4.

Farrington's widow, Vivian, was in such a state of shock in Houston that she could not travel. They were married last March.

The bodies will be sent to their home cities for burial.

The Bears were so stunned by the tragedy that all seemed in a daze yesterday. A light workout was held in the afternoon with the players going through the motions like robots.

"We will put on full uniforms and try to have a hustling practice Tuesday afternoon," said Halas. "I know that Monday was the saddest day in Bear history. Something like this reaches the heart and makes everything else seem petty.

"It is going to take a great deal of will power to carry on. I know we all can do it. Later this week we will have a scrimmage, our last one before the All-Star game Aug. 7."

'Eagle' Returns To Winning Form

Constellation broke American Eagle's winning streak of 15 races Sunday with a 29-second victory.

Skippered by William Cox, American Eagle came in ahead of Constellation, Nefertiti, Easterner and the British Trial horse Norsaga in that order yesterday.

Novato Sailing Club Seeks New Members

As part of a membership drive, the Novato Sailing Club will hold an open sailing day next Sunday at noon at the Black Point ramp, it was announced today.

The club, at its last meeting, voted to hold the event to host all interested persons, with or without sailboats, to a day of sailing around the Black Point area.

State Hunting Deadlines Coming; Slight Drop For Salmon Trollers

STEVENS

If you happen to belong to a duck club I remind you that Migratory Game Bird Feeding Licenses are now renewable for the coming year. Don't forget that the deadline for applications is Friday, Aug. 15 and you must include $25.

I remind you also that should you have a son under 18 years of age he must have a certificate of competence of Hunter Safety Training or a prior year's California hunting license to qualify for a 1964 hunting license.

And don't forget that Aug. 3rd is the deadline date for applying for the antelope hunt and that only a person 18 years old or older may apply. If your name is drawn there will be a $7 permit fee. If your yen is for a shot at a Roosevelt Elk in Humboldt County you still have time as the deadline is Oct. 15.

You have until Aug. 26 to make application for the Tule Elk hunt in Inyo County and there is a $25 permit fee for successful drawing for either of these elk.

SO MUCH for the hunters; now a word or two anent fish.

Salmon trolling made a slight drop over the past weekend. Many of the boats had under a half dozen fish. However, from Caruso's place at Sausalito comes word that the Jenny C took 26 salmon to 28 pounds southwest of the Lightship and the K.W. boated 15 to 31 pounds. From Lee Anderson's I learned that the Privateer No. 2 had one salmon of 22 pounds but netted a large number of rock fish, the Lucky Day had only two salmon to 26 pounds and the Phil Ray seven to 16 pounds. Among the few salmon taken by the boats working out of Lee Anderson's place there was at least one beautiful 37 pounder.

I note late evening trollers working out of Dowrellio's Crocket Harbor have done fairly well. The Happy Days No. 2 unloaded 33 bass to 17 pounds and the Dowrellio 6 had 10 to 16 pounds. Also reported was the boat RSP accounted for six stripers to 20 pounds off Alcatraz.

'Hutch' Hospitalized; Reds Solemn, Loyal

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Cincinnati Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson has countless thousands pulling for him in his fight with cancer, but there are few more loyal, or solemn, rooters than his Reds in their daily battle for the National League pennant.

The third-place Reds flew to Milwaukee in charge of coach Dick Sisler yesterday after Hutchinson entered Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for "tests" expected to take several days.

The Reds were reluctant to talk about their manager's illness as they opened a three-game series with an 11-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Typical comment included: "Sure hope he's back soon ... hate to hear it ... that's too bad. He's a great guy as well as a great manager."

Sisler said that the 44-year-old Hutchinson complained of back pains and decided to check into the hospital when he awakened after a Sunday doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

Hutchinson, a former major league pitcher, was stricken with cancer in the upper chest several months ago. The illness was disclosed when he checked into the Tumor Institute in Swedish Hospital at Seattle, Wash., last January.

"We're all pulling hard for him," Sisler said. "The players, of course, all know of his condition, but they don't like to talk about it. They respect him and like him and are trying their level best to win to ease his problems.

"They're giving everything in their power. If there's such a thing as second effort, they're giving it. There's no way of telling for sure what goes through an athlete's mind, but I think they're trying harder."

Surgery For Ted Williams

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams—last of the .400 hitters and first on the player casualty lists—will undergo surgery at New England Baptist Hospital today.

The retired Boston Red Sox slugger was told yesterday he had to have an operation to relieve pressure on a nerve caused by a ruptured disc.

Williams has been a patient at the hospital since July 12 and in traction much of the time.

The spinal problem is not new for the six-time former American League batting champion with 521 lifetime home runs. He has previously been hospitalized and in traction although the fact was not generally known.

Jockey Gilligan Suffers Broken Back At Hollypark

Gilligan was thought at first to have escaped with bruises. But he complained of back pains and an X-ray showed a compression fracture of the sixth vertebra. He'll be out of action four to six months, but should recover completely, doctors said.

Delgado, a 17-1 long shot, was within a stride of finishing third yesterday when he went down.

Delgado didn't cross the wire, but Gilligan—flying through the air—did.

The track physician said Gilligan would be hospitalized about two weeks and then released, wearing a brace.

Twins Give Mele Confidence Vote

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Owner Calvin Griffith of the Minnesota Twins reaffirmed his confidence in Manager Sam Mele yesterday despite a slump that has seen the Twins sink from a pennant contender to sixth place in the American League.

Griffith, who earlier had said Mele would finish the season, repeated that he is giving "no consideration" to a managerial change.

MARIN'S PRO BALL PLAYERS

Cimoli In Minor League; Boccabella Still Slumps

Gino Cimoli, former San Francisco baseball star who now lives in Tiburon, batted .333 his first week with Rochester, N. Y., of the Class AAA International League after being sent to the farm club by the Baltimore Orioles of the American League.

The outfielder had three singles in nine at bats for the first week with Rorchester, according o Player Pteriscope of Novao. He also had one run batted in.

JOHN BOCCABELLA of San Anselmo, the other Marinite playing Triple-A ball, batted .212 in the last reported week of action with Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League, top farm team of the Chicago Cubs. The first baseman had a homer, triple, a double and four singles in 33 at bats. He also had four more RBI's.

The performance cost 3 points from his average which sagged to .235 (89 for 378). In the power department, Boc has 18 homers, 7 triples, and 14 doubles, has 54 runs batted in and 49 runs scored.

GERRY ARD of Fairfax, bonus rookie with Modesto of the Class A California League, signed by the Houston Colts, lost two points from his batting mark for the week when he got 6 safeties in 27 at bats. He knocked in three and scored one run himself to push his season's total to 32 RBIs and 31 runs scored.

He is now at .238 (71 for 298) with two triples and seven doubles. He has been holding down the shortstop position for Modesto throughout the season.

RON COLE of Mill Valley, pitcher for the same Modesto team, appeared in one game for the past reported week and lasted five innings to get stung with the loss. He allowed eight hits, two walks and struck out one.

His season record is now 10-6 and his earned run average is 3.57 for 22 games and 116 innings. He has been tapped for 110 hits and 45 bases on balls and has whiffed 92.

HANK SAUER: FOR SPECIAL JOBS

By SCOTT BAILLIE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—So he smashed 41 home runs one season and now they've got him pitching batting practice.

Sounds like a sore of a letdown, doesn't it But not when you're talking about Henry (Hank) Sauer, the gruff-looking long ball crasher of other years in the National League, who now is a scout on "special assignments" for the San Francisco Giants.

At 11:30 in the morning, he can be found grooving the ball down the middle at batting practice for youngsters who need help on their hitting and veterans who want to park one over the barrier.

Come game time, and the old "Honker" is headed toward the private box of club president Horace Stoneham, overcoat over one arm and looking very "carriage trade" once he's out of the grimy flannels.

"The Giants send me around to their various farm clubs where I work with youngsters on their hitting," Sauer said the other day as he relaxed in the dugout. "And during home games I sit a lot with Mr. Stoneham talking about players and baseball in general. And I'll tell you, fellah, he knows more about the game than a lot of baseball people."

Hal Lanier, son of ex-pitcher Max Lanier, whom Sauer frequently faced during the 1950s, is one batter who paid heed to Hank's advice and belted a three-run homer.

"Sauer showed me how to hit out there, even though I'm a righthanded batter," Lanier said. "I do better when I hit to right. He showed me how to wait a ilttle longer on a pitch before taking a swing."

Sauer became an institution at Chicago for six and one-half seasons. He won the league's Most Valuable Player award in 1952 after hitting 37 homers and driving across 121 runs. In 1954 he enjoyed his season high of 41 blasts.

Sauer was with the Giants when they moved from New York to San Francisco in 1958 and he closed out his career, mainly as a pinch-hitter, a year later.

"You know it's time to retire when you try to beat out a grounder and feel as if you were running on your knees," the 45-year-old veteran said.

Then it was Sauer's turn to pitch in batting practice. There was a welcoming whoop from the Giants. Willie Mays, who robbed him of many an extra base hit a decade ago, gave him a playful swipe in the pants with a bat.

"Here comes Honk!" chortled Orlando Cepeda. "Now we sock the long ball!"

Outstanding Boy In Swimming Meet

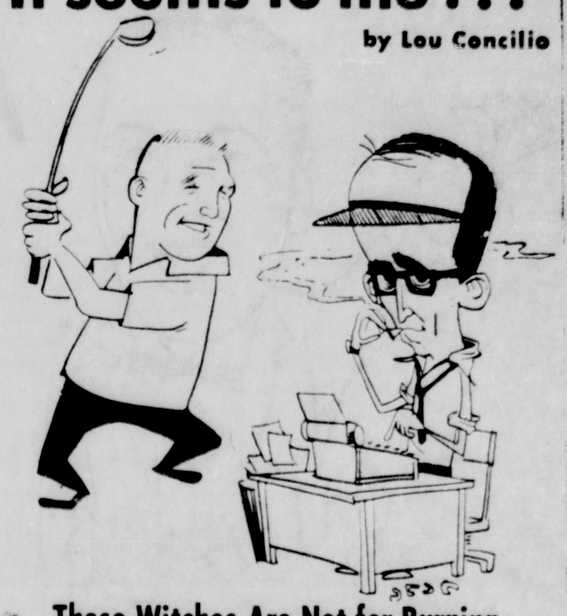
by Lou Concilio



These Witches Are Not for Burning

A few brief centuries ago, in and around picturesque old Salem, we are told a favorite sport of the townspeople was watching occasional witches' barbecues. The witches, I suspect, were not intriqued over their selection as the main attraction. With so little diversion otherwise available, aside from chasing turkeys and being chased by Indians, the early settlers might be partially forgiven for their weird tastes in entertainment. Boredom can be deadly.

Today, of course, both the witches and the townspeople have become civilized. So, fire is out. Passive resistance is more chic. Besides, our witches no longer employ the boiling cauldron, the bats' wings, the chants, and the rituals. Far more effective weapons are too easily available, and propelled by jet, wire, and horsepower, mechanical version, more victims can be attacked much more quickly. Today, the weapons of our hep witches are the pen and the tongue.

Character assassination has become the chief occupational activity of so many, it is almost safer to leave a filled purse on the sidewalk than risk a personal reputation to the light of day—or the dark of night. This activity is all the more frightening, since the first shot or barb need only touch the intended target. The weapon of the lie, half-truth, and inuendo, is then quickly passed from one set of eager lips to another, each, in turn, anxious to fire away with no concern over the whys of the matter.

If you think old Lou is reaching pretty far to wax poetic, recall the last bit of gossip or juicy item you listened to. And then, try to remember how much time elapsed before you grabbed an ear to re-tell this enticing bit of news. You edited the story a bit, too, didn't you? Needed a little color to add interest, like a pinch of just the right spice to the casserole. Another poor guy or woman, who never knew what hit him or her!

And, what has all this to with the price of butter, or the fortunes of Ames Ford, for that matter? Considerable. Regretfully. Occasionally—thankfully less and less frequently—we are still criticized for the unenlightened policies of the absentee owners of Ames Ford during the years prior to 1959. For some, again thankfully only a small percentage of our wonderful people of Marin, it seems impossible to accept the certain fact that Doug Cowan and I are completely responsible for operating Ames Ford, and have been so responsible, since early in 1959.

It seems impossible for this small segment to accept the also certain fact we, Doug and I, answer to no absentee owner; that we live in this County; that our policies are determined and implemented only after the most conscienteous consideration of creating the very best public image; that our entire fortunes are "married" irrevocably to Ames Ford, and to no outside interest or ventures; that our confidence in our own business acumen, coupled with a healthy respect for the intelligence of the people of Marin, naturally dictates we would not operate on a "fast buck" theory.

We have come so very far in our drive to convince the people of Marin that Ames Ford is an upstanding and outstanding business, operated on an admitted profit-making basis, with complete integrity. We have come far, but not far enough. We still have to reach the isolated areas where doubts persist, where long memories of pre-Doug Cowan ownership and direction crop up, where an uninvited "expert" will safely brag of the "better deal" he could have gotten for you, after you've purchase your car from Ames Ford.

Some of our "competition" would rather join the minority wailing chorus against "that Ames Ford crowd", than investigate and thereby discover the truth. It is even possible a way or two to mend their own fences might be discovered in the process. We invite these dealers and any other doubter to talk to an Ames customer who has had an occasion to fault his transaction with us. If he came in to talk it over with old Lou or Doug, the "County Patsy", I'll bet he wasn't unhappy when he left. We do make mistakes, sometimes; we try to correct them, always, if we're told about them.

Commander's Wife Suits Role

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Graciousness and friendliness seem to be attributes of wives of the commanders at Hamilton Air Force Base and Mrs. Ralph M. Wanderer Jr. is no Exception.

Mrs. Wanderer, wife of Col. Wanderer, the new base commander, already has a host of friends at the base and in the area as Col. Wanderer has been deputy for personnel, 28th Air Division Headquarters for the past two years. The new position will not necessitate moving from their lovely home on the hill at Hamilton.

WHILE VISITING the University of Montana, Mrs. Wanderer of Helena, Mont. met her future husband, who belonged to the same fraternity as her brother. In 1940 they were married at the Presidio in San Francisco when Col. Wanderer was a newly graduated cadet.

His first tour of duty as a second lieutenant was in Hawaii and his young bride accompanied him to the Islands, where they were stationed at the time of the disaster on Dec. 7, 1941. "No one was hurt in the homes at Hickam, but it still leaves one speechless to see the barracks where the boys were housed that day. The barracks have been left with all the many shell holes in them," Mrs. Wanderer said.

Returning to the mainland, Mrs. Wanderer for a time worked as a secretary at Hamilton. The Wanderers were united in 1943 and since then have been stationed at various bases here and overseas. While in Guam, Mrs. Wanderer began painting in oil specializing in landscapes, and her home now has several of these paintings. Flower arranging, cooking and sewing are also among the hobbies of the new commander's wife.

Mrs. Wanderer is a busy mother of four. The Wanderer children are Ken, 20, who will major in political science at the University of Oklahoma this fall; Ralph, III, "Buzz", 18, is a sophomore at College of Marin, manager of the Lucas Valley pool this summer; Barbara, 15, a junior at Terra Linda and Christina, 6, who will be a first grader at Meadow Park School this fall.

Proud Mother, Mrs. Wanderer pointed out that Barbara was a great help to her, and when it is necessary for her to be away from the home, Barbara can take over any of the household duties, including the cooking. "And she is a very good cook," Mrs. Wanderer commented.

Barbara is particularly looking forward to school this fall as she will have an "adopted sister" for the school term. Brigette Hedel, a young French girl from Orleans, France will spend the school year with the Wanderers and will attend Terra Linda High School as a senior under the American Field Service program. Mrs. Wanderer and Barbara are busy adding personal touches to the bedroom. Brigette will have.

The petite Mrs. Wanderer will be busy this year, not only entertaining at home, but as advisor to the Officers' Wives Council and other honorary appointments as the base commander's wife.

BEAUTIFULLY ARRANGED flowers and paintings grace the Wanderer home, both hobbies of Mrs. Wanderer, shown putting the final touches on an arrangement of gladioli. In the background is an original landscape in oil, painted by Mrs. Wanderer.

BARBARA AND Mrs. Wanderer discuss pictures that will be mounted on brightly colored burlap to add personal touches to the room they are readying for their guest for the coming school year, Brigette Hedel of Orleans, France. Brigette will be spending the year with the Wanderers under the American Field Service program at Tera Linda High School.

FROM PARIS: SOFT BULK FUR FACINGS

PARIS (AP)—Soft bulk and fur facings characterized the two collections that got Paris fall and winter fashion showings started.

Jacques Esterel drew from sheepskin flyers' jackets for big-shouldered coats with jutting collars and "leather" seamings. Ferrera's look was slimmer, and seemed inspired by light, quilted Chinese costumes. He used many frog and toggle closings.

In Monday's showings, Esterel did flyers' coats in wide-wale beige corduroy, pink gabardine, white brocade, and pale blue suede. Devil-may-care mink collars jutted out from the evening numbers. Dresses underneath were slim, belted pullover sweater types.

Ferreras' look was essentially slim and tubular. Soft smock coats, shirred at the neck and shirt-cuffed sleeves were an exception. Dresses were belted sweater tunics in soft crepes, or skimmy stiff silk tubes, closest just under the bosom and flipping out in a tiny trumpet hem.

Both houses showed long-jacket suits. Esterel's were straight over low, flippy pleats. Ferreras' were more fitted, worn with slim skirts.

Flat bands of fur, beaver or mink were used in both collections. Esterel put fur cuffs and ruffs on his long-line sweater dresses and suits.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Luncheons, Parties Continue For Debs

MRS. GEORGE Faulkner of Novato will give a luncheon Thursday in the Admiral's Cabin at Trader Vic's to honor her debutante daughter, Judith Kern. Fifteen Marin debs — the rest are on vacation — will attend, along with Mrs. Faulkner's mother, Mrs. E. L. Stephenson of Pasadena who arrived last night to spend the rest of the summer and part of the fall with the Faulkners.

Also in attendance will be Judith's aunts, Mrs. Douglas Faulkner of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Harry McVean of Sausalito and her sister, Kathy Kern. Mrs. Faulkner plans arrangements of tea leaves and gardenias for the flower theme. A Trader Vic Polynesian salad will be served.

JUDITH KERN

KATHLEEN DUFFICY

ON AUG. 12, Kathleen Dufficy will be honored at an informal swim party and barbecue at the San Rafael home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Rafael Dufficy Jr. Most of the debs are expected back from their vacations in time to attend.

PLANNING A late-summer trip to Aix en Provence, France, to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Jan and Louis Toulon, are Mr. and Mrs. John Gilman of Ross. It will be their third trip to that country and their second time to see their infant grandson, David.

Their daughter Jan, after graduating from the Katharine Branson School, went to the University of Oregon for a year, but as a former exchange student, she longed for further travel. Her second year of college, then, was spent at the University of Marseille in Southern France, a few miles from Aix en Provence. Here she met Louis who came to Ross at the end of the school year to meet the Gilmans and to marry Jan.

Aix en Provence, said Mrs. Gilman, is a beautiful old French city near the Riviera with narrow, cobbled streets and low buildings. Jan loves it and is so affluent at the language that only French is spoken in the Toulon household.

Jan was an exchange student with the American Field Service in 1959, spending a summer in Greece.

SINCE THEY intend annual trips to France, the Gilmans vary each trip. On their first trip three years ago, they flew directly to Copenhagen and drove from Jan's home to Geneva. On their second trip, their main point of interest was Paris. This year they will fly to London for the first time and tour England before going on to Aix en Provence. Renting a car, they will also drive back to Switzerland, this time to see Zurich.

MRS. DONN BOLTHOUSE of Mill Valley reports she hears regularly from the William Pomeroys who are on a two-year round-the-world tour on their motor sailer the "Nereus." Mrs. Bolthouse, who assists Frances Styles at the Pomeroys' Art Gallery in San Francisco with 17th and 18th century antiques imported from England, is also helping manage affairs at the gallery while the Pomeroys are gone. The Pomeroys and their daughter, Pinkie and sons, John and Bill are on their way to the Scandinavian countries and have most recently gone to Poland, through the Holland canals and up the Rhine in Germany. In the fall John will return to the Monterey Language Institute; Bill will attend the Colorado School of Mines and Pinkie will be in her junior year at the University of Colorado.

Seaside Community Readies For Bazaar

Bolinas will hold its 18th annual Bazaar and Rummage Sale on Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Bolinas Community Center.

As in the past, four organizations are participating in the work and in the proceeds. These are Calvary Presbyterian Church, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, St. Aidan's Episcopal Church and the Bolinas Community Center. The chairmen and co-chairmen respectively are Mesdames Sherman Smith and James Dougan, Joseph Silveira Jr., and Anthony Teixeira, J. B. Lowe, Remington Wood and Malcolm Perry, and A. E. Humrickhouse.

LUNCHEON will be served on the first day of the sale and sandwiches and coffee will be available on the second day.

The hours of the sale will be Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, noon to 4 p.m., and Monday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In addition to books, clothes, kitchenware, and appliances there will be locally made artifacts, "treasures" gathered at the beach, and plants raised by Bolinas gardeners.

SETTING UP displays for the sale which is now in its 18th year are Mesdames James Dugan, left, and William Ott. Four organizations in the seaside community participate in the event. Luncheon will be served on the first day of the bazaar and sale.

Mrs. Albert Nelson Feted By Sons On 85th Birthday

Forty-two guests attended a dinner party at the Deer Park Villa in honor of the 85th birthday of Mrs. Albert Nelson of Fairfax. The party was cohosted by her sons, Carl E. Nelson of Whittier, Calif. and Herbert A. Nelson of Redwood City.

An orchid corsage was presented to Mrs. Nelson from her sons and a "money tree" was a gift from the guests. Four generations were represented at the party with two-year-old James Lamb of Whittier the youngest great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson moved to Fairfax from San Francisco in 1908 with their two sons. They built the family home on Bolinas Road and occupied it in 1909. Mr. Nelson was in the hardwood floor business for many years. He died in 1938. Mrs. Nelson still resides in the family home.

A Credit Card For 'Her' Only Now

NEW YORK (UPI)—A special credit card called "Hers" has been introduced by Carte Blanche; whose general credit cards are honored by more than 100,000 businesses.

It's said to be the first notional credit card designed exclusively for women and it's daintily printed in pink and gold.

Fur Lined Fall

Another fall season of fur line and fur trims is on its way. The New York coat and suit firm of Marquise, for instance, lines numerous coats and suit jackets with sable-dyed skunk, raccoon, black nutria, mink and other animal pelts. One trousered suit —pants cut much like a man's except they are cuffless—came with jacket lined in raccoon.

ADMIRING POT HOLDERS and aprons are Mesdames Sherman Smith and Joseph Silveira. The goods for the sale are gathered all year and stored in a building erected for that purpose—and they come not only from Bolinas, but from all the North Bay counties.

Sunlight And Heat Cause Fabrics To Lose Strength

Have you ever washed a pair of seemingly good curtains, only to have them split and fall apart? Sunlight and heat cause fabrics to lose strength. Often the deterioration doesn't show up until they are washed or dry cleaned. Moisture and chemical fumes in the air add to the problem of "sun-rotting," announces Virginia Porter, Marin County home advisor.

Several factors that affect the fate of deterioration are; 1) the size of the yarns; 2) the brightness or dullness; 3) the thickness of the fabric; 4) the fiber content.

Fabrics made of very fine yarns are more sensitive to sunlight and heat than those made of larger yarns of the same fiber. Dull yarns deteriorate faster than bright, lustrous yarns. The more the individual fiber is exposed, as in an open weave, the faster the fabric loses strength.

The most resistant fibers are: glass, saran, acrylic and polyester fibers. Cotton, linen, bright acetate, bright nylon and bright rayon offer good resistance to sunlight and heat; but do not rate as well as the first group. Least resistant are: dull acetate, dull nylon, dull rayon and silk.

Recently, a new type of dull acetate has been developed which offers even better sunlight resistance than bright acetate. It is called Estron SLR (sunlight resistant), and compares favorably with cotton.

How long should you expect window fabrics to last? The National Institute of Drycleaner's national fair claims guide for consumer textile products sets life expectancy as follows: sheer curtains and draperies, 3 years; unlined draperies, 4 years; lined draperies, 5 years.

This is just a general guide, says Mrs. Porter, it doesn't mean that a fabric won't last longer. Life service depends to a great extent upon the amount of sunlight exposure involved. (Even silk will give long service where sunlight is minimal.) Regular cleaning can prolong the life of the window fabric, too, she said.

Norell Answers

What to wear in winter's stormy weather? Norman Norell offers the chic answer. The New York designer produced for fall his weather coats treated to take rain or snow but looking like a regular coat—not a hint of raincoat styling. These went over slim pastel jersey dresses plus jersey stockings in matching shades. Typical: pale blue jersey dress with pale blue hose.

'Why Don't They?' Non Ending Query

TOLEDO, Ohio, (UPI) — Those women are at it again—pestering the manufacturers with suggestions for improving their products.

For instance, why not make muffin tins that could be removed from the frame for easy cleaning and space - saving storage? Or, why don't "they" stop printing the price on greetings cards? It's like giving a gift with the price attached.

These were some of the newest "why don't they?" suggestions submitted by housewives to National Family Opinion, Inc., a consumer research firm which says it lists 85,000 part-time homemaker consultants.

Other suggestions:

WHY DON'T they package brown sugar in re-usable plastic containers? Storage would be simplified and hard, lumpy brown sugar would no longer plague the housewife.

WHY DON'T they develop a product that actually will remove spots and imbedded soil from drip dry fabrics? Heavily soiled synthetics, and some pure cotton drip dry materials, are difficult to wash successfully because both soil and stains resist treatment.

WHY DON'T they do something about tags and stickers on products. Trying to clean off the glue without scratching or other product damage is almost impossible.

Rita Dierker Is Engaged To Richard D. Kincaide

Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Dierker of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Rita Marie, to Richard David Kincaide of Fairfax.

The bride-elect was graduated from St. Peter's High School in Mansfield, Ohio, and is employed with the Western Communications Region at Hamilton Air Force Base. She is the sister of Annett, Frances and William Dierker of Novato and Paul Dierker of East Lansing, Mich.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Kincaide of Fairfax, was graduated from the University of California where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and is affiliated with Beta Gamma Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. He is employed as a manufacturer's agent. Kay Kincaide of Fairfax and Mrs. Harold Bruce of San Luis Obispo are his sisters.

A double wedding with the bride-elect's sister, Frances, will be solemnized on Oct. 3 at Our Lady of Loretto Church.

Chapels Give Reno New Reputation

Reno, long called the "divorce capital of the world," has become also the center of a multi-million dollar industry at the opposite end of the spectrum.

In fact, marriage licenses outnumber divorce decrees five to one. But the around-the-clock marriage industry is not overflowing with bliss.

FOR THE ORGANIZED clergy has accused wedding chapel operators of "degrading and commercializing the marriage rite." The operators, most themselves ministers, reply that denominational preachers are angry "because they feel we are cashing in on something."

Chapels dot Reno. They offer 24-hour non-denominational services with plastic bridal bouquets for those who don't want fresh flowers, piped-in music, limousine service and witnesses. The standard minimum is $15.

WHY RENO? Because it is easy to obtain a marriage license—no blood tests or waiting period. It's uncomplicated by red tape and inexpensive. The justice of the peace is across the street from the license bureau, or two blocks away there's a wedding chapel.

The bureau issued 23,361 marriage licenses last year. The courts granted 4,366 divorces and the ratio has been climbing steadily for almost 10 years.

BUT THERE is a three-way battle over matrimony. The chapel operators don't like the Washoe County Ministerial Association, they don't like each other, and the clergy opposes the chapels.

"We try to stay away from commercializing it," said the Rev. George Flint, the full-time minister of one chapel. "But there's as much cut-throat business among wedding chapels as there is in any other business in this city."

"CHAPELS FEEL misunderstood because many denominational churches frown upon the necessary need to charge a definite fee," he said. "Or because they feel we are cashing in on something that is here."

But the Rev. Eugene Duncan, president of the ministerial association, charged that "some of their setups are nothing but front organizations and very questionable."

"We are not a bit concerned about the money. None of our churches are depending on marriage money for their operation anyway," Duncan said.

HE EXPLAINED that under Nevada law, a wedding chapel must operate with an ordained minister and qualify as a religious organization with a three-member board of directors. Duncan said that a group may organize, hire a non-denominational minister or ordain a minister itself and go into the wedding chapel business.

Duncan said the association in 1948 adopted a code of ethics in which members agreed they "would not be a party to the commercialization of marriage."

Duncan said the private chapels "often are nothing but a front organization that met the requirements of the law. There is no way the government can control it because of the separation of church and state."

"THE CHURCHES are antagonistic toward us because their ministers are tip conscious," said an operator of one of Reno's largest chapels. "Many churches are also too busy and they can't handle the people. Some have a three-day waiting period and that isn't going to suit someone who comes from California, Oregon or Washington for a weekend."

The manager of one of the first chapels, Joe Melcher Jr., insists that "Reno is a town that caters to tourists and just like everybody else, we like to make them feel at home and give them good service."

EVERYBODY AGREES the nuptial industry is just about as competitive for couples as the gambling casinos are for players. It's lucrative for the motels and hotels, restaurants and even the justice of the peace. His monthly salary is $260, but his annual income is reputed to pass the $50,000 a year mark. At election time there are more candidates for his job than any other on the ballot.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Most baby-care experts advise against propping the bottle for baby's feedings. Apart from the warmth, comfort and security you give your baby when you hold him, there are rather nice benefits for you. Feeding time gives your on-the-go body a chance to relax, your feet a fine rest. Above all, you achieve a special "oneness" with your baby, reward enough for any mother.

•

Warming thought. If baby's a dawdler, one of those knitted coasters will help keep the bottle warm longer.

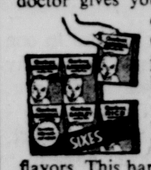
Solid comfort. As soon as your doctor gives you the green light on cereal, Gerber Cereal Sixes are just right for a bird-size appetite ...and the perfect way to introduce baby to different flavors. This handy, six-in-1 package contains small-size boxes of Rice Cereal, High Protein Cereal, Barley, Mixed Cereal and two Oatmeal. After baby samples all five, and indicates his favorites, you can get Gerber Cereals in the regular, large-size boxes.



All Gerber Cereals have the delicate flavors and super-smooth texture that encourage baby to take to this important basic food. And they're enriched with iron, calcium and B-vitamins to get him off to a good nutritional start.

Saving plans. (1) If you've a two-story house, you'll save many a step by keeping a supply of diapers both upstairs and down. (2) Folding a day's supply of diapers at one time simplifies and speeds the pin-up job.

•

Why vitamin C? Doctors specify this vitamin early in the infant diet because breast milk or cow's milk have very little vitamin C, which baby needs every day. Gerber Juices —all nine of them —are rich in this important vitamin, needed for sound gums and other body tissues. While Orange Juice has been the traditional "starter," doctors often recommend Gerber Apple Juice because it's especially mild and well-tolerated by babies. Small Cards Suggest Right Finessing Play In A Game

South dealer
Both sides vulnerable

	NORTH ♠ K 8 7 ♡ A Q 5 ◇ 9 4 ♣ Q 9 6 5 2
WEST ♠ 6 5 3 ♡ K 10 7 3 ◇ A 8 5 3 ♣ 10 4		EAST ♠ 4 2 ♡ J 9 8 4 2 ◇ K 7 6 ♣ K J 3
	SOUTH ♠ A Q J 10 9 ♡ 6 ◇ Q J 10 2 ♣ A 8 7

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ◇	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 3

South considered a finesse at the first trick but rejected the idea. He thought he had a better chance in the play of the clubs.

FIRST TRICK

Declarer therefore won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and returned the nine of diamonds to the ace.

Back came a trump, and South forced out the king of diamonds. Back came another trump, and South won again.

Now came the key play—a low club. When West played the four of clubs, South let the seven of clubs ride as a finesse, losing to the jack.

TRICK REVEALING

Both cards on this trick were revealing. West's play of the four indicated that he probably did not hold the three; and East's play of the jack indicated that he probably did not hold the ten.

South decided to follow the evidence. West probably held the ten of clubs but not the three. There was no way of knowing who held the king.

If West still held K-10 of clubs, the situation was hopeless. If West held only the ten of clubs, the contract could be made.

RUFFS HEART

South therefore ruffed East's heart return and led a trump to dummy's king. Now he returned the queen of clubs from dummy. This was the second half of a compound finesse in clubs. It trapped East's king and West's ten on the same play and assured the game and rubber.

You may wonder if this method of playing the clubs is better than just leading out the ace and then a low club toward dummy. It is because West will usually step up with the king if he starts with just K-x and may do so even if he has three to the king.

You hold the club loss to one trick more often than by any other method of playing the suit.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♡ J 9 8 4 2
♣ K J 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

You might consider a jump to four hearts, but should reject the bid because your distribution is not quite good enough. You should have a singleton or a void for the jump to game.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, July 28, the 210th day of 1964 with 156 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1932, federal troops drove out more than 15,000 unemployed war veterans in Washington who were demanding the immediate payment of "war bonuses."

A thought for the day — American novelist, Henry Thoreau said: "It is characteristic of wisdom not to do desperate things."

U.S. Race Problems Felt Abroad, Young Dane Says

Bornholm Island Visitor Relates Negro Concern

Interest in racial problems in the United States spreads far beyond our borders, even to Bornholm, a small Danish isle in the Baltic Sea.

A visitor from the island, Niels Peter Sode, 21, was the guest of the Harry Seiler family of 36 Turnagain Road, Kentfield, last week, and told of the concern felt for Negro Americans who were denied the right to attend school with Caucasians.

"Most of my friends' sympathy has gone to the Negroes, who should not be forced to get their education in separate schools," he said.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Niels arrived in New York July 2 with four other Danish young persons who are participating in an exchange program sponsored by the American Automobile Dealers Assn. His father has the Volvo and Volkswagen dealership in Nesko on Bornholm, and also owns the Nesko Bruggeri and Mineralvandsfabrik, a brewery which makes Hvidtol black beer.

He toured New York, Washington, D.C., Buffalo, Milwaukee, Denver and Los Angeles before arriving in San Francisco last Wednesday. He bid farewell to the Seilers Sunday to visit Salt Lake City, the Grand Canyon, Phoenix, St. Louis and Detroit, where he will see automobile manufacturing plants before returning to New York.

The young automotive engineer will then leave the group and drive through Mississippi to visit an exchange student who stayed with his family three years ago.

KNOWS OF TENSION

"I am looking forward to talking with my friend and driving through that part of America where I have learned through newspapers and magazines at at home so much racial tension exists," he said.

Niels will return to Bornholm in September, just in time to join the Danish Air Force for two-years.

He has worked in his father's business for four years as the garage master, mechanic and salesman.

Judge Clears Tiburon Youth In School Stabbing Case

Douglas Short, 17, of Tiburon has been cleared of responsibility in the stabbing of a 16-year-old classmate at Devereaux School in Goleta, Santa Barbara County.

Judge C. Douglas Smith of Santa Barbara County Superior Court ruled that Short was not responsible because he was "justifiably fearful" for his safety when a group of boys entered his room early July 5, the Associated Press reported.

The victim was John B. Eckert of Long Beach.

The night had been marked by fighting, firecracker throwing and other mischief. Boys involved in the altercation told sheriff's officers Short "told on" the other boys.

Four youths entered his room at the school shortly after midnight and pulled him out of bed. One boy picked up a chair and advanced toward Short, who had drawn a fishing knife to ward them off.

Eckert entered as a peacemaker and advanced to disarm Short, who stabbed him in the stomach.

The Devereaux School is a private school for retarded and emotionally disturbed children.

Short, who is blind in one eye and deaf in one ear, has been discharged from the school and returned to his parents.

Novato Council To Consider Three Ordinances

The Novato City Council will review three proposed ordinances when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, is presenting a tree ordinance, a grading ordinance, and an encroachment ordinance.

The council will also hear from the State Public Utilities Commission on the application of Greyhound Bus Co. for increased rates and on the phone company rates. The council had asked the commission to lower the rates for Western California Telephone Co., right after the commission lowered those for Pacific Telephone Co. This would make the same rates for the entire city. Pacific Telephone serves the southern section of the city and Western California serves the northern section of the city.

Other items to come before the council include drainage on Fourth Street and a meeting with a Stanford Research Institute representative.

Check Defendant Sent To Superior Court

James Lee Skaggs, 23, formerly of Point Reyes Station, waived preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court yesterday and was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of forgery.

He allegedly altered a $5 check signed by Anne M. McCarthy of 210 Laurel Place, San Rafael, to $750. San Rafael police said Skaggs got the check when he did yard work for Mrs. McCarthy on April 15.

Jail Sentence Follows Plea In Check Case

Huey Pierce Locks, 29, of C14-115, Marin City, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court to 90 days in Marin County jail yesterday on his guilty plea of passing a forged $111.41 check at Tamalpais Liquor and Delicatessen Drive-In, 638 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last Dec. 20.

He was arrested by San Rafael police March 15.

CREEK PROJECT CHANGE ASKED

Kettenhofen Calls For Two Stages To Retain Area's Natural Beauty

The Corte Madera Flood Control Project, which calls for a concerte-lined channel from Greenbrae to Fairfax, will not be changed unless county and city governments formally ask for an alternate proposal.

This is the information received this week by Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo, who is suggesting that some of the natural beauty of the creek be retained.

Kettenhofen, a candidate for county supervisor from the second (Ross Valley) district, has made these suggestions to the Army Corps of Engineers:

Divide the project into two stages: one to include College of Marin and downstream, and the other from the college upstream. The lower stage could be fully constructed to meet any forseeable storm. The upper half could be constructed for a lesser degree of protection, say a storm that occurs every 10 to 20 years.

Kennenhofer said he made these suggestions because many people "are alarmed at the possibility of converting our beautiful natural, wooded creek to a concrete vertical side drainage ditch with cleared banks and cyclone fencing."

Kettenhofen said Rep. Don H. Clausen, has presented the proposal officially to the Army Corps of Engineers. Maj. Donald A. Wisdom, acting district engineer in San Francisco, replied to Congressman Clausen with a three-page letter.

"To date the board of supervisors has given no indication that it desires departure from the project document plan," Major Wisdom wrote.

"The absence of responsible local governmental sponsorship of the proposals being made by Mr. Kettenhofen must, from a practical viewpoint at this time, preclude any major departure from the general plan authorized by Congress . . .

"Should the board of supervisors, as the result of requests by the cities affected by the project, take official action to propose an alternative plan, full consideration would be given to such a proposal . . .

"It is expected, therefore, that prior to the Corps of Engineers undertaking such alternative studies, the request would come from the local sponsoring agency."

Police Claim Thieves Lent Stolen Items

The five San Francisco youths held, police said, stole more than $8,000 in guns, stereo equipment, radios and cameras and stored them at the home of Thomas Craig, 20, a B-plus student at the University of San Francisco.

Craig, who was booked for burglary, was quoted by police as saying:

"I need recreation, and the kind of recreation I like is expensive."

Patrolman Ernest Biagi said if any members of the group wanted to use something "they took it and then brought it back."

Craig was arrested in San Mateo last Saturday after he dropped a $70 phonograph tone arm and sound cartridge at a store, Biagi said. The other arrests followed, he said.

Who Has The Sauce?

SHOW BENEFITS EASTER SEAL SOCIETY

Lizanne Fullum of Strawberry Point and Billy Ryan of San Rafael, have traded places with Mrs. Mario Ghilotti's Arabian stallion Wiertez to get a better look at one of the champion horses entered in the annual all-Arabian Horse Show to be held Aug. 8 and 9 in the Cow Palace. The Marin Easter Seal Society and the handicapped participants in its program will share the proceeds from the show.

A TRIBUTE TO BOAT ENTHUSIASTS

Boats and the planning and paraphernalia that go with them, are taking a significant place in the life of our county.

As everybody knows, when you buy a boat, you have made an investment in a different way of life for yourself and your family.

For getting-away-from-it-all, a boat offers a glorious change of pace, an adventure in nautical exploration, an engrossing preoccupation with canvas, engines, winds, tides and the mysteries of navigation. A day on the Bay can erase daily problems and restore the soul.

One result of our growing marine activity is a big increase in the number of businesses which service it; an addition to the county's economy and the enrichment of life in Marin.

Stars To Entertain In 'Anti-14' Benefit

Reservations for "Evening with the Stars," to be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Cow Palace in San Francisco, may be made through the Marin County office of Californians Against Proposition 14 at 240 Redwood Highway, Sausalito.

Proceeds from the show, which will feature Frank Sinatra, Nancy Wilson, Nat King Cole, Eddie Fisher, Dean Martin, Shelley Berman, Edie Adams and Milton Berle, will be used in the campaign to defeat the proposed amendment to the state constitution which would repeal the Rumford Housing Act and forbid legislation in the field of housing discrimination.

Marinite To Appear In Shakespeare Cast

Sharon McGinnis of 12 Beechwood Drive, San Rafael, will be among the cast of "Midsummer Night's Dream" at Colorado State College in Greeley.

She will play the part of Helena in the Shakespearean production tonight and tomorrow at the Little Theater of the Rockies, as a highlight of the Colorado State College Fine Arts Festival.

Program Set For Senior Marinites

All senior citizens in Marin County may participate in a day-long program tomorrow at the San Rafael Recreation Center, 37 Union Street, sponsored by the Recreation and Parks Department.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. with square dancing, followed by lunch from 12 to 12:30 p.m.

Mack Hull of San Rafael, chairman of the Marin Committee for Fair Play, will speak to the group on civil rights after lunch.

Dean To Give Talk

Dr. Ellsworth R. Briggs, College of Marin adult education dean, will address the California Assn. of Adult Education Administrators during a conference Oct. 30 in San Francisco. Briggs will talk on "Classes for Adults in the Junior College Organization."

Population trends indicate there will be 300 million Americans before the year 2000.

'Scenic Road' Sought In Tiburon Meet

City officials of Belvedere and Tiburon will meet Aug. 12 with representatives of the Tiburon Peninsula coordinating Council to discuss positioning and widening of the Tiburon Highway.

Members of the council hope to present a "united peninsula" front to the State Division of Highways on plans for the future of the road. Coordinating council representatives have said they hope to have the highway termed a "scenic road" as the first step toward making esthetic considerations a part of state highway planning.

The Aug. 12 meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School, coordinating council chairman Gilbert B. Darroch reported.

The board of the coordinating council has been expanded by four ex-officio members in an effort to widen council activities, Darroch said. A fifth member still is to be named. Appointed were Col. Robert R. Judson, 228 East Strawberry Drive; Ralph Wertheimer, 4930 Paradise Drive; John A. O'Donnell, 171 Lelan Way, and John N. Radovich, 33 North Knoll Road.

Summer College Enrollment Shows Vast Increase

College of Marin summer school enrollment has increased 45 per cent over last summer, a final enrollment report shows.

Summer registration figures show 1,461 students enrolled in classes as compared to 1,066 last summer. This figure includes 1,039 credit students, as compared to 687 last year, and 422 non-credit registrations compared to 379 last summer.

The number of June high school graduates going to summer school almost doubled this summer with 249 graduates, compared to 136 last year.

This is the second summer the college has admitted high school students. The number of such students has jumped from 20 last summer to 46 this year.

Talks Are Postponed On Site For School

The board tentatively had agreed to discuss a site at their meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, but Supt. Edward C. Pino reported the item will not be on the agenda.

It has been postponed, he said, while school officials coordinate their planning work with the newly incorporated City of Tiburon, and so that the school can check home construction on the peninsula.

Pino said that trustees must decide whether to continue planning for purchase of a site in the central part of the district, to use bond monies still available from a 1963 voter-approved issue to add to the Granada School now being constructed, or try for both.

He said there is a possibility that the upsurge of home construction would make the Granada addition more immediately necessary.

The most likely site for construction of a new school is the "knoll" site behind Little Reed Heights and west of Del Mar. Trustees are considering soil reports and possible reorientation of the school so that less earth would have to be moved, a plan which has raised doubts from some howeowners and, unofficially, from some city officials.

The district also is negotiating for purchase of a 21-acre site beyond the end of Blackfield Drive from Reedlands Woods, Inc., for construction of a second seventh and eighth grade school.

At the meeting tonight board members will hear reports on the district's foreign language program and testing program. Board members will go into closed session to discuss applicants for principal of Granada School, which is expected to be completed in October.

Rear-Ender Crash Injures Two Girls

Two San Francisco girls were treated for minor injuries Sunday night at Marin General Hospital after a two-car accident on Highway 101, one mile south of the Novato Creek bridge, at 6:30 p.m.

Robyn M. Hooper, 19, and Mary Jane O'Keefe, 18, were treated for bruised necks after a car driven by Matthew A. Wojdak, 54, of El Cajon hit the stopped car driven by Miss Hooper in the southbound lane. Miss O'Keefe was a passenger in Miss Hooper's car.

Wojdak was cited by the California Highway Patrol for unsafe speed.

Viet Boss Urges Attack On North As Students Riot

Four More Americans Killed; U.S. To Expand Advisor Force

SAIGON (UPI)—Premier Nguyen Khanh of South Vietnam said today his government feels free to attack communist North Vietnam whether the United States approves or not.

The premier's statement was made in the face of continued United States opposition to extension of the war against the Viet Cong across the border into North Vietnam. It also coincided with the disclosure of American plans to build up its forces in Vietnam by about one third with the dispatch of an additional 5,000 troops to the area.

Shortly after Khanh made it clear to newsmen that he felt free to act against North Vietnam without U.S. consent, it was disclosed that four American officers were killed today by communist mines and bullets in two separate incidents within 20 miles of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman said three Americans were killed when their jeep hit a land mine. Another U.S. officer was killed in a Viet Cong ambush 15 miles northwest of Saigon, an unofficial source said.

The fatalities raised to 173 the number of Americans killed in combat in South Vietnam since the beginning of 1961.

In another turbulent development, jeering Vietnamese students today tore down statues of France's war dead while unarmed police stood by. The students were protesting against France's call for neutralization of Southeast Asia. It was the second anti-French demonstration this month. Earlier, rioting students sacked the French embassy.

"The (South) Vietnamese government is free in its actions," Khanh said when he was asked about the possibility of striking to the north without U.S. consent.

"We are an independent government," he said.

Khanh said that a northward strike by his forces should be called "defense, a counter-attack."

"When one uses the word attack, one implies that one is an aggressor," he explained, adding that the Communists are the only aggressors in Vietnam.

Khanh has been pushing a "march north" campaign for the last 10 days, although reliable Saigon sources say Taylor has asked him to soft-pedal the idea. Khanh denied today that he has differences with the United States on this or any other subject.

BATTLING BOAT FIRE

Coast Guard firefighters in cutter at right battle blaze which engulfs nameless 50-foot cruiser of unknown ownership in Richardson Bay. The cruiser exploded and caught fire at Kappas Yacht Harbor and was cut loose and towed into Richardson Bay by neighboring boat owners last evening. Marin Bank Disavows Link To Bobby Baker

Says $5,000 Check Sent To Attorney

Bobby Baker endorsed a check which the Redwood National Bank paid a Washington, D.C., attorney for helping get its charter, but bank officials today declared they had nothing to do with Baker and the check was for legal services.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.), declared on the U.S. Senate floor yesterday that the San Rafael bank paid a lobbyist $5,000 to get its charter, and the check was cashed by Baker, former Senate aide who resigned under fire.

SENATOR'S VERSION

Senator Williams declared the check "was delivered to Bobby Baker's office. It was endorsed by the lobbyist there. Bobby Baker cashed it and picked up 50 $100 bills in the Senate disbursing office."

Byron W. Leydecker, president of Redwood National Bank, declared today:

"These remarks by Senator Williams are untrue. His misstatements have come as a surprise to me since he has been familiar with he true facts for two or three months."

LAWYER'S FEE

Roderick P. Martinelli, San Rafael attorney representing the bank's organizers, said the $5,000 was paid to Wayne L. Bromley, a Washington, D.C. attorney who was engaged to assist in arranging for federal charter of the bank. Both he and Leydecker pointed out that engaging an attorney in Washington in such a matter is customary.

Martinelli said that when the cancelled check came back, it bore the endorsement "Robert G. Baker" in addition to Bromley's signature. He said he paid no attention to the endorsement because the name meant nothing to him at the time.

Martinelli said Bromley had been suggested as Washington counsel by a relative of one of the bank's organizers.

"We sent him (Bromley) the papers and asked him to process the application, which he did," said Martinelli. "He didn' send the bill until about February last year, after the bank had opened operations. Bromley's bill came to $5,000."

Martinelli said he wrote a check for $5,000 and mailed it to Bromley's office in Washington. When the cancelled check came back, it was endorse "Robert G. Baker."

It was only after a Federal

Senators Vote Down Plan On Disclosure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All that remained today of a Senate wrangle over ethics was a vote on a mild resolution to shunt financial disclosure proposals to a special commission for further study.

SUBSTITUTE PLAN

After almost 10 hours of debate, the Senate last night junked its Rules Committee's disclosure recommendation and substituted a modest study plan offered by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill.

It was the second time the Senate group, which conducted a seven-month investigation into the financial affairs of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats.

DIRKSEN PLAN

By a 48-39 vote, the Senate substituted the Dirksen plan calling for creation of a 17-member commission to determine whether members of Congress, judges and government officials should be required to make public their sources of outside income.

The action followed Senate rejection of two broad, liberal-backed plans to require public disclosure by Senators and Senate employees of outside investments and income.

The Senate first crushed, 62 to 25, a plan offered by Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), and Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.). It then turned down, 59 to 27, a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.).

Williams' plan would have required members and certain employees to make a detailed list of their holdings, including copies of their income tax forms, but these would be made available to a special watchdog Senate committee, not publicly.

Boy Admits Arson In Mill Valley

A 10-year-old Mill Valley boy skipped school yesterday and set a fire in a neighbor's garage, the second deliberate house fire he has started in less than a month.

Admitting the fire, which caused about $500 damage to a wall and contents of the garage of Mrs. Lucille De Fremery of 164 Locust Avenue, the boy was taken by police to Juvenile Hall on a charge of arson.

The boy told officers he left home to catch a bus to attend the Three-R School in San Rafael but decided he was "too tired" and went instead to the Park School playground.

He entered the De Fremery garage at about 10:15 a.m., he said, and spotted a can of charcoal lighter fluid. He sprinkled fluid on newspapers, lighted them and walked out, shutting the door behind him. There was no one at home at the De Fremery residence.

The boy was eating lunch when he heard the fire trucks going to the fire.

On July 2 the same boy admitted to police dropping matches to start three fires in the home of Wilbur T. Bolstad at 198 Locust Avenue while the Bolstads were camping on Russian River. Damage to the Bolstad residence was estimated at $5,000.

The boy also admitted starting two grass fires during the last six months, one at 185 Locust Avenue. He was taken to Juvenile Hall after the Bolstad

Paris Jewel Bandits Shoot Up Hotel Lobby

PARIS (UPI) — Three masked gunmen shot open and rifled jewelry showcases in the lobby of the fashionable Plaza-Athenee hotel early today and then killed a cab driver with a stray shot while escaping from pursuing police.

Police Commissioner Jean Morin said the stolen jewels, most of them from the showcase of New York jeweler Harry Winston, were worth about a half million dollars.

Russ Escapes Injury

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Alexei Adzhubei, Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, escaped injury today when a car in which he was riding was involved in an accident. A private automobile carrying Adzhubei and an interpreter out of the chancellery grounds ran into a barrier across the exit gate.

Death Threat Is Told Jury

By ROSS DAVIS

An invitation to cocktails and dinner was a bid to robbery and threat of death, another witness in the penalty phase of the first degree murder conviction of Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King testified today in Marin Superior Court. (The trial is to fix the penalty for the icepick murder of Donald G. Corbett Jr. of Sausalito.)

A. R. Adams, desk clerk of a Sacramento hotel, testified that King, 28, a resident of the hotel for about four months, telephoned him last March 10 after having been away from the inn for several weeks and suggested Adams meet him and a friend for a social evening.

Adams said he declined, but

Blast, Blaze Ruin Cruiser Near Waldo

A thunderous explosion gutted a 40-foot cabin cruiser berthed off Waldo Point yesterday and leveled the hulk to the waterline after neighbors hauled the burning wreck into Richardson Bay.

Who owns the craft, or its worth, remained a mystery today to Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom, because the boat was berthed illegally.

The explosion shattered windows in houseboats on both sides of the cruiser at Kappas Yacht Harbor. Witnesses said they thought the explosion, reported at 7:07 p.m., originated in the engine room.

The pleasure yacht had been berthed at No. 17 at the Kappas harbor. Owner George Kappas told firemen its only identification was the word "Cruiser."

Houseboat neighbors Frank and Nancy Bugaj cut the boat adrift to keep the flames from engulfing neighboring craft. An unidentified yachtsman used a skiff to tow the flaming hulk about 200 feet into Richardson Bay.

Three Coast Guard Patrol boats extinguished the flames after the boat drifted near Strawberry Point.

Witnesses said the first Coast Guard boat arriving, a 30-foot patrol craft equipped only with portable pumps, was unable to raise water pressure to fight the fire.

The second and third boats from Fort Point Coast Guard Station began fighting the fire at about 7:45 a.m., Coast Guard spokesmen said. They had the blaze under control within 10 minutes.

Bloom immediately called the Coast Guard when his firemen were unable to reach the blaze. Alto Fire Department responded with two trucks also, waiting at Strawberry Point in case the flames ignited anything on shore.

Race Tension Eases

SINGAPORE (AP) — Riot-torn Singapore took another big step toward normal today with the lifting of all daylight curfew restrictions on the racially troubled island. There were no racial clashes during the night between Chinese and Malays.

Tiburon Hires Former Carmel City Manager

Lawrence D. Rose, 44, former city manager of Carmel-by-the-Sea, last night was appointed the first city manager for newly incorporated Tiburon.

The appointment took effect immediately after a half-hour council executive session, and within minutes Rose began advising the council on procedure and taking over detail work which has bogged down councilmen since incorporation last month.

Rose (with a tiny rose stuck in his buttonhole) was loaded down with council directives by the end of the session at midnight and indicated his working day might run to 20 hours.

Rose will be paid $950 a month, councilmen decided. In addition he will receive a travel expense allowance.

Councilmen last night terminated the services of Warren Schmid, interim city administrator, who had been paid $12.50 an hour to aid the city on a part-time basis.

Rose was elected city clerk of Carmel and also acted as city manager until March 7, 1963, when he resigned and confirmed reports of a Mexican divorce from his former wife the previous November and subsequent marriage there in December to his secretary, Mrs. Billie L. Postel.

Rose had purchased the Carmel Pine Cone weekly newspaper, which he later relinquished.

Rose was the first candidate to be interviewed by the Tiburon council, driving to Tiburon from Samuel P. Taylor State Park where he was camping with his family. There were more than 20 applicants for the post; the council interviewed four persons following screening by Schmid.

Rose became tax and license collector of Carmel in 1955 and in 1956 was elected, unopposed, as city clerk. He was appointed city secretary and controller in 1959 and re-elected city clerk, unopposed, in 1960.

He established and administered the accounting, budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures for the city of 4,580

West Marin Citizens Vote

Eleven per cent of the voters in the West Marin School district had already gone to the polls by 11 a.m. today, joining voters in six other districts to decide on a unionization plan.

If approved by a majority in each district, the seven districts would become one unionized district, which would in turn become a unified district with the Tomales High School on July 1, 1965.

The other districts are Watson, American Valley, Bloomfield and Bodega Bay school districts in Sonoma County and Tomales Bay and Point Reyes school districts in Marin County.

Polls will be open until 7 p.m.

Moon Shot Seems To Be Successful

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Ranger 7 spacecraft rocketed toward the moon on a photographic mission today and successfully cleared early hurdles on the planned quarter-million-mile journey.

Ranger 7's assignment is to travel 228,522 miles to the moon in 69 hours and take more than 4,000 close-up pictures of areas where American astronauts may land in 1969.

Success would end six years of frustration during which the United States has launched 12 moon shots, all failures.

After transmitting the pictures to earth, the spacecraft is to crash-land on the lunar surface. The planned impact time if there are no hitches is 8:45 a.m. (EST) Friday.

Official reported an hour after launching that Ranger 7 appeared to be functioning normally.

Raindrops Visit Thirsty Marin

An unseasonal rain storm splattered across Marin County early today, but summer returned moments afterwards.

The storm, from clouds that had been building up since yesterday, left no more than a trace in Woodacre, San Anselmo, San Rafael, Mill Valley and Belvedere.

The Weather Bureau said high clouds will continue tomorrow with some morning fog along the coast. Temperatures will remain about the same.

Knowland Gets State GOP Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — William F. Knowland, Sen. Barry Goldwater's man in California, was appointed today to the State Republican Central Committee.

The former U.S. senator, who headed the Republican Presidential candidate's successful primary campaign in the state and was chairman of California's pro-Goldwater delegation to the Republican National Convention, was named to the committee by Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Oakland).

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Johnson Fetes Malagasy Head

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson has a fan in the Malagasy republic—the island nation's chief executive, Philibert Tsiranana.

Johnson

President and Mrs. Johnson entertained President and Mrs. Tsiranana last night at an outdoor state dinner held in the White House rose garden.

In the traditional toast to the host, Tsiranana wished Johnson success "in the forthcoming election," and praised him for his support of civil rights legislation.

Tsiranana

He said his people had followed Johnson's efforts closely and were grateful for passage of the rights bill even though they are not Americans.

Johnson, in turn, noted that he and Tsiranana had much in common: "We were both born in cattle country of parents of meager means. In the 1930s we were both teachers. We both entered public service in the legislative branch."

Castro Attacks U.S. Again

(Combined AP & UPI)

SANTIAGO, Cuba—Fidel Castro launched a new attack at the United States last night, declaring that Cuba will "answer shot for shot" if "another man is murdered" by U.S. Marines at the Guantanamo naval base.

Castro

The Cuban prime minister held a three and one-half hour news conference for 33 American newsmen visiting Cuba at his invitation and 40 other foreign newsmen who came to Santiago for the celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement.

In Mexico City Castro's sister, Juana, formally requested political asylum in Mexico last night and told newsmen she hopes the government will find no reason to refuse it.

King, Mayor Wagner Confer

Wagner

King said after the meeting that he would meet with "summit leaders" in the riot-torn sections of New York City.

"Matters of national importance" were discussed by King and Wagner, said one of the mayor's aides.

Before leaving Atlanta last night, King had urged Negroes in New York to halt violence and lawlessness, warning that they could set back the civil rights movement.

King

He also said he might make peace tours in Rochester, N. Y., this weekend.

Rochester had its first quiet night since Friday, when rioting and looting broke out, but a state of emergency and a curfew still were in effect.

A policeman testified yesterday in a State Supreme Court hearing that William Epton, a Negro and self-described Communist, told a secret Harlem meeting last week that "the state must be smashed," and "we're going to have to kill cops and judges."

Indonesia Still Angry

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Any support Malaysia received from Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's trip to the United States will not deter Indonesia's determination to crush the neighboring federation, Indonesia's army commander said today.

Firefighters Gain

WILLITS (AP) — Firefighters managed to work a thin line around a 500-acre fire five miles south of Laytonville during the night and there were prospects the blaze would be contained today.

Big Names Invited

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Democrats have invited Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey to speak in Sacramento when the state central committee meets Aug. 16.

Encyclical Expected

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI is expected to issue his first Encyclical Aug. 6, the Feast Day of the Transfiguration, high Vatican sources said today. Churchmen assigned by the Vatican Secretary of State are currently engaged in translating the Latin document into Italian and other modern languages, the sources said.

Greek Troops Alert

ATHENS (UPI) — The government said today that Greek troops have moved toward the border with Turkey and naval units have been ordered to patrol the Aegean Sea islands. Defense Minister Peter Garofalian said the measures were defensive and should cause no particular anxiety.

Religious War on

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—The death toll from clashes between police and supporters of the fanatical Lumpa religious sect in the remote Chinsali region has risen to 29, the government announced today.

Chinese Planes Crash

Thrill Ride Collapses

GLEN ECHO HEIGHTS, Md. (UPI)—Eight teen-age boys and girls were injured yesterday when an amusement park ride known as "The Paratrooper" collapsed in a tangle of steel tubing. The eight, all from nearby Washington or suburban Maryland or Virginia, were among a dozen riders, including a mother and her two young children, who were trapped in their seats when a five-inch axle snapped on the ride.

Troubles In Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Rebel forces have surrounded the north Katanga town of Kongolo and the Congolese National Army is expected to abandon its position there soon, it was reported here today. Belgian vice consul Robert Guillot took off for Kongolo by plane to rescue two Roman Catholic priests and two nuns reported to be the only Europeans in the town.

Storm Smashes Town

MINOT, N.D. (UPI)—A violent windstorm swept through here last night, tossing housetrailers around like toys and injuring 14 persons. Winds were unofficially clocked at 140 miles an hour. The storm turned over cars, toppled trailers in at least four different camps, smashed windows and left streets littered with debris.

Jackie's Birthday

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy today observed her first birthday since her husband was assassinated in Dallas last Nov. 22. The former first lady is 35. She planned to drive to Newport from Hyannis Port, Mass.

GOLDWATER TOILS FOR PARTY UNITY

Plans Congressional Breakfasts, GOP Governors' Summit Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater made a bid for party harmony today with an offer clearly understandable to his congressional colleagues — help in their own election campaign.

The Arizona Senator's aides were completing plans for two congressional breakfasts here Aug. 6 and 7. All GOP senators and House members will be invited. Rep. William E. Miller (N.Y.), GOP vice presidential nominee, will be co-host.

Referring to the breakfasts and other scheduled sessions, Goldwater said yesterday that the meetings were arranged "in the interest of campaigns of all Republican candidates and in the interest of unity in the party."

Goldwater said the breakfast sessions would include a briefing on plans made for the national GOP campaign as well as a discussion of "anything else" on the minds of Senate and House GOP incumbents.

The unity breakfasts were only one phase in a series of meetings discussed by Goldwater yesterday after a two hour and 20 minute discussion with top Republican campaign aides.

Goldwater said he would meet with Senate and House GOP leaders tomorrow. He said Republican strategists were still planning a "summit" meeting of top party leaders following the congressional breakfasts and he hopes all 16 GOP governors could be present.

The presidential nominee said that he and Miller had been working in the interest of party unity for longer than they cared to contemplate.

As for the "summit" meeting, Goldwater said no time or place had been set.

He said previously he expected invitations to go to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Goldwater also told newsmen that while he had a number of speaking engagements in August, he did not expect to launch his formal campaign for the White House until later — probably about Labor Day.

Aides previously had indicated that he would set the pace with an early campaign start in Prescott, Ariz., during the third week of August.

In addition to previously announced speaking engagements before the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Cleveland on Aug. 25, Goldwater said he had received an American Legion invitation for a Dallas speech in mid-August; plans to speak before the House campaign school next week as scheduled; address an organization of county supervisors here on Aug. 10, and speak before the American Radio Relay League in New York on Aug. 20.

Clausen Tells Why He Voted Against Transit

Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) says he had a "very difficult" decision when he voted against the federal mass transit bill, which passed the House 212 to 189.

Clausen sent letters to the Marin supervisors and State Sen. John F. McCarthy, giving reasons for his vote.

"In view of the fact that I did not follow your request to support this bill, I feel you are entitled to know some of the specific reasons for my casting a negative vote," wrote Clausen.

"One of the most serious—if not the most serious—problems now before the federal government is an unbalanced budget . . . Since we would have to borrow the funds to make grants under this prorgram to local rapid transit districts, it does not seem sensible that we should authorize an expensive new federal aid program of this type. Then, too, it would have been wholly inconsistent if I were to vote for this program when I voted for sound fiscal economy by opposing the recent increase in the federal debt ceiling."

Congressman Clausen also noted that the Bay Area would qualify for only a small percentage of the federal grant.

"To get this federal contribution, we would be obligating ourselves to pay federal taxes to build local rapid transit systems in New York, Chicago and many other parts of the country," he wrote.

Homestead Valley To Offer Mozart Festival Aug. 16

Homestead Valley Improvement Club's Mozart Festival will be presented Aug. 16, Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt, the club's music chairman, announced today.

The fourth annual event will be held in Stole Grove, starting at 1 p.m. Admission is free, with musicians being paid from musicians' union transcription funds.

Raymond Duste, oboist with the San Francisco Symphony and leader of the Bach to Mozart Chamber Players who present the concerts, has announced that highlight of the program will be Cimarosa's "Il Maestro di Cappella." Baritone Edgar Jones will sing the leading character, and the Bach to Mozart Players, augmented to 20 musicians, will accompany him.

Also to be performed are Haydn's Symphony Concertante in B Flat and Mozart arias sung by soprano Carole Bogard. Conductor will be Verne Sillan of the San Francisco Youth Orchestra.

Three Marinites Join 'Outstanding Men'

Three men from Southern Marin have been selected for inclusion in the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America," David Stainbrook, a member of the nominating Junior Chamber of Commerce of Mill Valley, said today.

They are: Normand Black, owner of El Marin Florist-Gifts, Mill Valley; Rev. Don Schilling, pastor of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Marin City, and Charles C. Crawford, vice principal, Tamalpais High School, of Mill Valley.

Park Polls Users On Exile Of Dogs

Samuel P. Taylor and Mount Tamalpais State Parks are polling their visitors this month and next reggarding whether they favor the current ban on taking dogs into parks overnight.

The state legislature in December, 1944, prohibited canine campers for a variety of reasons, but many citizens have protested the ban. The legislature has asked the State Division of Beaches and Parks to take a survey of the campers during the current peak season.

"Many a high-priced, prized dog has learned that he is no match for a disturbed raccoon, skunk, bobcat, bear, deer or other animal that inhabits our parks. Where these animals will leave a human alone, an inquisitive dog is just their dish.

"The danger to children is not small. Last week in Taylor Park, a large dog got loose and bit two small girls before it was caught. Often, the dog may be on leash and some child will merely run by too close and be bit or frightened.

"Visitors to state parks may find that the small animals are frequently tame or relatively so. One may lure a small bird or chipmunk close enough to toss it a few scraps of break or even feed it by hand. The presence of many dogs with their natural instinct to hunt would soon frighten these smaller animals away."

Leaders Plan Review Of Marin Study

Marin civic leaders and businessmen will review the first phase of the Stanford Research Institute's economic survey of Marin County at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The first phase of the study lists the business and industrial activity that would be suitable for Marin, but does not recommend steps that could be taken to attarct it.

The meeting, called by county supervisors, will be attended by representatives of firms that have contributed to the $30,000 cost of the study.

Kentfield Firemen To Get More Land

The Kentfield Fire District board Sunday approved purchase of a 50-by-150-foot lot adjacent to the fire station on the east side for future expansion.

The lot, bought from Marin Development Co., is now used as a parking lot. The board agreed to pay $24,375 for it.

Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the property would be used for expansion of the fire station or for training facilities, depending on plans to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

FINALE FOR HISTORIC HOME

A wrecker's bulldozer bites into the historic "Pines" at 1404 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, as work begins today to clear a two-block area just east of the city library for the new San Rafael City Hall. This property was purchased from Mrs. Marie S. Robinson by the city. Until recently, it served as an apartment building. Two weeks ago, fire gutted the vacant home. In early days, the building served as home for Katharine Branson School, now located in Ross.

Hub Man Found Dead With Hose Tied To Exhaust

Kenneth Moorhouse, 27, of 4 Sacramento Avenue, San Anselmo, was found dead shortly before noon today, apparently a suicide.

An ambulance rushed him to San Rafael General Hospital about 11:30 a.m., but he was dead on arrival.

Besides his wife, Moorhouse leaves three children, aged 3 to 7.

He had been released from the county jail last week after serving a term for burglary.

Hospital Board Meet

The Marin Hospital District board will hear a report on progress being made by a management consultant firm to study the makeup of the medical staff at its meeting today at 8 p.m. in the hospital's conference room.

Recipient Of Check Not Listed As Lawyer

Wayne L. Bromley, to whom organizers of the Redwood National Bank sent a $5,000 check which was later endorsed by Bobby Baker, was registered as a lobbyist in 1961, '62, and '63 but is not listed in the Washington telephone director as an attorney, the Associated Press reported today.

Bromley was registered in the three years with the secretary of the Senate as a lobbyist for the National Coal Policy Conference, Inc. He has not registered so far this year.

He previously was employed in the Senate Law Library, and friends at the Senate said they understood he had passed his bar examination but has not practiced, the Associated Press reported.

Bromley "is described as one of Bobby Baker's pals," the Associated Press reported.

Bureau of Investigation agent called on him about last September to ask questions that he became aware that the "Baker" on the check was former Senate aide Bobby Baker, Martinelli said.

"There is no question that the name Robert G. Baker is on the cancelled check," said Martinelli. "But how Baker got into the picture, we don't know. All we know is that we paid Mr. Bromley his legal fees for processing the application."

Said Leydecker: "The check was not issued until two months after the bank had commenced operations, and it was issued and mailed to Wayne Bromley, not delivered to Baker's office. Certainly, no one associated with the bank can answer the question as to the reason for Baker's endorsement upon the check made payable to the Washington attorney. Mr. Bromley himself would have to speak to that particular point.

"About three months ago, Senator Williams telephoned me and telephoned our attorney and inquired about the nature of any relationship which either of us had had with Baker. Apparently, Senator Williams at that time had possession of the FBI file. I explained the situation; that is, that we had no relationship with Baker, to Senator Williams, as did our attorney, and that is the last that we had heard from him until today. Obviously, both the FBI and Senator Williams have been completely satisfied that the transaction with Mr. Bromley did indeed represent a normal and customary business tranaction . . .

"Surely, Senator Williams, had he believed that this transaction represented anything but a normal business procedure would have made known the facts which were available to him to the Senate subcommittee which, for some months, has been investigating relationships between senators, senate employees and private business interests—all as an outgrowth of Baker's outside-the-Senate activities."

After the bank applied to the comptroller of the currency for a charter in June, 1962 an attorney told an incorporator a lobbyist would have to be paid $5,000 to get it approved.

"The check was made out to a Washington lobbyist who, the comptroller of the currency said, did nothing whatever to earn the money, as far as he was concerned," Senator Williams declared.

"They—the bank incoporators—were told they would have to pay the lobbyist. The check was delivered to Bobby Baker's office. It was endorsed by the lobbyist there. Bobby Baker cahed it and picked up 50 $100 bills in the Senate disbursing office."

Bromley was referred to him as an attorney, never as a "lobbyist," until Senator Williams called him about two or three months ago. "That's the first time I heard he was a lobbyist," said Martinelli.

Physician's Support Pay Is Ordered

Dr. William M. Edwards Jr., San Rafael physician, must pay $845 per month for the support of his wife and three children, under a divorce decision in Marin Superior Court.

A formal order is still to come, but Judge Thomas Kongsgaard of Napa, sitting in Marin Superior Court, today handed down a "memo decision," ruling that Myrtle L. Edwards, 43, is entitled to a divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty.

She gets the household furniture at their home at 36 Loma Linda, San Rafael, the car in her possession, and $8,831 cash. Dr. Edwards retains his medical practice, accounts receivable and insurance policies. The judge decided he should provide medical and dental services for the children.

The rest of the property will be held in joint tenancy.

They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., on Nov. 14, 1947, and separated in May, 1963. Mrs. Edwards sued for divorce June 6, 1963.

fire and charged with arson, but was released.

The fire was reported by W. S. Widmeyer of 170 Locust Avenue who saw smoke coming from the garage.

Meanwhile, investigation of another possible case of arson near Mill Valley today awaited finding the missing tenant of a 50-year-old summer cottage on Washington Park Avenue.

The cottage was destroyed by fire Sunday. Witnesses said a young man was seen throwing something into a pile of rubbish under the house.

The cottage had been rented last December to Patrick Fitzsimon, an artist. He has not been located since the fire.

Death Threat Is Told King, Jones Jury

King called again the following day and Adams joined the two men—the second identified as Jones—for drinks and dinner.

He said after a social evening, they all returned to the room shared by King and Jones. The two, he said, began behaving in strange manner, whispering to each other and frequently leaving the room. King then emerged from the bathroom with a pistol, he declared, and told Adams he was being robbed.

He said Jones had a roll of wide tape with him.

Adams said he was ordered to remove all his clothes and was taped about the mouth and wrists. He said he learned the men planned to return to his own hotel and loot his room, but by indicating he wanted to talk, he persuaded them to remove his mouth tape.

They let him accompany them to his room, and King asked if Adams' roommate might give them trouble during burglary of the room.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales then asked if King had informed Adams that if the roommate resisted, he (King) would "splatter his brains out." After objections to the question by Peter Allen Smith, representing King, and Thomas P. Boyd for Jones, the witness said King threatened he would "splatter him all over the lobby" if Adams resisted during their walk through the Sacramento Inn lobby.

Adams said King followed him, with gun hidden, and they all reached Adams' room. Much of his clothes and jewelry were taken. His roommate was not present, he testified.

Adams identified in court much of the stolen jewelry. Bales pointed out it was part of loot recovered from Jones on his April 5 arrest in Hawaii.

Other prosecution witnesses were Charles Riggan, cab driver from West Sacramento, and Virgil Stevens, owner of the cab company. They testified they drove Jones from Sacramento to Stockton Feb. 21, and that he robbed them both of billfolds, money and jewelry on a levee bank before taking their shoes, socks, and jackets and making them lie on the ground.

Stevens, whose name Jones allegedly often used during a later crime spree, said Jones violently ripped off his pockets in searching for money. Riggan said Jones bragged of having $150,000 worth of heroin, and you guys made me miss my contact."

Ralph Peterson of Oakdale testified he encountered Jones on the levee shortly after the robbery, when Jones claimed he had been robbed and persuaded Peterson to drive him to Modesto. Jones declined to be taken to the police department to report the robbery, however, Peterson added.

Witness Says Deputy Sheriff Is Robert Jones

A funny moment in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. murder trial resulted in Marin Superior Court today when a testifying robbery victim mistakenly identified a sheriff's officer as his assailant.

And the identification was made only after the victim, Virgil Stevens of West Sacramento, had carefully studied each of the 12 jurors to determine if one of them, instead, might be the alleged robber, co-defendant Robert Lee Jones.

An embarrassed but laughing prosecutor, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, waited until after Stevens pointed out Marin County Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich, then stood behind Jones to help Stevens with his identification.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, however, ruled that Stevens had made his choice, and it must stand. The witness was dismissed.

MANY THANKS

for paying your newspaperboy promptly

It's tough for a youngster to "come back some other time" for payment. As a young businessman, your I-J carrier boy is trying to do a job for you, rain or shine, on time. He really appreciates your paying him the first time he calls to collect. Keep it up, won't you?

H. HAGEDORN

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Poet and biographer Hermann Hagedorn, recognized as an authority on President Theodore Roosevelt and his era, is dead at 82.

Hagedorn was stricken Monday by an apparent heart attack as he sat in his car.

Born in New York in 1882, Hagedorn studied at Harvard and Columbia universities and at the University of Berlin. He was a Harvard English instructor from 1909 to 1911.

He chronicled the life and times of Teddy Roosevelt in the popular "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill" in 1954. He also wrote a biography of Albert Schweitzer.

He leaves his widow, Dorothy, and two daughters, Mrs. Eric Parfit and Mary Hagedorn, both of Santa Barbara.

Romanian In Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer conferred with President Charles de Gaulle today and hinted afterward the French leader may be invited to visit his independent-minded communist nation. Maurer and de Gaulle met for an hour in talks French officials said may mark a new breach in Moscow's satellite system.

Soviets May Aid In Canal Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee says that when a new sea-level canal is built across Central America a group of canal-using nations, possibly including Russia, might join with the United States in the project.

In a new book, being published today, the Arkansas Democrate says he is not advocating Soviet participation in a new canal project, but "neither do I think it must be ruled out as unthinkable," he says.

Fulbright says a new sea-level canal, larger than the Panama Canal, must eventually be built.

Budget Meet Set By School Board

Mill Valley School District trustees will meet next Monday at 8 p.m. in the district office to hold a public hearing on adoption of the 1964-65 budget.

The change in regular meeting date is necessary, according to Leo B. Edson, assistant superintendent, because by law the public hearing must be held between Aug. 1 and 7. The following meeting of the board will be Aug. 31.

There was no board meeting last night.

Council Blocks New Buildings On Waterfront

The San Rafael City Council last night ordered a crackdown on issuance of permits to build in an East San Rafael area which has inadequate sewer, water and drainage facilities.

Asked for guidance by the city planning commission, councilmen voted to order all city aides that no permit, either for temporary or permanent building, will be issued until these problems are solved.

Involved is a quarter-mile of tideland near the Marin Rod and Gun Club, east of the road to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Councilmen agreed that they needed no new ordinance to crack down, but merely had to resume enforcement of existing ordinances.

With a trace of bitterness, Mayor John F. McInnis recalled, "We said five years ago there would be no building out there until we got these things cleared up. Now there must be a dozen buildings."

City Engineer Dominic Selmi was told to relay the ruling to the planning commission when it meets tonight. Asked for his opinion as to how permits had been issued in spite of the council's previous intentions, Selmi replied that planning commissioners "felt sorry" for various applicants who sought to build in the area.

Low Bidder Loses Out On Parking Bonds Sale

San Rafael city councilmen had to throw out the lower of two bids last night for sale of $250,000 parking district bonds to finance double-decking two downtown parking lots, but they agreed to award the contract to the other firm rather than call for bids again.

Afterwards, they signed a contract for the actual construction, and agreed to modify one phase of the job in hope of cutting some $24,000 from the total cost.

Contract for the bonds went to Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith of San Francisco, whose bid included a net interest rate of 1.46 per cent.

The council waited more than 30 minutes after the bids were opened so bond consultants could check the figures. But councilmen were warned by a representative of Stone and Youngberg, parking district financial consultants, before the computations began that the low bidder, Dean Witter and Co. of San Francisco, appeared to have made a fatal mistake.

Through a clerical error, Witter's schedule of interest rates through a period of years failed to conform to the city's technical specifications. Councilmen were warned this was something that could not be waived.

Since a new call for bids would slow the project's timetable, and would also give bidders advance knowledge of the figures submitted the first time, council men quickly agreed to award the contract to the other firm.

Contract for the project itself, tentatively approved June 16, was awarded to William J. Nicholson Co. of Santa Clara. Included in the vote was an agreement to take a "calculated gamble" on a new waterproofing technique which, if all goes well, will reduce the total cost by $23,800.

The technique will involve use of a product called "expansive concrete," which the contractor has agreed to substitute, at a cost of $3,000, in place of a "membrane" which would have cost $26,800.

The council also voted to modify its recently adopted salary increases by adding $50 monthly to the pay of City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles and Fire Chief Vance Trivett, retroactive to July 1.

San Pedro Road Fund Proposed

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr today proposed that the county borrow from its capital improvements fund to speed up work on widening San Pedro Road to next spring.

The proposal came as San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis appeared to reply to comments two weeks ago by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Chairman William A. Gnoss.

McInnis denied the city was trying to embarrass the county, one of several statements he described as "unfortunate, ill-advised, and not based on fact."

He took particular issue with a charge by Leydecker, who was not at today's session, that the city "sat on its hands for years" in regard to the road.

"The city, if anything, has led this cause because of its own vital interest in it," McInnis declared.

McInnis showed supervisors a map of the road, pointing out that, with one exception, the city has acquired all portions of right of way for widening the portions within the city limits.

He said it was the hope of the city to work with the county for the best solutions to mutual problems. City councilmen, he said, were "frightfully upset" upon learning of supervisors' comments.

Those comments came as Leydecker suggested a joint powers agreement to carry out a five-year program for widening all portions of the road. McInnis said he could se "no advantage" to such an agreement.

Stating he felt "more heat than light" had previously been shed on the problem, Behr said supervisors had become "upset to a degree" after learning the city might go ahead on its own if the county could not match the $250,000 which the city has budgeted toward the project for this fiscal year.

He then proposed the plan to borrow from capital improvements funds this year, but declined to mention a figure.

Supervisors Move To Ban Hiring Bias

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today introduced an ordinance against discrimination in hiring by contractors working on county jobs.

Supervisors set the penalty for violations at $25 per day per person discriminated against.

Last week they had considered a sliding scale with penalties increasing with the size of the contract, but today decided that system in itself would be discriminatory.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested the board "get the thinking" of contractors and labor representatives on the ordinance.

Timepiece Stolen From Railroad Shop

A clock was taken from the electrical shop of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Grant and Railroad avenues, Novato, it was reported yesterday to Novato police.

The theft was discovered at 6:15 a.m. yesterday by Harry A. Winding of 875 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, when he opened the shop. Gary Simmons of Petaluma, who reported it to Novato police, said a check of all doors and windows found them locked.

Novato Scout Rescues Girl From Pool

A 4-year-old Daly City girl who could not swim, slipped from the edge of a Novato pool Saturday and sank in nine feet of water, but she was pulled out almost at once.

Mike saw the girl slip. When he got to the pool side, her hair was floating on the surface, then she sank "like a rock." Mike dove after her and brought her to the surface so fast that she never lost a breath.

Racing Carburetor Reported Stolen

A Mill Valley man told San Rafael police a $50 Italian racing carburetor and a $10 "twist grip" throttle were stolen from his motorcycle at 1430 Fourth Street at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Supervisors Deny Aim To Ban Moonlighting

The Marin County Board of Sunpervisors made it clear today it is not against county employees holding outside jobs if there is no conflict of interest or loss of efficiency.

County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott said "a lot of employees have been upset" by a current survey on outside jobs, feeling the board is getting tough.

"I don't want the inference that the board is getting rough," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

The survey did not originate with the board, but resulted from a problem brought to it by a department head, and we're trying to straighten it out," Fusselman said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said, "our intention is not to roust all outside employees. We're simply trying to get the facts. We just want those without permission to get permission."

Elliott reported he has not received reports on outside employment from four departments: tax collector-treasurer, sheriff, planning and public works. Supervisors said the heads of these departments would be given two weeks to present reports. If any employee of these departments is working on an outside job, he will then be working without authorization.

The supervisors continued all requests for authorization for outside employment for two weeks, except that of Mrs. Dorothy McClothin, who works in the county assessor's office and serves as city treasurer of Fairfax.

Supervisors authorized her outside employment by a 3-1 vote, with Behr dissenting on the grounds "she should not be singled out" even though he approved of her extra job.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker was absent.

District Delays Vote On Employee Pensions

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night discussed a proposed pension plan for the district's three employees but took no action, agreeing to take the subject up again at their Aug. 24 meeting. There is no pension plan now.

It is planned to adopt the 1964-65 budget at the Aug. 24 meeting, said Director Stanley Cowen. The budget was discussed last night but no figures set.

Furniture Taken

Patio furniture valued at $150 was stolen Sunday night from the Port Royale Apartments, 20 Novato Street, San Rafael, manager Garry Rice told police. Five pieces were taken.

Briton Reports Nikita Softens Stand On Treaty

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today told British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler the Soviet Union is willing to take a softer line on a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons, reliable sources said.

Khrushchev's new willingness to talk about the treaty despite the West's proposals for a multilateral nuclear force (MLF) emerged as the chief result of his hour and 45 minutes talk with Butler, the sources said.

Khrushchev also was said to have told Butler Moscow will not consider quitting peacekeeping role in Laos at least until it hears the results of its call for a new 14-nation conference on the troubled Southeast Asian kingdom, which the United States has opposed.

Butler, making his initial effort at Kremlin negotiations, had said he came to Moscow to urge the Soviets to drop their new threat to pull out as co-chairman of the 1962 Geneva agreement unless its conference call was heeded.

Rail Death Toll Up

OPORTO, Portugal (UPI)—The death toll in Sunday's derailment of a railroad passenger car rose by two today to 92, with an additional 76 persons hospitalized.

Novato Hills Will Lose Tops To Apartment Development

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved a plan to flatten the top of a prorminent hill between South Novato Boulevard and Highway 101 on which the Sutter Terraces development will be built.

The commission thus shied away from conventional cutting and filling of the hill. Its decision was consistent with that which it made earlier in the evening concerning the Pleasant Valley development by Roberts and Aguirre Inc.

Sutter Development Co. intends to lop off about 40 feet from the main hill, which is now about 195 feet high, and about 30 feet from two adjoining knolls which are owned mostly by the Baimar Corp. This earth will be used to fill Lake Lynwood in order to build apartment houses there.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

2. Approved the tentative map of Redwood Gardens, south of Cherry Street, owned by Gus Ravetz.
3. Approved the tentative map of Gnoss Estates Unit 2 by Westwood Homes Inc.
4. Continued until Aug. 24 a plan for a doughnut shop at Second Street and Industrial Way submitted by Jack Caristi. The commissioners termed it the worst plan they had ever seen.
5. Approved the grading plan for Marin Oaks Unit 1 south of Raphael Village andl west of Country Club Drive, submitted by the Marin Oaks Development Co.

LBJ, Lawmakers Huddle On Timing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson and Democratic congressional leaders today discussed strategy for speeding more of the administration's program through the legislative mill before the Democratic National Convention.

Speaker John W. McCormack said the House is "concentrating on essential matters," in attempting to clear the decks before the convention, opening four weeks from tomorrow in Atlantic City.

McCormack told reporters he hoped the House Rules Committee would clear the Senate-approved anti-poverty bill today.

More Russ Troops Go Home From Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials said today there had been a "steady withdrawal" of Russian troops from Cuba during the past four months.

The number of Soviet military personnel leaving the islands during April, May, June and July was estimated here at around 2,600. There are believed to be between 2,000 and 3,000 still there.

Second Session Set For Marinwood Tots

Second summer session program for pre-school children sponsored by the Marinwood Community Services District at the community center will begin Aug. 17.

Plans for new programs for the session will be outlined to mothers at a meeting in the community center at 8 p.m. Aug. 10 when new children will be registered, said Mrs. Jan Partfitt, director.

Crash Badly Hurts Ex-Marin Officer

California Highway Patrol Officer Charles O. Woodworth, former Mill Valley resident now living in Glen Ellen, Sonoma County, faced possible amputation of his left leg today after the Highway Patrol motorcycle he was riding yesterday was struck by a car.

A spokesman at Sonoma Valley Hospital said Woodworth, who is now assigned to the Santa Rosa office of the highway patrol, had undergone extensive surgery "but it is too early to tell if it is successful."

His condition was described as "satisfactory." Woodworth's leg was broken and badly cut, the spokesman said.

He was struck by a car driven by Marina A. Hall, 39, of Sonoma, driving westbound on Highway 12 near Nuns' Canyon Road at 8:15 a.m. This point is midway between Boyes Springs and Kenwood.

Santa Rosa Highway Patrol Capt. Richard Rust said he had been unable to question Woodworth. The preliminary investigation showed that Woodworth may have been attempting to drive onto the highway from a small side road, Rust said. There are numerous blind spots in the stretch of highway where the accident happened.

The motorcycle "was rolled up like a tin can someone had stepped on," Captain Rust reported.

Woodworth moved from Mill Valley to Sonoma County in June, 1962. He had been with the Marin County office of the Highway Patrol since June, 1955.

His wife, Vera, was active in campaigning for unification of schools districts and advocated at numerous meetings that the whole county be unified into one district. They have seven children.

Marinite Returns Again For Service At Home

From Marin County to Marin County, one sometimes goes by way of North Africa or Korea, according to the record of the new commander of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Lt. Col. Wilbur A. Tapscott, who has just assumed the command of the award winning squadron, is a native of Marin. He was born in Kentfield, Sept. 25, 1921. His father, Robert M. Tapscott, was in the claims department of Fidelity and Casualty Insurance Co. in San Francisco. The family lived on Cypress Avenue in Kentfield. Young Tapscott attended Kentfield Elementary School, Tamalpais High School, and Marin Junior College, and worked for Castro's Garage in San Rafael. He also went into the feeder calf business with two California highway patrolmen, Russell Hannis and Ernesto Monteverde.

Then came World War II. He enlisted at Hamilton Air Force Base in March, 1942.

He took cadet training at Kelly Field, Tex., attended reconnaisance school at Key Field, Miss., and was sent to the 111th Reconnaisance Squadron at Casablanca in 1943, where he flew P-51 Mustangs.

He saw action in the North African, Mediterranean and Southern France campaigns. When the war ended, he was at Strasbourg, Germany as commander of the 12th Tactical Reconnaisance Squadron. He was at Nuernburg during some of the war crimes trials.

He has received the Air Medal with six oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Service Medal with one oak leaf cluster, and the Croix de Guerre with one silver star.

After the war, he was assigned to the 171st Fighter Squadron with the Michigan National Guard. Then followed assignments with the 14th Air Force at Orlando, Fla., where he was chief of the fighter branch, and at Robins Air Force Base, Ga. In 1952, when he was sent to Korea, he returned his wife, the former Jacqueline Kievenaar of Marin County, to Novato, buying a house at 33 Las Alondros.

In 1955, he was assigned to the 28th Air Division at Hamilton. Assignments in Colorado Springs and Japan followed. In 1962, he returned to the 28th Air Division, serving as chief of plans and programing until his appointment as commander of the 84th.

Colonel and Mrs. Tapscott have three children, Terri, 15, Piet, 14 and Libbie, 6. They now live at 225 Mount Shasta Drive in Lucas Valley.

Marinite In Korea

Army Second Lt. George H. Robertson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Robertson, 175 Marguerite Street, Mill Valley, has been assigned to the Seventh Infantry Division in Korea as a platoon leader in Company B, First Battalion of the division's 32nd Infantry.

WEDDING GIFT

Vandalistic Thief Spoils Homecoming

Stepping across the threshold at 29 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, they found the living room a shambles, items worth $300 stolen and an "irreplaceable" figurine and plate glass window broken.

Missing were a $180 transistor radio and a $120 camera. The figurine, titled "Hands," had been hurled against the $80 window. Also broken was a window decanter full of pennies. Many of the coins were scattered in the room.

Whoever did the damage apparently had walked in through the front door. Willis told police he seldom bothers to lock it.

Novato Planners Split, But Pass Cluster Plans

The Novato Planning Commission last night swallowed its misgivings about cluster housing and approved by 4-2 vote a master plan for the Pleasant Valley subdivision being developed by Roberts and Aguirre, with a limitation of 70 units.

The commission in effect decided that cluster housing on sloping land is more desirable than normal subdividing which would require extensive grading.

Before the vote, the commission heard pleas from a handful of citizens that it refuse to sanction the cluster housing concept.

Lloyd S. Brooke of 520 Davis Avenue said, "I hope you people remember why we came to Novato. You are now considering 25-foot frontages with one inch between each house. You can go across the bay and see what this leads to when the houses deteriorate.

Asked who would maintain the recreational area in the development, Planning Director Robert Lagle replied that part of the payments on the houses would be used for that purpose.

Commissioner Merton Shelton wished to know how access may be gained to the extensive sloping area about the subdivision. Lagle said that if the commission and the city council decide to keep this land open to the public and not allow private developments, picnickers may reach it by foot and jeeps may easily ascend it for maintenance.

The plan submitted to the commission called for 84 units. The city council will decide Aug. 10 whether to approve to 70-unit preliminary master plan recommended by the commission.

Commissioner Alfred Bellucci moved to approve the plan with the 70-unit limitation, and chairman Robert G. Johnson, Richard Alcorn and Shelton joined in favoring it. Frank Valim and Wayne Hathaway voted against it. Commissioner Samuel Young was absent.

Ladies, Heed Warning Against Mid-Day Drinking

The pre-lunch cocktail hour has long been recognized as a hazard in the business world.

As a result, business is able to go on without major handicap or set-back.

But what is happening to the Marin housewife?

Reports reaching the I-J indicate that the pre-lunch cocktail hour is a major hazard for socially-minded matrons of Marin.

Except for the unnecessary calories, there is nothing much wrong with a martini or an old fashioned before lunch—but the third and fourth are the ones that spell big trouble as any non-teetotalling businessman can attest.

A large number of Marin women are oblivious to this hazard, according to the reports we get.

The ladies' morning golf game, we are told, winds up at the 19th hole, for a prolonged session.

The neighborhood bridge party frequently includes a pre-lunch cocktail hour, that can extend well into the afternoon. And most ladies' luncheons for fashion shows and what-not are preceded, we are told, by the ubiquitous cocktail hour.

Unlike businessmen, the ladies have no "boss back at the office" waiting for them to get back from lunch, so some of the ladies tarry too long at the bar.

We hear of fashion shows that never quite come off because the volunteer models are too long at the bar.

We don't hear of husbands complaining because of bum dinners, or none at all; but we suspect there are some.

We do read juvenile delinquency reports indicating lack of parental supervision among upper middle class ("our better") families.

Can it be that too many of our ladies are doing too much drinking during the middle of the day?

The Intrusion Of Machines

Sometimes, when our rest is shattered by the snarl of bulldozers cutting away another Marin hill, or by the nerve-tearing rattle of a compressed-air drill, we feel quite anti-machine.

Diesel rigs roar down our highways disturbing the quiet. Sonic booms are becoming more frequent and the government is preparing us for more and more of these tiny earthquakes, beginning in Oklahoma City.

We suppose this is the price we must pay for progress and speed. But that doesn't mean that we have to like the intrusion of machines on our privacy.

SAVES FRIEND UNDER SUBWAY TRAIN

Would you jump into the path of an onrushing subway train to save the life of a friend?

One heroic young woman, 28, did that when her friend, 26, fainted and fell off the platform and onto the tracks in a New York subway station.

Onlookers feared the worst when they saw a train enter the station just as the courageous girl leaped. They saw her pull her unconscious friend into the trough between the tracks and then lie down beside her.

The oncoming train came to a screeching stop but not until three cars had passed over them. When workmen found the two friends, neither was seriously hurt.

Times of crisis often reveal the greatness of love hidden within our hearts and the lengths to which we will go to sacrifice ourselves in behalf of others.

Try to display this same Christlike solicitude for others in the humdrum of daily life, as well as in emergencies. You are bound to leave the world better than you found it.

"Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends."
(John 15:13)

Teach me, O divine Savior, to show the same daring in helping others that I would wish for myself.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Constitutional Revision Group Has Important Job To Perform

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Quietly and without much fanfare, the California Constitutional Revision Commission is pursuing its work as authorized by the people in 1962.

Under the direction of San Francisco attorney John Busterud, a Marin County resident, who is a former assemblyman and a well-known constitutional lawyer, the commission will meet Thursday and Friday in the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles, to pursue its duties, this time discussing recommended drafts for the judicial and civil service articles.

THE COMMISSION is composed of 43 citizens, from every walk of life, including lawyers, professors, business men, civic leaders and labor officials.

From the representation, it is expected that eventually the state will have submitted to it a new constitution, covering every phase of the present document, which has been amended more than 360 times since it was drafted and adopted by the people on May 7, 1879.

It will be up to the people to vote on the new draft, as the people constitute the final authority for adoption of basic law of this type.

WHEN THE DRAFT finally is ready, it may well behoove every citizen and voter to give it a great deal of study.

No matter what the commission may have in mind, and there is no indication so far that members are thinking of anything other than a revision to modernize the document, there is always the possibility error or omission may rob the people of the state of some of their original rights.

Article 1 of the state constitution is somewhat along the lines of the Bill of Rights contained in the national constitution. It is supposed to be a guarantee of "inalienable" rights, which free and independent men are supposed to have.

IF THE COMMISSION rewords Article 1 so that the people actually have such rights which cannot be invalidated by acts of the legislature, then it will have done a good job. The weakness of the present constitution is that the legislature and courts themselves can, by new law and interpretation of law, rob the people of their rights.

Thus, the members of the commission have a grave responsibility to the people of the state.

They can come up with a conservative, moderate or an extra liberal constitution merely through choice of words.

However, the job of the commission is to present a document that will, in the final sense of the word, continue the guarantees citizens voted to themselves back in 1879, no more, no less.

Good Samaritan Is Being Sought

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On May 13 I was seriously injured in an accident while traveling northbound on Waldo Grade near the Sausalito turnoff. A stranger held me until the ambulance arrived and under conditions which were quite difficult for him. The following morning he telephoned the hospital to ask about my condition.

I am deeply grateful to this good samaritan but I do not know his identity and cannot thank him personally.

If any of your readers know of this man's name and address, I would appreciate a call at 924-3078 or 479-3133.

Water Lands Rezoning Views

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The rezoning of the Water District Lands from Interim D zoning to Open Area zoning has been referred back to the Planning Commission by the Board of Supervisors and a public hearing before the Commission is set for Monday, Aug. 3.

This property has been zoned Interim D for about thirty years. Under Interim D zoning single family dwellings and duplexes are permitted on lots of 7500 sq. ft. Various agricultural uses such as livestock and poultry raising, farming, nurseries, wood cutting and similar uses are allowed. Also, with the securing of a use permit, multiple dwellings, hotels, resorts, trailer camps, recreational uses, kennels, stables and extraction of earth and rock. This type of zoning obviously is not suitable for this land and with this in mind two years ago the Board of Supervisors added the new catagory, Open Area, to the zoning ordinance. Uses permitted under O-A are briefly various types of recreational uses and some agricultural uses. Expressly prohibited are logging and removal of soil or excessive excavation and filling.

The question of rezoning this land was first raised about three years ago and such action then urged by the Conservation League. Since then the State Division of Beaches and Parks has proposed to the Water District Board that the lands be used jointly as water shed and a State park. However, this proposal, which may or may not become an eventuality, is a separate matter and should not in any way interfere with the present rezoning.

In these times of rapidly increasing population and decreasing open lands the Conservation League believes that Marin County should preserve these very scenic and unspoiled areas that now belong to the people of the District. The pressure to subdivide and develop at least the fringes of this land is great and protection is needed. Any person or group interested in this rezoning should attend the Planning Commission meeting on Aug. 3.

Compliments For Bus Line

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Greyhound is requesting an increase in commute fares. Before a hue and cry is set off against it by individuals who excell in this, whether warranted or not, may I compliment Greyhound on its excellent, dependable service and its safe, reliable and (for the most part) courteous drivers. Their request is justified, and our promised dividend will be 60 brand-new, latest style buses. You can't beat that even with a county-operated Transit District. I don't see why the county and eleven city governments do not cooperate on a subsidy basis for Greyhound and leave the driving to them, instead of forming a supervisor-supervised bus system.

Birch Society Gets A Boost

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is interesting to note the importance given the John Birch Society at the recent Republican Convention and the continued attack being waged against it and Senator Goldwater by every Communist traitor, moderate, left-winger and liberal in the country. The only reason being that both advocate honest constitutional government as enumerated in our Constitution.

I have a copy of the John Birch Society blue book written by Mr. Robert Welch and I have read every page and as a devoted student of the Constitution of the United States of America I can and will swear that there is not one iota of it that can be construed as being anything other than an attempt by a very able man to awaken the American people to the danger of the Communists already entrenched in this country. While I do not agree entirely with his views I will say that I consider him to be one of America's greatest patriots due to the magnificent job he has done alerting the American people as to how these vermin are undermining our country and even our existence as a free people by their treasonable and subversive acts from the pulpits of some of our churches, elective and appointed offices of trust and now they are using some of our finest colleges and universities as training centers peddling their Marxist duns to our kids at our expense and claiming they are entitled to do so under the guise of academic freedom. And I may add the U. S. Supreme Court recently ruled that they cannot be dismissed for doing so.

The above reasons are why the rats were squealing about the Birchers and Barry Goldwater. They knew and know if Goldwater is elected President the season of treason is over for them and once the American people realize what they are they will demand payment for their treasonable acts.

In conclusion let me add I would suggest to these traitors that are leaving the Republican party because they have lost control will not find a welcome mat out for them in the Democratic party either. We have a few rats such as them that will be removed as fast as their terms of office expire.

I am applying for membership in the John Birch Society and urge other patriots to do likewise in order that we all may retain our liberty.

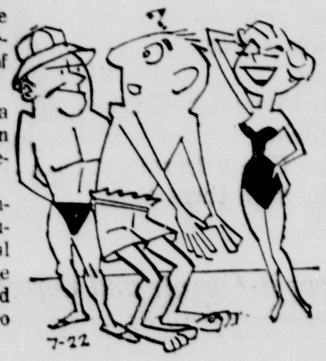
BENNETT CERF

BACK FROM a record-breaking engagement at a Miami Beach hotel, Joe E. Lewis reported that a high spot of his sojourn came when a beautiful girl in the scantiest of bathing suits came up and asked him to teach her how to swim. "I was doing magnificently with her," boasted Joe, "until some nosy lifeguard came along and made us go in the water."



A FAN OF Bob Hope clapped him on the shoulder and yakked, "I remember when you were playing the juvenile lead in a Broadway musical. Boy, you were handsome in those days: big chest, broad stomach." "Ah, yes," sighed Hope. "Of course, all that's BEHIND me now."

LOOKING FOR a gift at a seaside novelty shop to take to her weekend hostess, a woman picked up an intricate gadget with several moving parts. "This looks interesting," she told the clerk. "What is it?"

The clerk examined the gadget gingerly for a moment, then admitted, "I guess it isn't anything. Just a present."

De Gaulle Gets Stuck With Ideas On Southeast Asia Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles de Gaulle got stuck with an idea; now he's reworking it. The last thing he wants to be is ignored; but he's being ignored.

The French president proposed at his second news conference of 1964 the neutralization of all Southeast Asia, including Vietnam. It was an old idea.

He had proposed it at his first news conference of 1964 last January. The United States brushed off the idea then. It's brushing it off now.

THE TROUBLE was that 10 years ago 14 nations at Geneva reached an agreement supposed to keep Southeast Asia peaceful. It's been anything but.

Washington's view was, and is, that Red China and the North Vietnamese broke the agreement. So why think a new agreement would be observed?

France had held Indochina as a colony since the 19th Century and showed no signs of granting independence until some Indochinese got fed up.

SOME OF THEM, Communist-led under Ho Chi Minh, fought the French for seven and one-half years and finally wrecked them in 1953.

This was humiliation for the French who had to be bailed out in two world wars. Now under de Gaulle, they aspire to world leadership again.

The Geneva agreement divided Vietnam into north and south, with Chi Minh still in charge in the north. The French pulled out.

The North Vietnamese decided to take over South Vietnam, which needed help to survive. The United States stepped in and has been helping out since.

IT SEEMS CLEAR from this history that if there was a new agreement and the United States pulled out, the North Vietnamese wouldn't let peace last long.

This time — adding a new touch — de Gaulle wants the United States, France, Russia and Red China to guarantee the peace.

De Gaulle's proposals on Southeast Asia suggest he can't reconcile himself to the thought that France should, or must, keep its nose out of Asia permanently.

IT IS PART of the pattern of his mind. He wouldn't accept a nuclear test and treaty, insisting instead that France must build its own nuclear arsenal.

At the same time he wants a close tie-up with Germany. But this wouldn't be on an equal partnership basis if France had nuclear weapons and Germany didn't.

And if West Germany tried to build the Russians would go through the ceiling. And so would de Gaulle, probably.

The Frenchman seeks a kind of French-German alliance that would dominate their smaller neighbors. But German Chancellor Erhard wants no part of it.

He knowns West Germany is too close to Russia for safety and wishes to have the protection of the United States.

De Gaulle wants that protection but apparently wishes he didn't.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Barry Seeks Red Ties To Violence

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater is seeking a conference with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on the mounting wave of racial disorders in various states, particularly New York and Mississippi.

Purpose of the Republican presidential nominee is to ascertain the factors and forces behind the intensifying disturbances and violence.

IT IS NOT known whether President Lyndon B. Johnson is aware of his rival's desire to meet with the head of the FBI. The assumption is there will be no interference with that.

The proposed meeting was suggested by Goldwater's close advisers. They urged it on two grounds:

That in preparation for his campaign, the candidate should get all the information he can about the explosive racial issue; the best way to do that was to go direct to the leading authority in the country on the matter.

The Republican standard-bearer's advisers also were aware that a group of Southern senators, led by Sen. James Eastland (Miss.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee, are preparing to deliver a series of speeches charging that Communists and leftists are inciting the racial outbreaks.

THESE SENATORS will name names and present other detailed supporting evidence.

The staff of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, also headed by Eastland, is assisting in the drafting of these addresses and the accompanying explosive documentation.

Several Southern senators are known to have urged Goldwater to demand the publication of an FBI report on Communist infiltration of civil rights organizations. This comprehensive study was circulated among high administration officials in the spring, but has never been released.

Existence of this report is known, but its dynamite-loaded contents are not. There has been considerable conjecture about them, but no positive information.

Senator Goldwater is still undecided what to do. It is deemed very likely he will discuss the matter when he confers with FBI Director Hoover. The candidate's aides anticipate he will be guided by Hoover's wishes.

The advisers also are pointing out that another reason Goldwater wants to meet with the FBI chief is because the president recently sent him to Mississippi for the express purpose of stressing his renowned agency's "presence" in that race-troubled state.

THE BASIC structure of Senator Goldwater's triumphant convention "army" will be used to spark his high-powered campaign for the White House.

At the San Francisco convention, the delegations were divided into five regional groups, each under a director and they, in turn, under the overall command of Denison Kitchel, Phoenix attorney and long-time assistant of the candidate. This system will be continued in the fall contest.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Columnist Has No Sympathy For Retirement Into Boredom

NEW YORK (AP)—Life keeps a fellow so busy doing about half the things he ought to that he doesn't have time to do a third of the things he'd like to.

So he has to postpone his pleasures most of his life. He is too busy doing his duty to really enjoy himself.

I have no sympathy with people who retire unwillingly at 65 and then proceed immediately to die of boredom. To me they are stubborn and unimaginative.

WHEN THE WORLD removes them from the harness of the daily plodding, they take revenge by dying.

They live by the puritanical idea that work is given to man to keep him out of mischief. Without work they feel they have no mission in life.

I have just the opposite theory. I think the only purpose of work is to save enough money to spend the rest of your life in mischief and riotous self-indulgence. I believe that any kind of employment is a form of slavery and any man who submits to it an hour longer than he has to is an unenlightened fool.

I KNOW EXACTLY what I'm going to do with myself when I'm 65. Planned retirement has been my constant daydream ever since I started sweeping out a grocery store at the age of 10 and gained an early and lifelong distaste for honest labor.

As soon as the office gives me the farewell $27.50 imitation leather traveling bag and the $1.95 goodby lunch, I'm going to open the window by my desk and drop this typewriter six floors to the street below.

THEN I'M GOING home to a little place in the country and sit motionless in the rocking chair on the front porch for a solid month.

Then I'm going to rock until I feel rested.

Then I'm going to buy a barrel of burbon and drink it while I read a thousand books in my library whose pages I have yet to turn.

Then I am going down to the Bowery and get an artist to tattoo on my chest a giant eagle, an American flag and the motto, "Liberty or Death."

Then I am going to start smoking cigarettes and learn to inhale.

THEN I WILL RUN away from home.

"So long, kids," I will tell my weeping wife and awestruck grandchildren. "It sure has been fun knowing you, but there is no reason for making the arrangement permanent."

Then I am going to the beautiful Island of Bali, a place I saw in my youth and have always had a hankering to return to.

And if, thereafter, you never hear from me, please don't worry. If a fellow can't find something to keep himself occupied with on Bali, he really doesn't deserve retirement.

Novato's Late Budget Raises Many Questions To One's Mind

THE NOVATO CITY COUNCIL held its first public hearing and review on the 1964-65 city budget last week and succeeded in knocking only $9,000 off the total budget which is $68,150 out of balance. The total budget calls for spending $841,020 against an income of $722,870.

That one item was for a master air conditioner for the city hall. It could be eliminated because window-type air conditioners had already been installed, although we don't remember them ever being authorized by the city council.

This year's budget raises many questions in one's mind, compared to previous budgets of the City of Novato. The first one, why was the budget so late? Last year and the year before, the council had it in May. This year, with a larger staff, the council did not get the budget until the city had been operating on it for two weeks.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR J. Julien Baget said it was because he did not have a finance officer. He did not have one last year either, but he was asking for one. A smaller staff got out the set of figures for the budget last year, although, we grant that the figures were somewhat smaller.

We don't think it was the department heads holding it up either, because we watched them working on departmental budgets in March and April.

Baget also asked that the council hold its first public hearing at the same time that it received the budget. Veteran Councilman Wayne Womack refused to do this.

Last December, the council raised the pay of city employees, which included a raise for Baget of $1,300 per year. The council at that time set a policy that it would review salaries only at the mid-fiscal year or the end of the calendar year.

THIS YEAR'S BUDGET had the first eight pages on salary recommendations, which the council deleted from any consideration because of this policy of the past council.

The budget has shown an increase from year to year in the past, reflecting the city's growth. From the 1960-61 budget to the 1961-62 budget there was a $48,575 increase; the next year, $36,116 and last year, $138,004.

This year's budget shows a whopping $247,565 increase, or 47 per cent increase over last year. It is larger than all of the increases in budgets in all the history of the city.

One item in the budget must cause some concern to many people. That item is rather a lack of it.

WHEN THE CITY of Novato took over the community house from the community club, one of the main arguments was that the building needed repairing and the community club could not afford to make the repairs.

Those repairs were delayed by the council when it purchased the Presbyterian Church properties and remodeled them for city offices. We won't argue that this was not a wise move, because it was. The city now has room for all its offices in one location.

During all this time, the community house has been almost neglected. The past council did hire Gordon Phillips, San Rafael architect, to draw plans for complete rehabilitation of the building.

PHILLIPS TOLD the council that by spending approximately $50,000, they would have a building which could not be replaced for $200,000. The council authorized part of this work to bring the building up to electric, plumbing and fire codes.

However, it set aside the remaining $15,470 of the building fund to do the work this year. It would take about $35,000 from this budget for a complete rehabilitation of the building. This amount was not in the budget, even though it is nearly one quarter of a million dollars more than last year's budget.

Past members of the community club and others who want to see the historic community house preserved surely must regret that the city which took over the building when it needed it three years ago, will not spend the money which it said it would to repair the building.

San Leandro millionaire Preston A. Jones complained in Marin Superior Court yesterday that his estranged wife sent a team of seductresses into his manufacturing plant to embarrass and discredit him.

Jones, 52, who makes electric light fixtures at Prescolite Manufacturing Co., is cross-complainant for divorce against Janet G. Jones, 42, of 16 Marina Way, San Rafael.

Jones did not appear personally in court, but his attorneys made the seduction charge before Judge Thomas F. Keating. His attorneys also demanded that Mrs. Jones hand over photographs taken of Jones in a compromising position.

Mrs. Jones's attorney, Wallace S. Myers, insisted he had no such photographs and that he had previously promised the court they would not be used in the divorce trial.

The Joneses were married in Mexico on Dec. 23, 1952, and separated in September, 1962. They have one child.

In her complaint for divorce, Mrs. Jones said her husband left home on Sept. 10, 1962, without any advance warning. "My husband announced to me that he wanted a divorce, and that he intended to marry a young girl with whom he had much in common," she declared.

Marin Youths Capture Ribbons

Terry Zimmerman of Marshall captured fourth and sixth place ribbons for his Jersey stock entries in the 4-H Club dairy competition at the Sonoma County Fair which closed Sunday in Santa Rosa.

Tom Kenna of Novato took a fourth place for his Guernsey entry.

Royalty On Vacation

Sebastopol Woman Leaps To Death From Gate Span

A Sebastapol housewife last night jumped off the Golden Gate Bridge before two San Rafael residents could halt their cars in the northbound lane to restrain her.

Thomas A. Christian of 41 Clark Street and Mrs. Edward F. Greenwood of 530 Canal Street told California Highway Patrol officers they saw Mrs. Emma Barsi, 58, climb the bridge railing 50 yards north of the south tower and disappear.

Mrs. Barsi left a black purse on the bridge sidewalk which contained a note addressed to "Angelo, Art and Dan." She signed it: "Love, Mom."

The highway patrol said Mrs. Barsi took a Greyhound bus from Sebastopol to the toll plaza on the bridge. She got out of the bus and walked onto the bridge at 6:55 p.m.

The Coast Guard searched for one and one-half hours but found no trace of Mrs. Barsi. The highway patrol listed it as a "definite" suicide.

Employers Warned On Report Deadline

Friday is the deadline for employers to file wage reports and returns for unemployment insurance for the second quarter of the fiscal year, according to Charles J. Brady, auditor in charge of the Marin County office of the State Department of Employment.

Penalty and interest will be charged on the late returns. Employers needing assistance in filing the reports may call Brady at the state's San Rafael office.

Car Smog-Device Foes Seek Help For Hearing

Two Marin citizens, who charge that auto smog control devices are harmful to the engin, indicated today they would like to attend a legislative hearing to be held on Aug. 7 in San Francisco.

The two are Lester E. Jennings Jr. of Corte Madera and Lars Williamson of Tamalpais Valley, who head the Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression.

"Anyone interested in voicing their discontent with the auto smog devices is invited to contact us at Post Office Box 131, Corte Madera," said Jennings.

The Assembli Committee on Governmental Efficiency has scheduled a hearing on crankcase smog devices in the State Building in San Francisco on Aug. 7. The committee is headed by Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan (D-Los Angeles).

Jennings and Williamson assert that the crankcase smog devices are costly, expensive to maintain, and are harmful to the engine. They presented their grievances in a series of three articles in the Independent-Journal six weeks ago.

Last week, they engaged in a radio debate over station KTIM with Donald A. Jensen, executive officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, and D. J. Callaghan, Bay Area air pollution control officer. Jensen insisted that the crankcase devices are not harmful to the engine and even help engine performance if properly installed and maintained.

Extensive tests by manufacturers in Detroit have proved that the devices are harmless, he contended.

Marin Agencies Get State Funds

Nearly $25,000 in grants to two Marin County agencies was announced today by the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

The Marin Mental Health Foundation will receive $22,000 for support of its psychiatric outpatient clinic at Ross General Hospital which is expected to serve about 500 persons annually.

The Marin County Council of Churches was granted $2,225 for employment of a part time psychiatric-social worker to work in the council's proposed counseling program.

Three Hurt In Accidents Of Single Automobiles

Two Marin residents and one Petaluman were injured yesterday and early today in Marin County highway accidents involving single automobiles.

Dr. William B. Ryder Jr., 58, of 48 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with fractures of collar bone and ribs and multiple bruises.

Ryder was driving north on the Waldo Grade between Monte Mar and the Rodeo Avenue turnoff at 9:45 p.m. when his car hit the guard rail and rolled down an embankment. Sausalito firemen used a rope to pull Ryder up the embankment on a stretcher.

Also in fair condition at the same hospital, with multiple cuts and bruises, was John Hutchinson, 34, of Petaluma. Hutchinson was driving north on Highway 101 at the Irwin Street turnoff in San Rafael at 1 a.m. today when his car jumped the divider and mowed down a highway directional sign and a power pole.

His car was halted by the chain link fence on the east side of the highway after it carried the power pole 63 feet, according to the highway patrol.

Russell C. Mills, 57, of 16 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, was treated for a cut forehead last night at Marin General Hospital after the car he was riding in hit a light pole on the Sausalito connector road to the southbound lanes of Highway 101 at 5:35 p.m.

The driver, James Joseph Simonds, 46, of San Jose was booked by the highway patrol for drunken driving.

Crime Strikes Tiburon's Heart

The city of Tiburon was incognito again today in its office at Del Mar School. Someone stole the sign which proclaimed "City Office—City of Tiburon."

Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge had dug down for $13 from his private budget to order the small blue plastic sign with white letters which he put up over the door about two weeks ago.

Last night councilmen walking into the meeting at Room One of the School, noted that the sign was missing.

"We need a police department," said newly appointed City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Novato Council Adds To Budget

The Novato City Council last night started to pare down the deficit in the proposed 1964-65 budget, but after more than four hours, had added more than it had cut.

The preliminary budget as submitted by City Administrator J. Julien Baget calls for expenditure of $841,020 against an income of $772,870, leaving a deficit of $68,150.

Councilmen went over the council, administrator, finance, police, election and non-departmental budgets. They succeeded in cutting out $9,600, but added $11,965 in new items, for a net increase of $2,365.

One item cut was Baget's proposal for a fulltime man to keep records on the city's 18 vehicles, at $5,095 a year.

"You're kidding!" said Mayor Robert D. Carrow.

Baget assured him he felt a fulltime man was warranted.

Councilman William Jack Adams said Baget must mean the fulltime man would do all the maintenance work on the cars, not just keep the records.

Baget insisted it would take a fulltime man to handle the records, not do the work.

The council quickly agreed to eliminate that salary request from the budget.

"If we ever do approve it, I want the job. I'll do it each morning before breakfast," Carrow said.

At the start of the meeting, Baget assured the council that the budget contained "a bare minimum" of personnel requests.

Carrow questioned the need for a fulltime clerk to do mimeographing for all city departments. Baget said he would re-

Artist Pleads Innocent On Peddling Charge

Neil Franklin Stouffer, Mountain View artist whose nude paintings were confiscated by Sausalito police July 18, entered an innocent plea in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of peddling the paintings without a city business license. Jury trial date was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 18.

Stouffer, represented by Ephraim Margolin of San Francisco, was originally represented by American Civil Liberties Union in San Francisco, but said yesterday the organization withdrew when the district attorney's office declined to prosecute also for an alleged display of obscenity.

port on the amount of such work at the next budget meeting.

The council eliminated an administrative assistant asked by Baget, but left enough money to add the position in January if it is fel necessary then. Carrow questioned the need, but Baget declared, "I am in charge of seven departments now. Five is the number generally given that an administrator can supervise."

Also cut from the administrator's budget was $1,500 for a records system. A $5,000 records system for the entire city was approved by the council last week.

The council lopped $500 from its own budget, $7,800 from the administrator's budget, and $2,300 from the elections budget. But it added $250 to finance, and $11,445 to non-departmental.

A session on the city attorney, planning, building, public works and parks and recreation budgets, scheduled for tomorrow night, was postponed indefinitely as councilmen wish to attend a meeting on the Stanford Research Institute's "Industry for Marin" study at the Civic Center tomorrow night.

SILENT SWAN SONG

Winnie In Farewell Visit To His Beloved Parliament

LONDON (UPI)—On Feb. 14, 1901, a red-headed, snub-nosed young blueblood named Winston Spencer Churchill took his seat for the first time in the House of Commons.

Queen Victoria had died less than a month earlier. William McKinley was President of the United States. Emperors reigned in Germany, Austria, Russia, China. The Boxer Rebellion was dying out; the Philippine Insurrection still raged.

Churchill, at 26, was already a veteran of the Omdurman cavalry charge and a renowned foreign correspondent of the Boer War.

In the next half century and more he was to dominate the House of Commons and the British nation as no other man of his time.

Yesterday Churchill, less than four months from his 90th birthday, made what aides said would be his last appearance in Commons.

Today the House, in an almost unprecedented tribute, was scheduled to adopt a motion expressing its "unbounded admiration, gratitude and grateful thanks" for Churchill's years of leadership and service.

An all-party delegation led by Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home was detailed to deliver the resolution to Churchill's town house in London.

No British citizen has been so honored since Parliament passed a similar motion saluting the Duke of Wellington for defeating Napoleon at Waterloo, 150 years ago.

Churchill declined accepting a peerage and going over to the House of Lords. He once said he "put two things above everything: God and the House of Commons."

Yesterday the old man slowly entered the oaken chamber as the rays of the afternoon sun slanted through the high arched windows. Both sides of the House looked toward him as he took his customary seat on the front bench and sat silently, leaning on his cane, head bowed over his bow tie, for 45 minutes.

He did not speak. But as he departed, assisted by two of the members, he paused at the door, turned and faced the members.

For a long moment, he gazed back into the chamber where he had made so much history. He made an almost imperceptible nod to the Speaker of the House. And then he was gone.

The House will recess on Friday until after the general elections this October, and Churchill has announced he will not run for re-election.

Today's motion marked the end of an era.

(Independent-Journal photos by Al Sims)

NET GAIN—Student Terry Byrd pulls a plankton net back into outboard carefully after run on Bolinas Lagoon. This summer's course, which began June 22, was the first time the college has made use of the facilities given it by the Coast Guard several years ago.

NEWLY PAINTED—This two story building is headquarters for College of Marin on the coast. It and the neighboring boathouse, face Bolinas Lagoon. Though headquarters are here, the summer class visited many beaches, going as far north as Bodega Head and south to Sausalito.

DROUGHT, NOT 'QUAKE

New City Has Manager, But No Office For Him

Tiburon city councilmen, who last night hired a city manager, also moved toward finding a city hall in which to put him.

Fred Mantegani, Tiburon businessman, was appointed chairman of a citizen committee to seek a city hall or offices. Newly appointed City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose also was named to the committee.

The city now uses Room One of Del Mar School as office and meeting place, but will have to move in a few weeks so the Reed School District can prepare it for fall classes.

Councilmen asked that a citizen committee, headed by Mantegani and to be appointed by Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, seek an immediate solution to the city's housing problem while also considering what long-range city hall needs will be.

"City offices should be as close as possible to as many people as possible," said Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood in urging a downtown street level city hall location.

But most immediately, the location is not so important, countered councilman Leo Souza, who suggested using a room at the Hilarita Housing Project or putting a movable office on a corner of the Del Mar School property. Souza also is on the Reed school board.

Souza urged that an architect and engineer be named to the citizens committee and that the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society be enlisted to study the city's long-range needs.

The offer of either of two buildings on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property, by Tiburon Tidelands Co. which is buying the land, met with little enthusiasm from committee chairman Mantegani.

"That old historic building—they should pull it down and push it into the bay; there are so many termites," he said.

Other councilmen asked that the two buildings on the railroad property, one wood and one stucco, at least be considered.

Councilmen spent a major portion of the meeting discussing provisions of the city contract with the county to provide services until the city can establish its own operations. The contract will expire Aug. 15.

Councilmen indicated they would ask for a short-term contract on planning services, as they move closer to gaining their own planning consultant. They asked a check of building, plumbing, electrical and other fees in hopes of bringing income closer to the cost of required checking of construction.

They asked a study of city street sweeping, now done under contract, on hearing citizen doubts that the county was doing a good job on Main Street.

The asked reconsideration of police protection, on hearing the coverage provided by sheriff's deputies called "dangerous" by Charles Tijerina, chairman of the board of the Tiburon National Bank. Tijerina said he hoped to contract with Belvedere for police protection.

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Discussed possible franchises or business licenses for garbage, telephone, bus, and ferry companies.
2. Set Aug. 10 as the date for discussion of a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. franchise.
3. Received a letter and $25 from Irving Lipschultz, Belvedere, as start of a fund for permanent docking facilities for the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry. The money was transferred to the Tiburon Coordinating Council subcommittee on water transportation.
4. Agreed to let Inspector Harold N. Hockett of the Corte Madera Police Department report on a possible police budget for the new city. Hockett has applied for the police chief post.
5. Set 8 p.m. Aug. 6 as the next meeting date at Del Mar School.

Tiburon Extends County Planning Service Contract

Tiburon planning commissioners last night agreed to aim for a six-month continuance of the present county planning advisory contract with the city.

The contract under which the newly incorporated city is provided with county professional planning advisors expires Aug. 15.

Commissioners discussed a contract cut-off date ranging from 90 days to a year, commission chairman Stephen H. Nash reported, but compromised on recommending to the city council that the contract be extended for six months.

Commissioners discussed various drafts of a general planning policy statement and deferred consideration of a final proposal to the Aug. 3 meeting.

A proposed commission budget of $600 was recommended, for books, maps and publications, in addition to monies to be budgeted for planning advisers.

The commission, which up to now has spent most of its time in preliminary study sessions, will hear its first full agenda of planning requests from citizens at 8 p.m. Aug 3. at Del Mar School.

Trustees To Hear Of Segregation

Sausalito School District trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Bayside School to hear a report from Dr. Wilson Riles, executive secretary of the state commission on equal opportunities in education.

The report was requested by trustees Sept. 30, 1963, following demands by the Marin Chapter of Congress of Racial Equality "that something be done about" schools.

Copies of the 15-page report were received by trustees last night, said Supt. Marcus F. Davis, but will not be made public until the meeting.

The Tuaregs of Mali are said to be part of the more sedentary Berbers of North Africa.

Fastest draw in Marin County

Retailers are literally the speed-merchants of business. For merchandise must MOVE NOW...TODAY. Profits, volume—all depend on speed of merchandise movement. (And headaches come if it doesn't).

But customers don't move to a store because it wants them. They read the ads, think, compare values, analyze them—BEFORE THEY ACT.

Right there is your clue to IMMEDIATE SALES. The closer your advertising medium fits your need for speed, for rapid response, the closer you are to sales success. Get the impact, make the sale.

Here in Marin County more customers are moved to IMMEDIATE ACTION by the Independent-Journal than by any other advertising medium. But don't take our word for it. Ask Macy's, Wards, Penney's, Ames Ford, Eggers Nursery, Value World, Froghorn...to name a few.

And don't settle for the fact, settle for the reasons. Is it because people want to read the I-J? (For women, advertising is the second best-read feature in the paper!) Answer: partly.

Is it because the I-J gives more coverage, reaches more families, than any other medium—66.7% of all homes in Marin? Partly.

It is because the I-J intimately covers the news of each and every community in Marin County? Partly.

Is it because small neighborhood newspapers lack the I-J's comprehensive news coverage which brings added readership to your advertising? Partly.

You're beginning to get the picture. All these things have a direct bearing on advertising effectiveness . . . on creating the IMMEDIATE SALE. The medium that has GREATER ACCEPTANCE on all scores brings GREATER ACCEPTANCE of your advertising...the rapid response you want.

Other media try. The I-J delivers. Circulars, small neighborhood papers, radio, TV—they try. But ask yourself: Did you ever pay good money for a circular and WANT to read it? Can you examine and "re-read" a radio or TV commercial? Neither can your customers.

With the I-J you have the biggest VOLUNTARY AUDIENCE in Marin County—35,271 homes, 84,560 readers. And there's your clue: VOLUNTARY READERSHIP...an audience that's more than meeting you half way because they LIKE TO READ ADVERTISING in a medium they LIKE.

This explains why the Independent-Journal produces the FASTEST DRAW IN MARIN COUNTY for any kind of retail outlet.

VITAL CIRCULATION IN THE I-J

- Circulation up 9.5% in one year—now 35,271 . . . ABC Publisher's Statement, March 31, 1964.
- More daily circulation in Marin than the S.F. Chronicle and Examiner combined.
- Circulation growing faster than population.
- 95% home delivered.

Mart Declines, But Losses Are Trimmed Before Close

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined again today but losses were cut just before the close.

Trading was sluggish through the session as many blue chips settled to lower levels.

In the final hour, steels began to move up, paced by Jones & Laughlin which tacked on well over a point. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem advanced fractionally.

Volume for the day was estimated at a 4 million shares compared with 4.09 million yesterday.

The trend was generally lower among motors, rubbers, rails, tobaccos, farm implements, chemicals, drugs, electronics, aerospace issues and electrical equipments.

Polaroid was down about 2. Off a point or more were High Voltage Engineering and National Cash Register.

Getty Oil gained more than a point and Tidewater advanced about 2. Control Data added a point and Northwest Airlines more than that.

Losses of around a point were taken also by Eastman Kodak, International Harvester and Consolidated Edison.

Diamond National Leaders Split

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard J. Walters, 34, has resigned as president of Diamond National Corp. in a policy split with his father, who is chairman of the board.

The resignation was announced by the father, William H. Walters, who said he would assume the duties of the president.

The elder Walters said his son's resignation was prompted by "differences of opinion over company policies and procedures."

Freightways Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO — Directors of Consolidated Freightways, Inc. has declared a quarterly divident of 15 cents per share, payable Aug. 11 to shareholders of record Aug. 3.

Two great architects once maintained offices at Scotland Yard—Inigo Jones and Sir Christopher Wren.

Air, Rail Cutback Probe Suggested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Recent rail and air service suspensions in California point out the need for a thorough study of the state's transportation needs, Lt. Gox. Glenn M. Anderson declares.

Anderson, as chairman of the California Commission on Interstate Cooperation, Monday asked the legislature's transportation committee chairman to conduct such a study.

He called particular attention to the announcement by United Air Lines that it will suspend San Joaquin Valley operations soon, cutting off its service to such cities as Fresno and Bakersfield.

Valley Food Plant Will Relocate Soon

FRESNO (AP)—The Laura Scudder potato chip plant here will close in September and operations will be moved to a new, larger factory at Tracy.

The Fresno plant employs 140 persons, most of whom will transfer to Tracy.

Novak Square Shopping Center Gets Started—Parking Room

Construction work has started on Novak Square — Novato's newest shopping center at Wilson Avenue and Novato Boulevard. This is a project of builder John L. Novak who has almost eight acres of ground here for a supermarket, other shops and plenty of room for parking.

Focal point of the center will be another 20,000-square foot Roger Wilco Market to be operated by William Jonas who has Roger Wilco in Ignacio. He has applied for transfer of the off-sale liquor license of A. G. Ghiringhelli (Tamalpais Liquors), San Rafael.

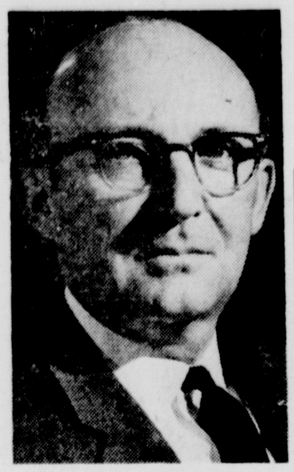
S. S. PRICE of Lucas Valley has been promoted to account manager at the Dow Chemical Co. San Francisco for Dow since 1956.

DURING MAY, the Marin County Multiple Listing Board had the highest percentage of co-operative real estate sales of all boards in the state—72 per cent. It is consistently around that figure or higher. Marin's total sales volume for May was third highest in the state — $6,279,684. San Fernando Valley and the southwest branch of the Los Angeles board were first and second respectively.



CLARENCE E. WEIKEL
Transferred to West Coast

MRS. HELEN PAYNE, real estate school operator at 3566 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, says she has received a certificate of approval from Max Rafferty's office for teaching real estate salesmen, renewal salesmen and brokers.

MARIN MORTGAGE CO., San Rafael announces the placement of $5,000,000 in single family real esate loans in the county during the first half of 1964. Of this amount over $3,000,000 was funded by Western Mortgage Corp., loan correspondent for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

LIVINGSTON JENKS JR.
Made investment officer

S. S. PRICE
Made account manager

LIVINGSTON JENKS JR. of Mill Valley has been promoted from investment analyst to assistant trust department investment officer at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's trust office in San Francisco. He joined the bank two years ago after four years of business and investment experience.

TWO MARIN MEN are slated for promotions at KPIX-TV next month.

Raymond Holtz of Corte Madera has been appointed chief engineer effective Aug. 3. He has been with the television station since 1948, advancing through the engineering ranks to his new job.

Donald E. Lincoln, a technical engineer is being advanced to technical supervisor in mid-August. He has been with KPIX since 1956. He and his wife Marilyn are owners of Dimitroff's Frame Shop, Mill Valley.

PLANNING TO LIVE in San Rafael is Clarence E. Weikel, newly appointed assistant manager of steel erection for Bethlehem Steel Co., Pacific Coast district. His duties will include direct supervision of erection of the Middle Fork Bridge over the Feather River at Oroville, and Bethlehem's new structural steel fabricating works at Pinole Point, Richmond. He has been in the Pittsburgh, Pa. district for the past 10 years.

NEW SALES MANAGER at Marin Sports and Imports, San Rafael, is Saul (Sonny) Rubin, previously in the Canadian imported car field. New service department manager is Robert Downing, former co-owner of a Triumph and B.M.C. agency in Vallejo. World-wide sales of Triumph for the first half of 1964 were 20 per cent higher than during the same period of 1963.

Showdown In Philadelphia—Giants Shoot For Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A pair of teams that sometimes appear to believe that the best way to advance is backwards will tangle tonight for the National League lead.

Philadelphia's league- leading Phillies will entertain the San Francisco Giants, only one-half game behind the pace in second place.

The Phillies planned to send their right - handed ace, Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, to oppose veteran Giants southpaw Billy O'Dell. Bunning carried a 9-4 record into the game, and was 1-0 on the season against San Francisco. O'Dell had a 3-3 overall record and was 1-1 against the Phils.

San Francisco held a 5-4 edge over Philadelphia in their nine games to date, but the Phils had won three straight over the Giants—sweeping their last series at Candlestick Park.

Since that series, neither team has fared particularly well.

Since sweeping the Giants, the Phillies have been able to win only nine of their next 21 games. The Giants recorded a slightly better record, winning 10 of 21.

The Giants hope they have regained their stride after starting their current 18-game road trip by taking two of three games from the Los Angeles Dodgers—including a 5-2 come-from - behind victory over Dodger ace Sandy Koufax Sunday.

Willie Mays, who had hit under .200 in the two weeks preceding Sdnday's game, slammed three hits including a game-winning double.

Hart has hit at a .340 clip since June 2 to raise his average from .238 to .290. He also has 15 homers. Lanier has whacked out two hits in each of his last six games and currently is batting .303.

The veteran left - hander was bombed for 11 earned runs by the Chicago Cubs his last time out and has never regained his previous form after being inury-plagued early in the season.

But Manager Alvin Dark chose O'Dell to open the series —and lefty Bob Hendley to close it after Juan Marichal pitches Wednesday—because of Philadelphia's well - known troubles with southpaws.

Take the last 20 games for example. The pitcher of record against the Phillies in 14 of these games has been a southpaw. Of the club's last 12 defeats, 10 have been by left-handers.

By tossing in left-handers, the other clubs keep the Phillies predominantly left-hand power on the bench.

What irks Mauch about this lefty business is that it doesn't seem to matter who the pitcher is. It's no disgrace to lose to a Sandy Koufax, but with the Phillies it seems all a pitcher has to do if he throws left is toss his glove on the mound and he's in.

Sunday for example, Gordon Richardson, a 25-year-old rookie making his major league debut, beat them 6-1. Richardson held them hitless for four innings, had a shutout through six and wound up with a five-hitter for the St. Louis Cardinals. In the second game Ray Sadecki, another southpaw, mowed them down 4-1, allowing only five hits. Lefty Curt Simmons beat them Saturday.

Mauch has gone to extremes to get right-hand hitters in the line-up, but still no power. Catcher Gus Triandos played first base Sunday to get more right-hand power into the line-up. It didn't help. Triandos went hitless.

The only consistent right-hand hitter on the club has been rookie third baseman Richie Allen, hitting .313 with 17 home runs.

Clay, Liston Sign For Title Rematch

Independent-Journal Sports

Sept. 28 Target; All Is Hush-Hush

LOUISVILLE, Ky.(AP)—Minus the ballyhoo that usually attends such functions, heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has signed for a rematch this fall with Sonny Liston—the man he dethroned last February.

Although the site and date have not been decided, the 22-year-old champ modestly predicts: "I'm going to make this the greatest fight in history. I have a great many surprises for the next fight—surprises in my prediction, on my strategy and on some trainers I'm bringing in."

He had a surprise yesterday, too, not in the fact he signed with Liston but in the way it happened.

The Louisville Lip, who earned a reputation for a flare for publicity before he won the title Feb. 25 at Miami, Fla., shunned the usual signing promotion. It was hush-hush from the time he signed the contract until the agreement papers were taken to Philadelphia, where Liston signed last night.

MONDAY, SEPT. 28

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said the target date for the fight is Monday, Sept. 28, but that the boxers have agreed only to a meeting sometime between Sept. 15 and Oct. 31.

Clay said he would like to fight in Louisville, but that Las Vegas and Baltimore also are in the running.

He picked his hometown because "I'd like to have the honor of bringing the first heavyweight championship fight to the city where people saw me grow up to become the champion—the greatest."

However, he added, "it's up to the men puttin' on the fight. They're gonna put it where they can get the biggest guarantee—the mostest money. That's what I want, too—the money."

Clay, a bit hefty at 226 pounds, flew to Louisville from his Miami training site for the signing. He said he may do some of his training in Egypt or Ghana—among the places he visited during a recent world tour.

DESERVES CHANCE

Faversham said, "I think this is the right fight—I think Liston deserves the chance. Cassius is very confident that he will keep the title—and that he will take on another top challenger in the spring."

The boxers' camps agreed that a Louisville promoter for the fight will have to guarantee between $300,000 and $350,000 for the boxers.

The contract calls for both fighters to get 30 per cent of the gross receipts. Clay received 22½ per cent and Liston 37½ per cent in the February match.

The fight will be put on by Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., which promoted the first match between the two. Liston had stock in Intercontinental but said he has disposed of it.

MARIN NETTERS EAGERLY AWAIT ACTION

Jack Hanley

PHILADELPHIA — This three-game series between the Phillies and the Giants, separated by only a half game in the 1964 National League race, is a crucial one. Neither Gene Mauch nor Alvin Dark need be reminded of that.

But as crucial as the series was, Dark could not help himself on a moment of reflection about the third and final game of the series just completed in Los Angeles between the Giants and Dodgers.

"He is the greates ball player I have ever seen," said the Giant manager.

Dark, of course, was speaking about Willie Mays. There was nothing new in his comment that Mays was the "greatest ball player" he had ever seen. He had said that on many previous occasions.

"It was man-to-man, the greatest southpaw pitcher of the game against the greatest player," said Dark, "and the player, Mays, was the winner."

Dark was referring to the ninth inning drama in Chavez Ravine last Sunday between Sandy Koufax and Mays. It was the 99th game of the season for the Giants and the score was tied 2-2 in the ninth. A pair of Dodger errors had put Koufax in the hole and there were two out.

THERE WAS a Giant runner, Matty Alou on first base, and Mays suddenly found himself behind Koufax on a two strike, no ball count. Willie fouled off three balls, swinging for the fence each time. Then, Koufax went to 2-2 and Mays zeroed in on the Dodger southpaw's next pitch.

It wasn't a homer but just as decisive. It was a rocketing double hat chipped blue paint on the first bounce off the fence in left center—a double that scored Matty, running for Harvey Kuenn, with the winning run.

JIM RAY Hart, the rookie, was to hit a homer after May's double but that merely put the game out of reach of the Dodgers at 5-2. However, everybody in Dodger Stadium knew who had won the game and so did Dark.

"Willie has delivered for us time and again in the clutch," said Dark. "He is all pro. He rises to the occasion. I have seen many dramatic duels between a pitcher and batter but I shall always remember that man-to-man battle between Koufax and Mays.

"It meant the difference of coming into Philadelphia 1½ or just a half game out. And Mays was the difference."

THAT'S WHY the Giants pay Willie $105,000 a year. Without him, they would be just another ball club.

Going into that third and final game with the Dodgers, Mays was 0-for-10 in the series and then suddenly broke loose with a pair of singles and his game-winning double. Those three hits may have been the signal that Mays is off on another streak. If he is, the Giants should win the 1964 pennant in a romp.

LITTLE LEAGUE THRILLERS

All-Stars Open Tourney

Twin Cities, Tiburon Peninsula, Marinwood, Novato and Hamilton-Loma Verde Little League All-Star teams advanced to the quarter-finals of the California District 3 All-Star Tournament with victories yesterday.

The schedule for tonight's quarter-final action, all games scheduled to start at 6 p.m., is: San Geronimo vs. Hamilton-Loma Verde at Hamilton AFB; Marinwood at Novato; Mill Valley American at Sausalito, and Tiburon vs. Twin Cities at Larkspur, that gamet o be aired on Radio Station KTIM.

Twin Cities Wins In 8th

Twin-Cities All-Stars of Larkspur and Corte Madera nipped the Strawberry team 3-2 in an eight-inning thriller at Wagner Field in Larkspur.

The Twin-Cities boys had a 2-0 lead in the sixth and last regulation inning and pitcher Greg DeLong had pitched 5⅓ innings of no-hit, no-run ball while striking out nine. But then the roof caved in on his bid for fame and he gave up two game-tying runs. Phil Brooks came on to relieve DeLong and blanked Strawberry for the next two and two-thirds innings. During that time he whiffed six.

Collecting a total of nine hits off pitcher Bill Schneider who went the distance for Strawberry, Twin-Cities scored the winning run in the bottom of the eighth inning on an error.

DeLong, who gave up the only two Strawberry hits, racked up three hits himself at the plate. Outfielder Roger Smith chipped in with two hits to help the Twin-Cities attack. Twin-Cities scored its first run in the opening frame and added another in the second.

Marinwood 5-4 Winner

A key double by Dewey Forry and heads-up base running by Bruce Dokken broke up a tie ball game in the bottom of the sixth inning and gave Marinwood a 5-4 decision over San Rafael American League stars in a game played in Novato.

Dokken reached first on a fielder's choice in that last inning and then made it to third on Ferry's double. Then Steve McClain bounced one back to the box. Dokken started back to third, but when the pitcher threw to first, he broke for the plate and slid home with the game-winning run.

It was a big blow by Forry who also came out of the game as the winning pitcher, going the route and allowing four hits, three walks and striking out six. Marinwood had a total of six hits, McClain getting two of them.

Novato Wins; Dillon Star

Novato's All-Stars blasted five runs in the opening inning against the shell-shocked Gallinas Valley stars and then coasted home with a 11-5 victory in a high-scoring affair on the Gallinas Valley field.

Russ Dillon, a powerful little fella, knocked in five of the 11 runs on a pair of home runs, the first one a two-run shot in the second inning and the other a three-run blast in the fourth frame.

Glenn Holsclaw was the winning pitcher for Novato, going all the way on the mound. Losing pitcher for Gallinas Valley was John Dohn who started the game but couldn't get an out. He was relieved by Bob Daniele who gave up the other six runs before handing the ball to reliever Greg Ring.

Tiburon Nips Mill Valley

Pitchers Greg Ring and Frank Bird combined talents to pitch a two-hitter to lead the Tiburon Peninsula All-Stars to a narrow 2-1 victory over Mill Valley National on Tiburon's Judge Field.

Greg was the starting and winning pitcher, going the first three innings before being relieved by Frank who hurled the final three. Mill Valley losing pitcher Mike Locati allowed four hits, and struck out 10.

3-2 Win For Loma Verde

The Hamilton-Loma Verde Little League stars scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to nip San Rafael National 3-2 in a tight game on the Hamilton Air Force Base diamond.

Larry Caldwell put the San Rafael team in the lead with a two-run homer and the San Rafael stars carried that lead until the fateful last inning when the home team exploded for its three runs.

Bob Weiskotten started for San Rafael but was relieved by the eventual losing pitcher, Larry Brazda, in the fifth inning.

Ken Venturi Gets Hero's Reception

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Golfer Ken Venturi, his game in tatters and his professional career seemingly near an end just six months ago, came home yesterday to the cheers of his native San Francisco.

The U.S. Open champion, fresh from a victory in the Insurance City Open at Hartford, Conn., was greeted at San Francisco International Airport by a noisy band of more than 200 people.

Then a 30-car cavalcade sped the 33-year-old Venturi and his wife, Conni, to a reception at the Civic Center where Mayor John F. Shelley said:

Shelley and the city's Board of Supervisors presented Venturi with a scroll and a pair of cufflinks bearing the seal of San Francisco.

Then longtime friends of the golfer capped the "Ken Venturi Day" celebration with a banquet at a San Francisco restaurant.

His wife said their excitement was comparable to that following her husband's comeback victory in the U.S. Open.

"I thought we'd settled down a bit after the Open. But this puts us right back in the skies. Ken didn't sleep a wink from looking forward to coming home," she said.

But plagued by physical ills and shaken by doubt, Venturi went without a tournament victory between 1960 and his Open title earlier this year. He confessed he was ready to quit the game just six months before his comeback triumph.

Venturi Now 6th On Money Roster; Nicklaus Leads

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Young Jack Nicklaus' $90,837 winnings continue to keep him in front among Professional Golfers Association moneymakers with a solid $10,000 lead over Arnold Palmer.

Palmer has won $80,693 for second place while Tony Lema is third with $66,778 and Billy Casper is fourth with $60,846.

Nicklaus has won three of the 17 tournaments he played in this year while Palmer won two of 18 and Lema three o0f2 .

Ron Holmberg Wins

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

OMAHA—Sugar Ray Robinson, 162, New York, and Art Hernandez, 160, Omaha, drew, 10.

THE LITTLE LEAGUE STRIKES BACK

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Little League Baseball, Inc. took issue yesterday with pitcher Joey Jay of the Cincinnati Reds, who criticized organized baseball program for youngsters.

"By his ill considered comments, Jay has not enhanced his own image as the first former Little Leaguer to go to the major leagues," said Robert H. Stirrat, Little League director of public relations.

Jay was quoted in an interview Friday as saying he intended to discourage his son from participating in the Little League program.

"I was amazed to find . . . they have what they call a Little League farm group in which my 7-year-old son, Stephan, could play. . . . That is far too young for organized training in something that is supposed to be fun," Jay was quoted.

Jay said he also felt parental involvement was a stumbling block for a young boy playing in the Little Leagues.

Stirrat said there was no record at Little League headquarters here that Jay's son "is now or ever has been a member of a Little League farm team."

"The parental situation to which he referred," Stirrat said, "does not take place in Little League. It is ironic that more than 200 youngsters in his home city of Middletown, Conn., participate in a highly successful and scrupulsously conducted Little League farm team program that bears his name."

Stirrat added:

"As a member of a major league team, Jay cannot justify his ignorance of the great numbers of former Little Leaguers now coming into organized baseball. This year there were Little League grads on the roster of every major league club and currently more than 300 such yonug men are under contract to teams in organized baseball."

49ers Trim Three Rookies

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, down to 56 players after their first squad cut, returned to heavy training drills today.

Cut from the squad yesterday were three rookies — halfback Ken Ballard from Riverside Junior College and linebackers Gene Baker of Whitworth College and Ted Freeman of San Francisco State.

Baker was San Francisco's 20th draft choice this year. Freeman and Ballard were free agents.

The 49ers can carry only 40 players when the National Football League season opens.

New Forces Breaking Up Bigtime Golf's Big Three

(First in a Series)
By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Professional golf's Big Three, which Jack Nicklaus a year ago threatened to convert into a Big Me, suddenly has developed into a Big We.

The four major pro championships of 1964 now have been decided and of the so-called Big Three—Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player— only Palmer, the Masters winner, came away with one of the choice plums.

Nicklaus, although the season's leading money collector, went 0-for-4 and failed to qualify for the $100,000 World Series of Golf, which he had won two years in a row. Player never seriously threatened in any of the four big championships.

New forces are making themselves felt in bigtime golf. New faces— one of them, at least, an old face re-emerging from the shadows of obscurity— have moved in to challenge Nicklaus, Palmer and Player.

One of them is the lean, serious face of Ken Venturi, 33, who slew the ghosts of past failures and frustrations in winning the U.S. Open last month in Washington's stifling heat.

Another is the puckish face of Champagne Tony Lema, 30, conqueror of cranky, old St. Andrews in his first try in the British Open and the most colorful figure the sport has produced since Walter Hagen.

A third is the fresh, baby face of Bobby Nichols, 28, who performed golfing miracles for four days in leading the PGA Championship through every round. He captured the imagination of the nation by the way he stood off the constant pressure of Palmer and Nicklaus.

As winners of major championships, Venturi, Lema and Nichols qualify to oppose Palmer, on old hand, in the scramble for the $50,000 first prize in the World Series of Akron, Sept. 12-13.

"This is very healthy for golf generally," said Jim Gaquin, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers Association, discussing the even distribution of the four big titles.

"The emergence of the so-called Big Three did a lot to stimulate the game and we can't knock it. But it created an awkward situation.

"Sponsors began to feel that their tournaments were a failure if they couldn't get Palmer, Nicklaus and Player—or at least one of them. The players on the tour became a little upset. They felt that there were any number of men capable of winning the big tournaments and that too much publicity was given the Big Three.

"This year's developments tend to prove that golf is not dominated by a small handful. We all think it's a good sign."

Since 1958, Palmer has won four Masters, the Open and the British Open. Nicklaus, at 24, has joined such immortals as Gene Sarazen, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson as the only players to win all three of America's major pro crowns—the Masters, Open and PGA. Player has won the Masters and PGA and become the only foreigner to lead the money winning list.

Although shut out this year from a major title, Nicklaus, suffering a tendency to start with a bad round, has rallied to finish third in the Masters and second in both the British Open and PGA. He is currently the leading money winner with $90,-864.76, followed by Palmer, with $80,693.37.

But golf fans are buzzing over a new Big Three—Venturi, Lema and Nichols. How good are they? Can they last?

(Tomorrow: Ken Venturi.)

MAJOR LEAGUES

Yanks, Cincy Win In Only Contests

By MURRAY CHASS
Asosicated Press Sports Writer

Suddenly they can't score against Ralph Terry.

Making his first start since June 10 when he last won, Terry pitched his first shutout of the season as the Yankees stopped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and increased their American League lead to one game.

It was at the start of this month that Terry's temporary downfall began. Pitching in relief against Kansas City July 1, the 28-year-old Yankee gave up a game-winning home run to Bill Bryan in the 11th inning.

Two days later, the situation was similar: Terry came on in relief in the 10th inning, taking over for Stan Williams, who had held Minnesota scoreless through the first nine innings.

Unfortunately for Terry, the result also was similar: Don Mincher slugged a triple and Jerry Snyder followed with a sacrifice fly for a 1-0 Twins' victory.

SERIES STAR

Certainly, Terry must have thought, it wasn't like this in the 1962 World Series when he was the pitching star.

Finally, after allowing two runs in two innings of relief July 5, Terry was rewarded with a two-week rest.

Since that time, however, he hasn't permitted a run in 17 innings. First came three relief appearances totaling eight innings, then a promotion out of the bullpen.

Terry, now 3-8, shut out the Angels on seven hits, not letting a runner get past second base. The performance sent his earned run average to 5.18, the first time it's been under 6.00 since mid-May.

Terry received all of the support he needed from Elston Howard and Roger Maris. Howard doubled home Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone, who had singled, in the second. Maris clouted his 15th homer in the third.

Jim Maloney pitched and helped bat the Reds to their victory under coach Dick Sisler. Sisler took over for Manager Fred Hutchinson, who remained in Cincinnati for further hospital tests. Hutchinson is suffering from chest cancer.

Maloney scattered six hits, picking up his 10th triumph in 19 decisions. He singled in the first run of a five-run fifth inning and batted in another run with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly. He also singled in the fifth.

No Further Expansion At This Time, Says NFL Head

ATLANTA (AP)—Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League said yesterday the NFL has no plans for expansion at the present time.

Rozelle told the Atlanta Constitution that all present franchises appear to be firmly entrenched. At the same time he said he did not want to be too pessimistic about Atlanta's chances to enter the league.

"Generally speaking, Atlanta with a new stadium would have to be considered an attractive city for an NFL franchise," he said.

"At this time, however, we have no plans to explore cities toward possible expansion," he said by telephone from New York. "The prevailing feeling is that our two new clubs, Minnesota and Dallas, needed more time to become more competitive before expansion is seriously approached."

Atlanta lost a chance Sunday for an NFL franchise when the St. Louis Cardinals decided to remain in that city.

Rozelle said, however, that many NFL clubs believe the league could operate advantageously with 16 teams instead of the present 14.

"Many clubs, possibly even a majority, feel that fan interest would be better with 16 teams," Rozelle said. "We could divide into two eight-team conferences, likely the East and West, and then slice each of these into four-team divisions.

"This way, no club would finish lower than fourth in its division, and you would eliminate the situation we now have of one team in each division finishing seventh."

Rozelle pointed out that a majority is not enough to approve expansion or transfer of a franchise. Twelve of the 14 teams must approve.

DISTRAUGHT BEARS

Season Dedicated To Willie And Bo

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The Chicago Bears, defending National Football League champions, have dedicated the 1964 season to teammates Willie Galimore and John Bo Farrington, who were killed in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Owner-Coach George Halas suggested to his squad in training at St. Joseph's College this would be the greatest honor which could be bestowed upon them. The players pledged to carry it through.

Galimore, a halfback and one of the most feared runners in the league, and Farrington, a pass-catching end, were fatally injured when thrown from their skidding small car on an unmarked sharp turn on a country road two miles west of camp.

Funeral services were to be held this morning with all the Bears and coaches in attendance, as well as Galimore's widow, Audrey, who arrived from their home in Tallahassee, Fla.

She has three children, Ronnie, 7, Fawngreta 5, and Marlon 4.

Farrington's widow, Vivian, was in such a state of shock in Houston that she could not travel. They were married last March.

The bodies will be sent to their home cities for burial.

The Bears were so stunned by the tragedy that all seemed in a daze yesterday. A light workout was held in the afternoon with the players going through the motions like robots.

"We will put on full uniforms and try to have a hustling practice Tuesday afternoon," said Halas. "I know that Monday was the saddest day in Bear history. Something like this reaches the heart and makes everything else seem petty.

"It is going to take a great deal of will power to carry on. I know we all can do it. Later this week we will have a scrimmage, our last one before the All-Star game Aug. 7."

'Eagle' Returns To Winning Form

Constellation broke American Eagle's winning streak of 15 races Sunday with a 29-second victory.

Skippered by William Cox, American Eagle came in ahead of Constellation, Nefertiti, Easterner and the British Trial horse Norsaga in that order yesterday.

Novato Sailing Club Seeks New Members

As part of a membership drive, the Novato Sailing Club will hold an open sailing day next Sunday at noon at the Black Point ramp, it was announced today.

The club, at its last meeting, voted to hold the event to host all interested persons, with or without sailboats, to a day of sailing around the Black Point area.

State Hunting Deadlines Coming; Slight Drop For Salmon Trollers

STEVENS

If you happen to belong to a duck club I remind you that Migratory Game Bird Feeding Licenses are now renewable for the coming year. Don't forget that the deadline for applications is Friday, Aug. 15 and you must include $25.

I remind you also that should you have a son under 18 years of age he must have a certificate of competence or a prior year's California hunting license to qualify for a 1964 hunting license.

And don't forget that Aug. 3rd is the deadline date for applying for the antelope hunt and that only a person 18 years old or older may apply. If your name is drawn there will be a $7 permit fee. If your yen is for a shot at a Roosevelt Elk in Humboldt County you still have time as the deadline is Oct. 15.

You have until Aug. 26 to make application for the Tule Elk hunt in Inyo County and there is a $25 permit fee for successful drawing for either of these elk.

SO MUCH for the hunters; now a word or two anent fish.

Salmon trolling made a slight drop over the past weekend. Many of the boats had under a half dozen fish. However, from Caruso's place at Sausalito comes word that the Jenny C took 26 salmon to 28 pounds southwest of the Lightship and the K.W. boated 15 to 31 pounds. From Lee Anderson's I learned that the Privateer No. 2 had one salmon of 22 pounds but netted a large number of rock fish, the Lucky Day had only two salmon to 26 pounds and the Phil Ray seven to 16 pounds. Among the few salmon taken by the boats working out of Lee Anderson's place there was at least one beautiful 37 pounder.

I note late evening trollers working out of Dowrellio's Crocket Harbor have done fairly well. The Happy Days No. 2 unloaded 33 bass to 17 pounds and the Dowrellio 6 had 10 to 16 pounds. Also reported was the boat RSP accounted for six stripers to 20 pounds off Alcatraz.

'Hutch' Hospitalized; Reds Solemn, Loyal

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Cincinnati Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson has countless thousands pulling for him in his fight with cancer, but there are few more loyal, or solemn, rooters than his Reds in their daily battle for the National League pennant.

The third-place Reds flew to Milwaukee in charge of coach Dick Sisler yesterday after Hutchinson entered Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for "tests" expected to take several days.

The Reds were reluctant to talk about their manager's illness as they opened a three-game series with an 11-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Typical comment included: "Sure hope he's back soon ... hate to hear it ... that's too bad. He's a great guy as well as a great manager."

Sisler said that the 44-year-old Hutchinson complained of back pains and decided to check into the hospital when he awakened after a Sunday doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

Hutchinson, a former major league pitcher, was stricken with cancer in the upper chest several months ago. The illness was disclosed when he checked into the Tumor Institute in Swedish Hospital at Seattle, Wash., last January.

"We're all pulling hard for him," Sisler said. "The players, of course, all know of his condition, but they don't like to talk about it. They respect him and like him and are trying their level best to win to ease his problems.

"They're giving everything in their power. If there's such a thing as second effort, they're giving it. There's no way of telling for sure what goes through an athlete's mind, but I think they're trying harder."

Surgery For Ted Williams

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams—last of the .400 hitters and first on the player casualty lists—will undergo surgery at New England Baptist Hospital today.

The retired Boston Red Sox slugger was told yesterday he had to have an operation to relieve pressure on a nerve caused by a ruptured disc.

Williams has been a patient at the hospital since July 12 and in traction much of the time.

The spinal problem is not new for the six-time former American League batting champion with 521 lifetime home runs. He has previously been hospitalized and in traction although the fact was not generally known.

Jockey Gilligan Suffers Broken Back At Hollypark

Gilligan was thought at first to have escaped with bruises. But he complained of back pains and an X-ray showed a compression fracture of the sixth vertebra. He'll be out of action four to six months, but should recover completely, doctors said.

Delgado, a 17-1 long shot, was within a stride of finishing third yesterday when he went down.

Delgado didn't cross the wire, but Gilligan—flying through the air—did.

The track physician said Gilligan would be hospitalized about two weeks and then released, wearing a brace.

Twins Give Mele Confidence Vote

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Owner Calvin Griffith of the Minnesota Twins reaffirmed his confidence in Manager Sam Mele yesterday despite a slump that has seen the Twins sink from a pennant contender to sixth place in the American League.

Griffith, who earlier had said Mele would finish the season, repeated that he is giving "no consideration" to a managerial change.

MARIN'S PRO BALL PLAYERS

Cimoli In Minor League; Boccabella Still Slumps

Gino Cimoli, former San Francisco baseball star who now lives in Tiburon, batted .333 his first week with Rochester, N. Y., of the Class AAA International League after being sent to the farm club by the Baltimore Orioles of the American League.

The outfielder had three singles in nine at bats for the first week with Rorchester, according o Player Pteriscope of Novao. He also had one run batted in.

JOHN BOCCABELLA of San Anselmo, the other Marinite playing Triple-A ball, batted .212 in the last reported week of action with Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League, top farm team of the Chicago Cubs. The first baseman had a homer, triple, a double and four singles in 33 at bats. He also had four more RBI's.

The performance cost 3 points from his average which sagged to .235 (89 for 378). In the power department, Boc has 18 homers, 7 triples, and 14 doubles, has 54 runs batted in and 49 runs scored.

GERRY ARD of Fairfax, bonus rookie with Modesto of the Class A California League, signed by the Houston Colts, lost two points from his batting mark for the week when he got 6 safeties in 27 at bats. He knocked in three and scored one run himself to push his season's total to 32 RBIs and 31 runs scored.

He is now at .238 (71 for 298) with two triples and seven doubles. He has been holding down the shortstop position for Modesto throughout the season.

RON COLE of Mill Valley, pitcher for the same Modesto team, appeared in one game for the past reported week and lasted five innings to get stung with the loss. He allowed eight hits, two walks and struck out one.

His season record is now 10-6 and his earned run average is 3.57 for 22 games and 116 innings. He has been tapped for 110 hits and 45 bases on balls and has whiffed 92.

HANK SAUER: FOR SPECIAL JOBS

By SCOTT BAILLIE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—So he smashed 41 home runs one season and now they've got him pitching batting practice.

Sounds like a sore of a letdown, doesn't it But not when you're talking about Henry (Hank) Sauer, the gruff-looking long ball crasher of other years in the National League, who now is a scout on "special assignments" for the San Francisco Giants.

At 11:30 in the morning, he can be found grooving the ball down the middle at batting practice for youngsters who need help on their hitting and veterans who want to park one over the barrier.

Come game time, and the old "Honker" is headed toward the private box of club president Horace Stoneham, overcoat over one arm and looking very "carriage trade" once he's out of the grimy flannels.

"The Giants send me around to their various farm clubs where I work with youngsters on their hitting," Sauer said the other day as he relaxed in the dugout. "And during home games I sit a lot with Mr. Stoneham talking about players and baseball in general. And I'll tell you, fellah, he knows more about the game than a lot of baseball people."

Hal Lanier, son of ex-pitcher Max Lanier, whom Sauer frequently faced during the 1950s, is one batter who paid heed to Hank's advice and belted a three-run homer.

"Sauer showed me how to hit out there, even though I'm a righthanded batter," Lanier said. "I do better when I hit to right. He showed me how to wait a ilttle longer on a pitch before taking a swing."

Sauer became an institution at Chicago for six and one-half seasons. He won the league's Most Valuable Player award in 1952 after hitting 37 homers and driving across 121 runs. In 1954 he enjoyed his season high of 41 blasts.

Sauer was with the Giants when they moved from New York to San Francisco in 1958 and he closed out his career, mainly as a pinch-hitter, a year later.

"You know it's time to retire when you try to beat out a grounder and feel as if you were running on your knees," the 45-year-old veteran said.

Then it was Sauer's turn to pitch in batting practice. There was a welcoming whoop from the Giants. Willie Mays, who robbed him of many an extra base hit a decade ago, gave him a playful swipe in the pants with a bat.

"Here comes Honk!" chortled Orlando Cepeda. "Now we sock the long ball!"

Outstanding Boy In Swimming Meet

Terry Blake, 14, and Edward Anderson, 7, were triple winners. Other winners were Anne Burnett, Lauri Crooks, Janet Mulhern, Carol Yertson, Nancy Yertson, Chris Mulhern, Andy Reed, Jim Gormley, Jimmy Lattire and Mike Becker.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

These Witches Are Not for Burning

A few brief centuries ago, in and around picturesque old Salem, we are told a favorite sport of the townspeople was watching occasional witches' barbecues. The witches, I suspect, were not intriqued over their selection as the main attraction. With so little diversion otherwise available, aside from chasing turkeys and being chased by Indians, the early settlers might be partially forgiven for their weird tastes in entertainment. Boredom can be deadly.

Today, of course, both the witches and the townspeople have become civilized. So, fire is out. Passive resistance is more chic. Besides, our witches no longer employ the boiling cauldron, the bats' wings, the chants, and the rituals. Far more effective weapons are too easily available, and propelled by jet, wire, and horsepower, mechanical version, more victims can be attacked much more quickly. Today, the weapons of our hep witches are the pen and the tongue.

Character assassination has become the chief occupational activity of so many, it is almost safer to leave a filled purse on the sidewalk than risk a personal reputation to the light of day—or the dark of night. This activity is all the more frightening, since the first shot or barb need only touch the intended target. The weapon of the lie, half-truth, and inuendo, is then quickly passed from one set of eager lips to another, each, in turn, anxious to fire away with no concern over the whys of the matter.

If you think old Lou is reaching pretty far to wax poetic, recall the last bit of gossip or juicy item you listened to. And then, try to remember how much time elapsed before you grabbed an ear to re-tell this enticing bit of news. You edited the story a bit, too, didn't you? Needed a little color to add interest, like a pinch of just the right spice to the casserole. Another poor guy or woman, who never knew what hit him or her!

And, what has all this to with the price of butter, or the fortunes of Ames Ford, for that matter? Considerable. Regretfully. Occasionally—thankfully less and less frequently—we are still criticized for the unenlightened policies of the absentee owners of Ames Ford during the years prior to 1959. For some, again thankfully only a small percentage of our wonderful people of Marin, it seems impossible to accept the certain fact that Doug Cowan and I are completely responsible for operating Ames Ford, and have been so responsible, since early in 1959.

It seems impossible for this small segment to accept the also certain fact we, Doug and I, answer to no absentee owner; that we live in this County; that our policies are determined and implemented only after the most conscienteous consideration of creating the very best public image; that our entire fortunes are "married" irrevocably to Ames Ford, and to no outside interest or ventures; that our confidence in our own business acumen, coupled with a healthy respect for the intelligence of the people of Marin, naturally dictates we would not operate on a "fast buck" theory.

We have come so very far in our drive to convince the people of Marin that Ames Ford is an upstanding and outstanding business, operated on an admitted profit-making basis, with complete integrity. We have come far, but not far enough. We still have to reach the isolated areas where doubts persist, where long memories of pre-Doug Cowan ownership and direction crop up, where an uninvited "expert" will safely brag of the "better deal" he could have gotten for you, after you've purchase your car from Ames Ford.

Some of our "competition" would rather join the minority wailing chorus against "that Ames Ford crowd", than investigate and thereby discover the truth. It is even possible a way or two to mend their own fences might be discovered in the process. We invite these dealers and any other doubter to talk to an Ames customer who has had an occasion to fault his transaction with us. If he came in to talk it over with old Lou or Doug, the "County Patsy", I'll bet he wasn't unhappy when he left. We do make mistakes, sometimes; we try to correct them, always, if we're told about them.

COL RALPH M. WANDERER Jr., new base commander at Hamilton Air Force Base and Mrs. Wanderer relax in the front yard at their home with their daughters, Chris, 6, and Barbara, 15. Their two sons, Ken and Buzz were busy and unable to be present for the picture.
(Independent-Journal photos)

BARBARA AND Mrs. Wanderer discuss pictures that will be mounted on brightly colored burlap to add personal touches to the room they are readying for their guest for the coming school year, Brigette Hedel of Orleans, France. Brigette will be spending the year with the Wanderers under the American Field Service program at Tera Linda High School.

VERSATILE ARTIST

Commander's Wife Suits Role

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Graciousness and friendliness seem to be attributes of wives of the commanders at Hamilton Air Force Base and Mrs. Ralph M. Wanderer Jr. is no Exception.

Mrs. Wanderer, wife of Col. Wanderer, the new base commander, already has a host of friends at the base and in the area as Col. Wanderer has been deputy for personnel, 28th Air Division Headquarters for the past two years. The new position will not necessitate moving from their lovely home on the hill at Hamilton.

WHILE VISITING the University of Montana, Mrs. Wanderer of Helena, Mont. met her future husband, who belonged to the same fraternity as her brother. In 1940 they were married at the Presidio in San Francisco when Col. Wanderer was a newly graduated cadet.

His first tour of duty as a second lieutenant was in Hawaii and his young bride accompanied him to the Islands, where they were stationed at the time of the disaster on Dec. 7, 1941. "No one was hurt in the homes at Hickam, but it still leaves one speechless to see the barracks where the boys were housed that day. The barracks have been left with all the many shell holes in them," Mrs. Wanderer said.

Returning to the mainland, Mrs. Wanderer for a time worked as a secretary at Hamilton. The Wanderers were united in 1943 and since then have been stationed at various bases here and overseas. While in Guam, Mrs. Wanderer began painting in oil specializing in landscapes, and her home now has several of these paintings. Flower arranging, cooking and sewing are also among the hobbies of the new commander's wife.

Mrs. Wanderer is a busy mother of four. The Wanderer children are Ken, 20, who will major in political science at the University of Oklahoma this fall; Ralph, III, "Buzz", 18, is a sophomore at College of Marin, manager of the Lucas Valley pool this summer; Barbara, 15, a junior at Terra Linda and Christina, 6, who will be a first grader at Meadow Park School this fall.

Proud Mother, Mrs. Wanderer pointed out that Barbara was a great help to her, and when it is necessary for her to be away from the home, Barbara can take over any of the household duties, including the cooking. "And she is a very good cook," Mrs. Wanderer commented.

Barbara is particularly looking forward to school this fall as she will have an "adopted sister" for the school term. Brigette Hedel, a young French girl from Orleans, France will spend the school year with the Wanderers and will attend Terra Linda High School as a senior under the American Field Service program. Mrs. Wanderer and Barbara are busy adding personal touches to the bedroom. Brigette will have.

The petite Mrs. Wanderer will be busy this year, not only entertaining at home, but as advisor to the Officers' Wives Council and other honorary appointments as the base commander's wife.

BEAUTIFULLY ARRANGED flowers and paintings grace the Wanderer home, both hobbies of Mrs. Wanderer, shown putting the final touches on an arrangement of gladioli. In the background is an original landscape in oil, painted by Mrs. Wanderer.

FROM PARIS: SOFT BULK FUR FACINGS

PARIS (AP)—Soft bulk and fur facings characterized the two collections that got Paris fall and winter fashion showings started.

Jacques Esterel drew from sheepskin flyers' jackets for big-shouldered coats with jutting collars and "leather" seamings. Ferrera's look was slimmer, and seemed inspired by light, quilted Chinese costumes. He used many frog and toggle closings.

In Monday's showings, Esterel did flyers' coats in wide-wale beige corduroy, pink gabardine, white brocade, and pale blue suede. Devil-may-care mink collars jutted out from the evening numbers. Dresses underneath were slim, belted pullover sweater types.

Ferreras' look was essentially slim and tubular. Soft smock coats, shirred at the neck and shirt-cuffed sleeves were an exception. Dresses were belted sweater tunics in soft crepes, or skimmy stiff silk tubes, closest just under the bosom and flipping out in a tiny trumpet hem.

Both houses showed long-jacket suits. Esterel's were straight over low, flippy pleats. Ferreras' were more fitted, worn with slim skirts.

Flat bands of fur, beaver or mink were used in both collections. Esterel put fur cuffs and ruffs on his long-line sweater dresses and suits.

Luncheons, Parties Continue For Debs

MRS. GEORGE Faulkner of Novato will give a luncheon Thursday in the Admiral's Cabin at Trader Vic's to honor her debutante daughter, Judith Kern. Fifteen Marin debs — the rest are on vacation — will attend, along with Mrs. Faulkner's mother, Mrs. E. L. Stephenson of Pasadena who arrived last night to spend the rest of the summer and part of the fall with the Faulkners.

Also in attendance will be Judith's aunts, Mrs. Douglas Faulkner of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Harry McVean of Sausalito and her sister, Kathy Kern. Mrs. Faulkner plans arrangements of tea leaves and gardenias for the flower theme. A Trader Vic Polynesian salad will be served.

JUDITH KERN

KATHLEEN DUFFICY

ON AUG. 12, Kathleen Dufficy will be honored at an informal swim party and barbecue at the San Rafael home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Rafael Dufficy Jr. Most of the debs are expected back from their vacations in time to attend.

PLANNING A late-summer trip to Aix en Provence, France, to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Jan and Louis Toulon, are Mr. and Mrs. John Gilman of Ross. It will be their third trip to that country and their second time to see their infant grandson, David.

Their daughter Jan, after graduating from the Katharine Branson School, went to the University of Oregon for a year, but as a former exchange student, she longed for further travel. Her second year of college, then, was spent at the University of Marseille in Southern France, a few miles from Aix en Provence. Here she met Louis who came to Ross at the end of the school year to meet the Gilmans and to marry Jan.

Aix en Provence, said Mrs. Gilman, is a beautiful old French city near the Riviera with narrow, cobbled streets and low buildings. Jan loves it and is so affluent at the language that only French is spoken in the Toulon household.

Jan was an exchange student with the American Field Service in 1959, spending a summer in Greece.

SINCE THEY intend annual trips to France, the Gilmans vary each trip. On their first trip three years ago, they flew directly to Copenhagen and drove from Jan's home to Geneva. On their second trip, their main point of interest was Paris. This year they will fly to London for the first time and tour England before going on to Aix en Provence. Renting a car, they will also drive back to Switzerland, this time to see Zurich.

MRS. DONN BOLTHOUSE of Mill Valley reports she hears regularly from the William Pomeroys who are on a two-year round-the-world tour on their motor sailer the "Nereus." Mrs. Bolthouse, who assists Frances Styles at the Pomeroys' Art Gallery in San Francisco with 17th and 18th century antiques imported from England, is also helping manage affairs at the gallery while the Pomeroys are gone. The Pomeroys and their daughter, Pinkie and sons, John and Bill are on their way to the Scandinavian countries and have most recently gone to Poland, through the Holland canals and up the Rhine in Germany. In the fall John will return to the Monterey Language Institute; Bill will attend the Colorado School of Mines and Pinkie will be in her junior year at the University of Colorado.

Seaside Community Readies For Bazaar

Bolinas will hold its 18th annual Bazaar and Rummage Sale on Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Bolinas Community Center.

As in the past, four organizations are participating in the work and in the proceeds. These are Calvary Presbyterian Church, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, St. Aidan's Episcopal Church and the Bolinas Community Center. The chairmen and co-chairmen respectively are Mesdames Sherman Smith and James Dougan, Joseph Silveira Jr., and Anthony Teixeira, J. B. Lowe, Remington Wood and Malcolm Perry, and A. E. Humrickhouse.

LUNCHEON will be served on the first day of the sale and sandwiches and coffee will be available on the second day.

The hours of the sale will be Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, noon to 4 p.m., and Monday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In addition to books, clothes, kitchenware, and appliances there will be locally made artifacts, "treasures" gathered at the beach, and plants raised by Bolinas gardeners.

Mrs. Albert Nelson Feted By Sons On 85th Birthday

Forty-two guests attended a dinner party at the Deer Park Villa in honor of the 85th birthday of Mrs. Albert Nelson of Fairfax. The party was co-hosted by her sons, Carl E. Nelson of Whittier, Calif. and Herbert A. Nelson of Redwood City.

An orchid corsage was presented to Mrs. Nelson from her sons and a "money tree" was a gift from the guests. Four generations were represented at the party with two-year-old James Lamb of Whittier the youngest great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson moved to Fairfax from San Francisco in 1908 with their two sons. They built the family home on Bolinas Road and occupied it in 1909. Mr. Nelson was in the hardwood floor business for many years. He died in 1938. Mrs. Nelson still resides in the family home.

A Credit Card For 'Her' Only Now

NEW YORK (UPI)—A special credit card called "Hers" has been introduced by Carte Blanche; whose general credit cards are honored by more than 100,000 businesses.

It's said to be the first notional credit card designed exclusively for women and it's daintily printed in pink and gold.

Fur Lined Fall

Another fall season of fur line and fur trims is on its way. The New York coat and suit firm of Marquise, for instance, lines numerous coats and suit jackets with sable-dyed skunk, raccoon, black nutria, mink and other animal pelts. One trousered suit —pants cut much like a man's except they are cuffless—came with jacket lined in raccoon.

ADMIRING POT HOLDERS and aprons are Mesdames Sherman Smith and Joseph Silveira. The goods for the sale are gathered all year and stored in a building erected for that purpose—and they come not only from Bolinas, but from all the North Bay counties.

Sunlight And Heat Cause Fabrics To Lose Strength

Have you ever washed a pair of seemingly good curtains, only to have them split and fall apart? Sunlight and heat cause fabrics to lose strength. Often the deterioration doesn't show up until they are washed or dry cleaned. Moisture and chemical fumes in the air add to the problem of "sun-rotting," announces Virginia Porter, Marin County home advisor.

Several factors that affect the fate of deterioration are; 1) the size of the yarns; 2) the brightness or dullness; 3) the thickness of the fabric; 4) the fiber content.

Fabrics made of very fine yarns are more sensitive to sunlight and heat than those made of larger yarns of the same fiber. Dull yarns deteriorate faster than bright, lustrous yarns. The more the individual fiber is exposed, as in an open weave, the faster the fabric loses strength.

The most resistant fibers are: glass, saran, acrylic and polyester fibers. Cotton, linen, bright acetate, bright nylon and bright rayon offer good resistance to sunlight and heat; but do not rate as well as the first group. Least resistant are: dull acetate, dull nylon, dull rayon and silk.

Recently, a new type of dull acetate has been developed which offers even better sunlight resistance than bright acetate. It is called Estron SLR (sunlight resistant), and compares favorably with cotton.

How long should you expect window fabrics to last? The National Institute of Drycleaner's national fair claims guide for consumer textile products sets life expectancy as follows: sheer curtains and draperies, 3 years; unlined draperies, 4 years; lined draperies, 5 years.

This is just a general guide, says Mrs. Porter, it doesn't mean that a fabric won't last longer. Life service depends to a great extent upon the amount of sunlight exposure involved. (Even silk will give long service where sunlight is minimal.) Regular cleaning can prolong the life of the window fabric, too, she said.

Norell Answers

What to wear in winter's stormy weather? Norman Norell offers the chic answer. The New York designer produced for fall his weather coats treated to take rain or snow but looking like a regular coat—not a hint of raincoat styling. These went over slim pastel jersey dresses plus jersey stockings in matching shades. Typical: pale blue jersey dress with pale blue hose.

'Why Don't They?' Non Ending Query

TOLEDO, Ohio, (UPI) — Those women are at it again—pestering the manufacturers with suggestions for improving their products.

For instance, why not make muffin tins that could be removed from the frame for easy cleaning and space - saving storage? Or, why don't "they" stop printing the price on greetings cards? It's like giving a gift with the price attached.

These were some of the newest "why don't they?" suggestions submitted by housewives to National Family Opinion, Inc., a consumer research firm which says it lists 85,000 part-time homemaker consultants.

Other suggestions:

WHY DON'T they package brown sugar in re-usable plastic containers? Storage would be simplified and hard, lumpy brown sugar would no longer plague the housewife.

WHY DON'T they develop a product that actually will remove spots and imbedded soil from drip dry fabrics? Heavily soiled synthetics, and some pure cotton drip dry materials, are difficult to wash successfully because both soil and stains resist treatment.

WHY DON'T they do something about tags and stickers on products. Trying to clean off the glue without scratching or other product damage is almost impossible.

Rita Dierker Is Engaged To Richard D. Kincaide

Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Dierker of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Rita Marie, to Richard David Kincaide of Fairfax.

The bride-elect was graduated from St. Peter's High School in Mansfield, Ohio, and is employed with the Western Communications Region at Hamilton Air Force Base. She is the sister of Annett, Frances and William Dierker of Novato and Paul Dierker of East Lansing, Mich.

The future benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Kincaide of Fairfax, was graduated from the University of California where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and is affiliated with Beta Gamma Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. He is employed as a manufacturer's agent. Kay Kincaide of Fairfax and Mrs. Harold Bruce of San Luis Obispo are his sisters.

A double wedding with the bride-elect's sister, Frances, will be solemnized on Oct. 3 at Our Lady of Loretto Church.

Chapels Give Reno New Reputation

Reno, long called the "divorce capital of the world," has become also the center of a multi-million dollar industry at the opposite end of the spectrum.

In fact, marriage licenses outnumber divorce decrees five to one. But the around-the-clock marriage industry is not overflowing with bliss.

FOR THE ORGANIZED clergy has accused wedding chapel operators of "degrading and commercializing the marriage rite." The operators, most themselves ministers, reply that denominational preachers are angry "because they feel we are cashing in on something."

Chapels dot Reno. They offer 24-hour non-denominational services with plastic bridal bouquets for those who don't want fresh flowers, piped-in music, limousine service and witnesses. The standard minimum is $15.

WHY RENO? Because it is easy to obtain a marriage license—no blood tests or waiting period. It's uncomplicated by red tape and inexpensive. The justice of the peace is across the street from the license bureau, or two blocks away there's a wedding chapel.

The bureau issued 23,361 marriage licenses last year. The courts granted 4,366 divorces and the ratio has been climbing steadily for almost 10 years.

BUT THERE is a three-way battle over matrimony. The chapel operators don't like the Washoe County Ministerial Association, they don't like each other, and the clergy opposes the chapels.

"We try to stay away from commercializing it," said the Rev. George Flint, the full-time minister of one chapel. "But there's as much cut-throat business among wedding chapels as there is in any other business in this city."

"CHAPELS FEEL misunderstood because many denominational churches frown upon the necessary need to charge a definite fee," he said. "Or because they feel we are cashing in on something that is here."

But the Rev. Eugene Duncan, president of the ministerial association, charged that "some of their setups are nothing but front organizations and very questionable."

"We are not a bit concerned about the money. None of our churches are depending on marriage money for their operation anyway," Duncan said.

HE EXPLAINED that under Nevada law, a wedding chapel must operate with an ordained minister and qualify as a religious organization with a three-member board of directors. Duncan said that a group may organize, hire a non-denominational minister or ordain a minister itself and go into the wedding chapel business.

Duncan said the association in 1948 adopted a code of ethics in which members agreed they "would not be a party to the commercialization of marriage."

Duncan said the private chapels "often are nothing but a front organization that met the requirements of the law. There is no way the government can control it because of the separation of church and state."

"THE CHURCHES are antagonistic toward us because their ministers are tip conscious," said an operator of one of Reno's largest chapels. "Many churches are also too busy and they can't handle the people. Some have a three-day waiting period and that isn't going to suit someone who comes from California, Oregon or Washington for a weekend."

The manager of one of the first chapels, Joe Melcher Jr., insists that "Reno is a town that caters to tourists and just like everybody else, we like to make them feel at home and give them good service."

EVERYBODY AGREES the nuptial industry is just about as competitive for couples as the gambling casinos are for players. It's lucrative for the motels and hotels, restaurants and even the justice of the peace. His monthly salary is $260, but his annual income is reputed to pass the $50,000 a year mark. At election time there are more candidates for his job than any other on the ballot.

Bringing Up Baby®

Most baby-care experts advise against propping the bottle for baby's feedings. Apart from the warmth, comfort and security you give your baby when you hold him, there are rather nice benefits for you. Feeding time gives your on-the-go body a chance to relax, your feet a fine rest. Above all, you achieve a special "oneness" with your baby, reward enough for any mother.

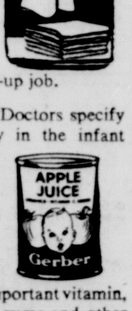
Warming thought. If baby's a dawdler, one of those knitted coasters will help keep the bottle warm longer.

Solid comfort. As soon as your doctor gives you the green light on cereal, Gerber Cereal Sixes are just right for a bird-size appetite ...and the perfect way to introduce baby to different flavors. This handy, six-in-1 package contains small-size boxes of Rice Cereal, High Protein Cereal, Barley, Mixed Cereal and two Oatmeal. After baby samples all five, and indicates his favorites, you can get Gerber Cereals in the regular, large-size boxes.

All Gerber Cereals have the delicate flavors and super-smooth texture that encourage baby to take to this important basic food. And they're enriched with iron, calcium and B-vitamins to get him off to a good nutritional start.

Saving plans. (1) If you've a two-story house, you'll save many a step by keeping a supply of diapers both upstairs and down. (2) Folding a day's supply of diapers at one time simplifies and speeds the pin-up job.

Why vitamin C? Doctors specify this vitamin early in the infant diet because breast milk or cow's milk have very little vitamin C, which baby needs every day. Gerber Juices —all nine of them —are rich in this important vitamin, needed for sound gums and other body tissues. While Orange Juice has been the traditional "starter," doctors often recommend Gerber Apple Juice because it's especially mild and well-tolerated by babies. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.



Now at Marin! Come see why thousands of women choose the over wigs costing one, two, three, and even four times as much!

E

• The Living Wig looks enough like your own hair to fool anyone but the girl who sells it to you!

• The Living Wig feels pleasant . . . to you, to him, like very soft, natural hair!

• The Living Wig is hand washable, like hosiery, in detergent . . . never needs any sort of setting!

• The Living Wig may be parted at any point, styled any way by just brushing or combing!

The Living Wig is not someone else's hair . . . it is made of a very new, very exquisite fibre, each gossamer strand crocheted in place in the pattern of naturally growing hair . . . it is thick where hair grows thickest, wispy at the browline where the little new hairs grow, in fact it is made the same way as wigs selling for as much as $300. It is non-allergenic, the 22 natural shades are so stable that even if you wear it in the desert sun it will not fade. You can see them today, try them on today and every day in the Marin Wig Salon. Yes, a stylist will be at hand to style and to show you how to brush and comb your Living Wig . . . to help you choose the color most becoming to you . . . platinum blond, ginger red, raven's wing black and all the shades in between . . . including five shades of gray. It's hard to believe that it is just 79.95.

No down payment, just $5 monthly!

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Small Cards Suggest Right Finessing Play In A Game

1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ◇	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 3

South considered a finesse at the first trick but rejected the idea. He thought he had a better chance in the play of the clubs.

FIRST TRICK

Declarer therefore won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and returned the nine of diamonds to the ace.

Back came a trump, and South forced out the king of diamonds. Back came another trump, and South won again.

Now came the key play—a low club. When West played the four of clubs, South let the seven of clubs ride as a finesse, losing to the jack.

TRICK REVEALING

Both cards on this trick were revealing. West's play of the four indicated that he probably did not hold the three; and East's play of the jack indicated that he probably did not hold the ten.

South decided to follow the evidence. West probably held the ten of clubs but not the three. There was no way of knowing who held the king.

If West still held K-10 of clubs, the situation was hopeless. If West held only the ten of clubs, the contract could be made.

RUFFS HEART

South therefore ruffed East's heart return and led a trump to dummy's king. Now he returned the queen of clubs from dummy. This was the second half of a compound finesse in clubs. It trapped East's king and West's ten on the same play and assured the game and rubber.

You may wonder if this method of playing the clubs is better than just leading out the ace and then a low club toward dummy. It is because West will usually step up with the king if he starts with just K-x and may do so even if he has three to the king.

You hold the club loss to one trick more often than by any other method of playing the suit.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 4 2
♥ J 9 8 4 2
♦ K 7 6
♣ K J 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

You might consider a jump to four hearts, but should reject the bid because your distribution is not quite good enough. You should have a singleton or a void for the jump to game.

ALMANAC

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1932, federal troops drove out more than 15,000 unemployed war veterans in Washington who were demanding the immediate payment of "war bonuses."

A thought for the day — American novelist, Henry Thoreau said: "It is characteristic of wisdom not to do desperate things."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Bornholm Island Visitor Relates Negro Concern

Interest in racial problems in the United States spreads far beyond our borders, even to Bornholm, a small Danish isle in the Baltic Sea.

A visitor from the island, Niels Peter Sode, 21, was the guest of the Harry Seiler family of 36 Turnagain Road, Kentfield, last week, and told of the concern felt for Negro Americans who were denied the right to attend school with Caucasians.

"Most of my friends' sympathy has gone to the Negroes, who should not be forced to get their education in separate schools," he said.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Niels arrived in New York July 2 with four other Danish young persons who are participating in an exchange program sponsored by the American Automobile Dealers Assn. His father has the Volvo and Volkswagen dealership in Nesko on Bornholm, and also owns the Nesko Bruggeri and Mineralvandsfabrik, a brewery which makes Hvidtol black beer.

He toured New York, Washington, D.C., Buffalo, Milwaukee, Denver and Los Angeles before arriving in San Francisco last Wednesday. He bid farewell to the Seilers Sunday to visit Salt Lake City, the Grand Canyon, Phoenix, St. Louis and Detroit, where he will see automobile manufacturing plants before returning to New York.

The young automotive engineer will then leave the group and drive through Mississippi to visit an exchange student who stayed with his family three years ago.

KNOWS OF TENSION

"I am looking forward to talking with my friend and driving through that part of America where I have learned through newspapers and magazines at at home so much racial tension exists," he said.

Niels will return to Bornholm in September, just in time to join the Danish Air Force for two-years.

He has worked in his father's business for four years as the garage master, mechanic and salesman.

Jail Sentence Follows Plea In Check Case

Huey Pierce Locks, 29, of C14-115, Marin City, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court to 90 days in Marin County jail yesterday on his guilty plea of passing a forged $111.41 check at Tamalpais Liquor and Delicatessen Drive-In, 638 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last Dec. 20.

He was arrested by San Rafael police March 15.

Judge Clears Tiburon Youth In School Stabbing Case

Douglas Short, 17, of Tiburon has been cleared of responsibility in the stabbing of a 16-year-old classmate at Devereaux School in Goleta, Santa Barbara County.

Judge C. Douglas Smith of Santa Barbara County Superior Court ruled that Short was not responsible because he was "justifiably fearful" for his safety when a group of boys entered his room early July 5, the Associated Press reported.

The victim was John B. Eckert of Long Beach.

The night had been marked by fighting, firecracker throwing and other mischief. Boys involved in the altercation told sheriff's officers Short "told on" the other boys.

Four youths entered his room at the school shortly after midnight and pulled him out of bed. One boy picked up a chair and advanced toward Short, who had drawn a fishing knife to ward them off.

Eckert entered as a peacemaker and advanced to disarm Short, who stabbed him in the stomach.

The Devereaux School is a private school for retarded and emotionally disturbed children.

Short, who is blind in one eye and deaf in one ear, has been discharged from the school and returned to his parents.

Novato Council To Consider Three Ordinances

The Novato City Council will review three proposed ordinances when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, is presenting a tree ordinance, a grading ordinance, and an encroachment ordinance.

The council will also hear from the State Public Utilities Commission on the application of Greyhound Bus Co. for increased rates and on the phone company rates. The council had asked the commission to lower the rates for Western California Telephone Co., right after the commission lowered those for Pacific Telephone Co. This would make the same rates for the entire city. Pacific Telephone serves the southern section of the city and Western California serves the northern section of the city.

Other items to come before the council include drainage on Fourth Street and a meeting with a Stanford Research Institute representative.

Check Defendant Sent To Superior Court

James Lee Skaggs, 23, formerly of Point Reyes Station, waived preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court yesterday and was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of forgery.

He allegedly altered a $5 check signed by Anne M. McCarthy of 210 Laurel Place, San Rafael, to $750. San Rafael police said Skaggs got the check when he did yard work for Mrs. McCarthy on April 15.

CREEK PROJECT CHANGE ASKED

Kettenhofen Calls For Two Stages To Retain Area's Natural Beauty

The Corte Madera Flood Control Project, which calls for a concerte-lined channel from Greenbrae to Fairfax, will not be changed unless county and city governments formally ask for an alternate proposal.

This is the information received this week by Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo, who is suggesting that some of the natural beauty of the creek be retained.

Kettenhofen, a candidate for county supervisor from the second (Ross Valley) district, has made these suggestions to the Army Corps of Engineers:

Divide the project into two stages: one to include College of Marin and downstream, and the other from the college upstream. The lower stage could be fully constructed to meet any forseeable storm. The upper half could be constructed for a lesser degree of protection, say a storm that occurs every 10 to 20 years.

Kennenhofer said he made these suggestions because many people "are alarmed at the possibility of converting our beautiful natural, wooded creek to a concrete vertical side drainage ditch with cleared banks and cyclone fencing."

Kettenhofen said Rep. Don H. Clausen, has presented the proposal officially to the Army Corps of Engineers. Maj. Donald A. Wisdom, acting district engineer in San Francisco, replied to Congressman Clausen with a three-page letter.

"To date the board of supervisors has given no indication that it desires departure from the project document plan," Major Wisdom wrote.

"The absence of responsible local governmental sponsorship of the proposals being made by Mr. Kettenhofen must, from a practical viewpoint at this time, preclude any major departure from the general plan authorized by Congress . . .

"Should the board of supervisors, as the result of requests by the cities affected by the project, take official action to propose an alternative plan, full consideration would be given to such a proposal . . .

"It is expected, therefore, that prior to the Corps of Engineers undertaking such alternative studies, the request would come from the local sponsoring agency."

Police Claim Thieves Lent Stolen Items

The five San Francisco youths held, police said, stole more than $8,000 in guns, stereo equipment, radios and cameras and stored them at the home of Thomas Craig, 20, a B-plus student at the University of San Francisco.

Craig, who was booked for burglary, was quoted by police as saying:

"I need recreation, and the kind of recreation I like is expensive."

Patrolman Ernest Biagi said if any members of the group wanted to use something "they took it and then brought it back."

Craig was arrested in San Mateo last Saturday after he dropped a $70 phonograph tone arm and sound cartridge at a store, Biagi said. The other arrests followed, he said.

SHOW BENEFITS EASTER SEAL SOCIETY

Lizanne Fullum of Strawberry Point and Billy Ryan of San Rafael, have traded places with Mrs. Mario Ghilotti's Arabian stallion Wiertez to get a better look at one of the champion horses entered in the annual all-Arabian Horse Show to be held Aug. 8 and 9 in the Cow Palace. The Marin Easter Seal Society and the handicapped participants in its program will share the proceeds from the show.

A TRIBUTE TO BOAT ENTHUSIASTS

Boats and the planning and paraphernalia that go with them, are taking a significant place in the life of our county.

As everybody knows, when you buy a boat, you have made an investment in a different way of life for yourself and your family.

For getting-away-from-it-all, a boat offers a glorious change of pace, an adventure in nautical exploration, an engrossing preoccupation with canvas, engines, winds, tides and the mysteries of navigation. A day on the Bay can erase daily problems and restore the soul.

One result of our growing marine activity is a big increase in the number of businesses which service it; an addition to the county's economy and the enrichment of life in Marin.

'Scenic Road' Sought In Tiburon Meet

City officials of Belvedere and Tiburon will meet Aug. 12 with representatives of the Tiburon Peninsula coordinating Council to discuss positioning and widening of the Tiburon Highway.

Members of the council hope to present a "united peninsula" front to the State Division of Highways on plans for the future of the road. Coordinating council representatives have said they hope to have the highway termed a "scenic road" as the first step toward making esthetic considerations a part of state highway planning.

The Aug. 12 meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School, coordinating council chairman Gilbert B. Darroch reported.

The board of the coordinating council has been expanded by four ex-officio members in an effort to widen council activities, Darroch said. A fifth member still is to be named. Appointed were Col. Robert R. Judson, 228 East Strawberry Drive; Ralph Wertheimer, 4930 Paradise Drive; John A. O'Donnell, 171 Lelan Way, and John N. Radovich, 33 North Knoll Road.

Summer College Enrollment Shows Vast Increase

College of Marin summer school enrollment has increased 45 per cent over last summer, a final enrollment report shows.

Summer registration figures show 1,461 students enrolled in classes as compared to 1,066 last summer. This figure includes 1,039 credit students, as compared to 687 last year, and 422 non-credit registrations compared to 379 last summer.

The number of June high school graduates going to summer school almost doubled this summer with 249 graduates, compared to 136 last year.

This is the second summer the college has admitted high school students. The number of such students has jumped from 20 last summer to 46 this year.

Although the giraffe has the longest neck of any modern mamal, it has only seven neck bones. This is the same number found in the cow and the mouse.

Talks Are Postponed On Site For School

The board tentatively had agreed to discuss a site at their meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, but Supt. Edward C. Pino reported the item will not be on the agenda.

It has been postponed, he said, while school officials coordinate their planning work with the newly incorporated City of Tiburon, and so that the school can check home construction on the peninsula.

Pino said that trustees must decide whether to continue planning for purchase of a site in the central part of the district, to use bond monies still available from a 1963 voter-approved issue to add to the Granada School now being constructed, or try for both.

He said there is a possibility that the upsurge of home construction would make the Granada addition more immediately necessary.

The most likely site for construction of a new school is the "knoll" site behind Little Reed Heights and west of Del Mar. Trustees are considering soil reports and possible reorientation of the school so that less earth would have to be moved, a plan which has raised doubts from some howeowners and, unofficially, from some city officials.

The district also is negotiating for purchase of a 21-acre site beyond the end of Blackfield Drive from Reedlands Woods, Inc., for construction of a second seventh and eighth grade school.

At the meeting tonight board members will hear reports on the district's foreign language program and testing program. Board members will go into closed session to discuss applicants for principal of Granada School, which is expected to be completed in October.

Rear-Ender Crash Injures Two Girls

Two San Francisco girls were treated for minor injuries Sunday night at Marin General Hospital after a two-car accident on Highway 101, one mile south of the Novato Creek bridge, at 6:30 p.m.

Robyn M. Hooper, 19, and Mary Jane O'Keefe, 18, were treated for bruised necks after a car driven by Matthew A. Wojdak, 54, of El Cajon hit the stopped car driven by Miss Hooper in the southbound lane. Miss O'Keefe was a passenger in Miss Hooper's car.

Wojdak was cited by the California Highway Patrol for unsafe speed.
